International Responsibility Today Maurizio Ragazzi,2005-05-01 The law of international responsibility a classic area of investigation in international law has been attracting an ever increasing interest in recent times as reflected also in the work of the International Law Commission on State responsibility and on responsibility of international organizations The exploration of current trends in this important area is therefore an appropriate and timely subject for a book in memory of Oscar Schachter a former United Nations official Columbia Law School professor ASIL President and international lawyer of world wide reputation who died in December 2003 The editor of the book has assembled a team of thirty six prominent international lawyers belonging to twenty different nationalities to write about different aspects of the law of international responsibility from general issues to specific areas of the law including responsibility before international courts and tribunals with respect to both the law of State responsibility and responsibility of international organizations and other non State actors The result of this effort is a monographic volume enriched by a biography and a list of publications of Oscar Schachter and accompanied by a bibliography of all the works cited in the various contributions and an index for easier consultation which will be of interest not only to the many admirers and friends of Oscar Schachter around the world but also more broadly to international law academics and practitioners

The Geography of Developing Areas Glyn Williams,Paula Meth,Katie Willis,2009-02-18 Rather than presenting the global South to students as a set of problems rapid urbanisation population growth poverty etc this textbook focuses on the diversity of life in the South and looks at the role it plays in shaping and responding to current global change The text integrates traditional concerns of development geographers such as economic development and social inequality with aspects of the global South usually given less attention such as cultural identity and political conflict Divided into four main sections Representing the global South argues that images of the so

The Communicative Grammar of English Workbook Edward Dr. Woods,Rudy Coppieters,2013-11-14 The companion text to A Communicative Grammar of English CGE this workbook presents an opportunity for practising the points raised in the main grammar The units follow the order of sections in Part One and Part Two of CGE at the beginning of each sub unit there is a brief explanation of a particular structure followed by a series of tasks ranging from gap filling exercises to rewrite assignments and conversational passages in which the student is invited to participate With authentic material and a variety of different task types graded by difficulty this is an indispensable resource for teachers and advanced students with a good grounding in the grammar of the language

World Government by Stealth G. Arnold,1997-08-06 Since its creation the UN has been beset by the big power rivalries of the Cold War which too often made it ineffective Despite this it has two major achievements to its credit The first is to have made itself the spokesman and champion of the Third World or South the world's dispossessed and marginalised The second always to undertake tasks in international peacekeeping so that it has gradually come to be seen as indispensable if we are to attain any form of world government

Managing Intercollective Conflict Anna J. Borgeryd, 1999-02 How does the state system measure up to today's realities when it comes to managing conflict To what extent are efforts to manage conflict successful and for whom Prevailing structures designed to deal with conflict between collectives sovereign states supported by militaries military industry and the United Nations operate mainly on principles that are hundreds of years old Conditions for conflict and its management have changed radically since this state system was constructed There is a risk that institutional inertia produces growing disparity between real world problems and the institutions that are supposed to manage them Realism and legalism are found to form a double ideological support for the state system The study compares the state system's realist and legalist premises to different cases of post cold war intercollective conflict the 1990-91 Gulf War the 1990-95 break up of Yugoslavia and the 1992 Los Angeles riots These cases present important challenges to the prevailing system's premises mismatches between idea and reality that are clearly connected to failures in conflict management In addition findings suggest that the state system not only fails to deal with important aspects of modern day conflict but that it increasingly produces problems that it cannot manage This suggests that the prevailing state system is not in harmony with crucial conflict related aspects of global impact indicating a serious systemic problem
