Capital Punishment C. Cliff, 2000 Capital punishment the death penalty has enjoyed wide public support in the United States as the penalty of choice for one member of society taking the life of another This viewpoint is not shared by most European governments perhaps because their murder rate is considerably lower DNA testing however has begun to shed light not on the appropriateness of the penalty but on the vastly imperfect system of what is jocularly termed justice DNA evidence has overturned case after case resulting in a seashift in public opinion This book examines current statutes dealing with the death penalty and presents a detailed bibliography on the topics with access provided by subject and author indexes

Memory in Place Cameo Dalley, Ashley Barnwell, 2023-11-23 Memory in Place brings together Indigenous and non Indigenous scholars and practitioners grappling with the continued potency of memories and experiences of colonialism While many of these conversations have taken place on a national stage this collection returns to the rich intimacy of the local From Queensland's sweeping Gulf Country along the shelly beaches of south Sydney Melbourne's city gardens and the rugged hills of South Australia through Central Australia's dusty heart and up to the majestic Kimberley the collection charts how interactions between Indigenous people settlers and their descendants are both remembered and forgotten in social political and cultural spaces It offers uniquely diverse perspectives from a range of disciplines including history anthropology memory studies archaeology and linguistics from both established and emerging scholars from Indigenous and non Indigenous contributors and from academics as well as museum and cultural heritage practitioners The collection locates some of the nation s most pressing political issues with attention to the local and the ethics of commemoration and relationships needed at this scale It will be of interest to those who see the past as intimately connected to the future

Black Glass Kate Auty, 2005 Between 1936 and 1954 the Western Australian government operated Courts of Native Affairs that heard murder and manslaughter cases where defendant and victim were Aboriginal These cases which for every other citizen had the status of Supreme Court trials were reduced to summary hearings that were largely conducted by amateurs This investigation explores these little known courts along with the silence in which they were buried and the strategic silences exercised by their Aboriginal subjects Aboriginal people volunteered multiple and arguably deliberately obfuscating versions of events establishing false tracks and alternative scenarios of some complexity Some of these narratives were advanced dropped adopted again and repackaged and this study looks at them all
