The National Question in Europe in Historical Context Mikuláš Teich, Roy Porter, 1993-05-06 The historical impact of national movements in Europe has been dramatic and continues to be an issue of major importance Leading historians authoritatively discuss European nationalism in its historical context

Religion Under Siege: The Roman Catholic Church in occupied Europe (1939-1950) Lieve Gevers, Jan Bank, 2007 The stance taken by the Catholic Church in occupied Europe during World War II remains a significant focal point of historical research In the last ten years we have been confronted with a resurgence of the so called Pius war the frequently emotional polemic surrounding the justification or absence thereof of the role of Pope Pius XII the head of the Catholic Church at the time The work presented here however focuses on the role of the local churches rather than that of the Pope and the Vatican Its goal is to shed light more specifically on the position maintained by the Catholic bishops clergy and faithful in a variety of European countries under occupation throughout the war The local churches are approached from a political social institutional and ideological perspective This collection of essays represents the results of a research project established under the auspices of the European Science Foundation entitled The Impact of National Socialist and Fascist Occupation in Europe 1999 2005 Within the broader framework of the project research into the aspect of Church and Religion was scribed more specifically to Team 2 The Continuity of the Churches The team strove to reach as broad a spectrum possible both with respect to the churches and religions in Europe Catholicism Protestantism Orthodoxy and to a limited degree Islam as the various regions of the European continent North West Central and South East The present volume contains the research results presented in relation to the Catholic Church Developments in Central and Eastern Europe are given priority in particular in Slovenia Croatia Slovakia Poland and Lithuania In addition a number of articles endeavour to shed light on developments in Western Europe as in Belgium the Netherlands France and Austria The goal of the present volume is to stimulate an ongoing comparative study of the attitude of the Catholic Church during the Second World War from a European perspective Together with a parallel volume that deals with the Protestant and Orthodox churches this approach can be extended to include other ecclesial denominations and religions in Europe While significant differences exist between the various countries and denominations several similar patterns of approach are also strikingly evident
