19th Century Art Trade Version:

Art Crossing Borders Jan Dirk Baetens, Dries Lyna, 2019-02-11 Art Crossing Borders offers a thought provoking analysis of the internationalisation of the art market during the long nineteenth century Twelve experts dealing with a wide variety of geographical temporal and commercial contexts explore how the gradual integration of art markets structurally depended on the simultaneous rise of nationalist modes of thinking in unexpected and ambiguous ways By presenting a radically international research perspective Art Crossing Borders offers a crucial contribution to the field of art market studies Art and Modern Copyright Elena Cooper, 2018-08-16 The first in depth study of the history of copyright protecting the visual arts uncovering long forgotten narratives of copyright history and reflecting on how those sharpen the critical lens through which we view copyright today It will appeal to copyright lawyers scholars and policy makers as well as to art historians and curators Masterpieces of European Painting, 1800-1920, in the Metropolitan Museum of Art Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), Kathryn Calley Galitz, 2007 Spanish Art in Britain and Ireland, 1750-1920 Enriqueta Harris, 2010 This is a study wholly devoted to the reception of Spanish art in Britain and Ireland It examines the sources and extent of knowledge of Spanish art in the British Isles during an age of increasing contacts particularly in the aftermath of the Peninsular War Art in Reproduction Robert Verhoogt, 2007 This illuminating study examines the cultural meaning of artistic reproduction in a refreshingly new context through its consideration of how three artists managed the reproduction of their work A Corpus of Rembrandt Paintings VI Ernst van de Wetering, 2014-11-11 A revised survey of Rembrandt's complete painted oeuvre The question of which 17th century paintings in Rembrandt's style were actually painted by Rembrandt himself had already become an issue during his lifetime It is an issue that is still hotly disputed among art historians today The problem arose because Rembrandt had numerous pupils who learned the art of painting by imitating their master or by assisting him with his work as a portrait painter He also left pieces unfinished to be completed by others The question is how to determine which works were from Rembrandt's own hand Can we for example define the criteria of quality that would allow us to distinguish the master's work from that of his followers Do we yet have methods of investigation that would deliver objective evidence of authenticity To what extent do research techniques used in the physical sciences help Or are we after all still dependent on the subjective expert eye of the connoisseur The book provides answers to these questions Prof Ernst van de Wetering the author of our forthcoming book which deals with these questions has been closely involved in all aspects of this research since 1968 the year the renowned Rembrandt Research Project RRP was founded In particular he played an important role in developing new criteria for authentication Van de Wetering was also witness to the way the often overly zealous tendency to doubt the authenticity of Rembrandt's paintings got out of hand In this book he re attributes to the master a substantial number of unjustly rejected Rembrandts He also was closely involved in the re discovery of a considerable number of lost or completely unknown works by Rembrandt The verdicts of earlier specialists including the majority of members of the original RRP up to 1989 were based on connoisseurship the self confidence in one s ability to recognise a specific artist s style and hand Over the years Van de Wetering has carried out seminal research into 17th century studio practice and ideas about art current in Rembrandt s time In this book he demonstrates the fallibility of traditional connoisseurship especially in the case of Rembrandt who was par excellence a searching artist The methodological implications of this critical view are discussed in an introductory chapter which relates the history of the developments in this turbulent field of research Van de Wetering s account of his own involvement in it makes this book a lively and sometimes unexpectedly personal account The catalogue section presents a chronologically ordered survey of Rembrandt s entire painted oeuvre of 336 paintings richly illustrated and annotated For all the paintings re attributed in this book extensive commentaries have been included that provide a multi faceted new insight into Rembrandt s world and the world of art historical research Rembrandt s Paintings Revisited is the concluding sixth volume of A Corpus of Rembrandt Paintings Volumes I V 1982 1986 1989 2005 2010 It can also be read as a revisionary critique of the first three Volumes published by the old RRP team up till 1989 and of Gerson s influential survey of Rembrandt s painted oeuvre of 1968 69 At the same time the book is designed as an independent overview that can be used on the basis that anyone seeking more detailed information will be referred to the five previous digital versions of the Volumes and the detailed catalogues published in the meantime by the various museums with collections of Rembrandt paintings This work of art history and art research should belong in the library of every serious art historical institute university or museum

Crafting the Woman Professional in the Long Nineteenth Century Kyriaki Hadjiafxendi, Patricia Zakreski, 2016-05-13 Over the course of the nineteenth century women in Britain participated in diverse and prolific forms of artistic labour As they created objects and commodities that blurred the boundaries between domestic and fine art production they crafted subjectivities for themselves as creative workers By bringing together work by scholars of literature painting music craft and the plastic arts this collection argues that the constructed and contested nature of the female artistic professional was a notable aspect of debates about aesthetic value and the impact of industrial technologies All the essays in this volume set up a productive inter art dialogue that complicates conventional binary divisions such as amateur and professional public and private artistry and industry in order to provide a more nuanced understanding of the relationship between gender artistic labour and creativity in the period Ultimately how women faced the pragmatics of their own creative labour as they pursued vocations trades and professions in the literary marketplace and related art industries reveals the different ideological positions surrounding the transition of women from industrious amateurism to professional artistry
