Chambers,David Currie,2001-07 For Introductory courses in Personal Finance This new edition of Brown s best selling text provides students with the basic principles concepts and vocabulary necessary to cope with the tricky world of personal finance In six previous editions instructors uniformly praised the accessible writing style and strong pedagogical features The seventh edition has been further enhanced with the addition of new boxed material and updated lists of internet sites the incorporation of current data and statistics the addition of hot topics such as day trading and internet banking and free electronic worksheets using Excel downloadable from the Companion Website In addition the supplements that accompany the text have been improved Use of Wood Energy for Lumber Drying and Community Heating in Southeast Alaska ,2004 The inadequate transportation infrastructure and undeveloped markets for sawmill residues in southeast Alaska are among the factors that limit the use of this forest resource This study considers the potential use of sawmill residues to supply two bioenergy systems that would produce thermal energy for 1 community heating and 2 a lumber dry kiln in Hoonah Alaska The proposed community heating system would be a direct combustion system burning approximately 1 450 green tons 1 315 green metric kilotons of wood fuel per year to provide heating for seven centrally located buildings in Hoonah Additional sawmill residues would be used in another system to provide process heat for a proposed 25 000 board foot 41 3 m³ dry kiln The Hoonah sawmill typically produces as much as 5 million board feet 8 255 m³ of lumber per year primarily from western hemlock and Sitka spruce The processing of this amount of lumber would result in an adequate volume of residue to provide a fuel source for the heating requirements of the proposed projects Wood residue from the sawmill is assumed to be available at no cost other than for transportation Use of wood fuel for community heating would save an estimated 65 000 gallons 2 47 kL of heating oil per year Avoided fuel costs would be approximately 91 500 per year based on No 2 fuel oil at a market price of 1 40 per gallon 0 37 per liter Based on a project life of 25 years and a contingency rate of 25% the expected after tax internal rate of return IRR for the community heating portion of the project is 29 6% Total installed costs for the 1 195 000 Btu h 350 kWthermal community heating system including distribution piping and its installation and backup oil systems are estimated to be 631 000 For the lumber dry kiln in the second heat generating system economic results were less favorable with expected energy savings of 82 900 per year and an after tax IRR of 24 1% also assuming 25% contingency Estimated installed cost of the 1 536 000 Btu h 450 kWthermal dry kiln system with a backup oil system is 513 800 WALNECK'S CLASSIC CYCLE TRADER, DECEMBER 1998 Causey Enterprises, LLC, National Directories for Use in Marketing Lloyd Martin DeBoer,1981 Field & Stream ,1978-12 FIELD STREAM America s largest outdoor sports magazine celebrates the outdoor experience with great stories compelling photography and sound advice while honoring the traditions hunters and fishermen have passed down for generations
