Howat, Natalie Spassky, 1970 Chiefly illustrated catalog of an exhibition held in celebration of the hundredth anniversary of the Metropolitan Museum of Art held at the Metropolitan Museum of Art from April 16 through September 7 1970 A Forest of Symbols Andrei Pop, 2019-09-27 A groundbreaking reassessment of Symbolist artists and writers that investigates the concerns they shared with scientists of the period the problem of subjectivity in particular In A Forest of Symbols Andrei Pop presents a groundbreaking reassessment of those writers and artists in the late nineteenth century associated with the Symbolist movement For Pop symbolist denotes an art that is self conscious about its modes of making meaning and he argues that these symbolist practices which sought to provide more direct access to viewers and readers by constant revision of its material means of meaning making brushstrokes on a canvas words on a page are crucial to understanding the genesis of modern art The symbolists saw art not as a social revolution but as a revolution in sense and how to conceptualize the world The concerns of symbolist painters and poets were shared to a remarkable degree by theoretical scientists of the period who were dissatisfied with the strict empiricism dominant in their disciplines which made shared knowledge seem unattainable The problem of subjectivity in particular of what in one's experience can and cannot be shared was crucial to the possibility of collaboration within science and to the communication of artistic innovation Pop offers close readings of the literary and visual practices of Manet and Mallarmé of drawings by Ernst Mach William James and Wittgenstein of experiments with color by Bracquemond and Van Gogh and of the philosophical systems of Frege and Russell filling in a startling but coherent picture of the symbolist heritage of modernity and its consequences Islamic Art in the 19th Century Doris

Behrens-Abouseif, Stephen Vernoit, 2006 This collection of essays provides a timely reassessment of nineteenth century Islamic art and architecture The essays demonstrate that the arts of that era were vibrant and diverse making ingenious use of native traditions and materials or adopting imported conventions and new technologies However traditionalists revivalists and modernists all referred in one way or another to an Islamic heritage whether to reinvent revive or reject it Beginning with an historical introduction and an assessment of changing attitudes towards the visual arts the following essays provide case studies of architecture and art in Ottoman Turkey Egypt Morocco sub Saharan Africa Iran Central Asia India and the Caribbean They examine such issues as patronage sources of artistic inspiration and responses to European art The essays have a relevance and importance for our understanding of the societies and attitudes of that time and have a direct bearing on the more general debate concerning cultural identity and the integration of modern ideas in the Muslim world The book is richly illustrated with very many illustrations in black and white and in full colour 19th Century European Painting
