Sluyterman,2013-07-04 This is the first book to summarise the twentieth century economic history of the Netherlands from a business history perspective It has a broad historical coverage of Dutch business development including in particular the major multinationals such as Philips Shell and Unilever Although focused on Dutch business it has a strong international flavour World Press Trends ,2002 Red Ties and Residential Schools Alexia Bloch,2016-03-22 In this book Alexia Bloch examines the experiences of a community of Evenki an indigenous group in central Siberia to consider the place of residential schooling in identity politics in contemporary Russia Residential schools established in the 1920s brought Siberians under the purview of the Soviet state and Bloch demonstrates how in the post Soviet era a time of jarring social change these schools continue to embody the salience of Soviet cultural practices and the spirit of belonging to a collective She explores how Evenk intellectuals are endowing residential schools with new symbolic power and turning them into a locus for political mobilization In contrast to the binary model of oppressed oppressor underlying many accounts of state indigenous relations Bloch s work provides a complex picture of the experiences of Siberians in Soviet and post Soviet society Bloch s research conducted in a central Siberian town during the 1990s is ethnographically grounded in life stories recorded with Evenk women surveys of households navigating histories of collectivization and recent rampant privatization and in residential schools and in museums both central to Evenk identity politics While considering how residential schools once targeted marginalized reindeer herders especially young girls for socialization and assimilation Bloch reveals how class region and gendered experience currently influence perspectives on residential schooling The analysis centers on the ways vehicles of the Soviet state have been reworked and still sometimes embraced by members of an indigenous community as they forge new identities and allegiances in the post Soviet era Principles and Practice of Resistance Training Michael H. Stone, Meg Stone, William A. Sands, 2007 Aimed at strength and conditioning specialists health and fitness professionals personal trainers and exercise scientists this research based book details the physiological and biomechanical aspects of designing resistance training programmes for improved power strength and performance in athletes Reconceptualizing Early Mathematics Learning Lyn D. English, Joanne T. Mulligan, 2013-05-09 This book emanated primarily from concerns that the mathematical capabilities of young children continue to receive inadequate attention in both the research and instructional arenas Research over many years has revealed that young children have sophisticated mathematical minds and a natural eagerness to engage in a range of mathematical activities As the chapters in this book attest current research is showing that young children are developing complex mathematical knowledge and abstract reasoning a good deal earlier than previously thought A range of studies in prior to school and early school settings indicate that young learners do possess cognitive capacities which with appropriately designed and implemented learning experiences can enable forms of reasoning not typically seen in the early years Although there is a large and coherent body of research on individual content domains such as counting and arithmetic there have been remarkably few studies that have attempted to describe characteristics of structural development in young students mathematics Collectively the chapters highlight the importance of providing more exciting relevant and challenging 21st century mathematics learning for our young students The chapters provide a broad scope in their topics and approaches to advancing young children s mathematical learning They incorporate studies that highlight the importance of pattern and structure across the curriculum studies that target particular content such as statistics early algebra and beginning number and studies that consider how technology and other tools can facilitate early mathematical development Reconceptualising the professional learning of teachers in promoting young children s mathematics including a consideration of the role of play is also addressed
