One for the Road Barron H. Lerner, 2011-10-14 Don't drink and drive It's a deceptively simple rule but one that is all too often ignored And while efforts to eliminate drunk driving have been around as long as automobiles every movement to keep drunks from driving has hit some alarming bumps in the road Barron H. Lerner narrates the two strong and vocal sides to this debate in the United States those who argue vehemently against drunk driving and those who believe the problem is exaggerated and overregulated A public health professor and historian of medicine Lerner asks why these opposing views exist examining drunk driving in the context of American beliefs about alcoholism driving individualism and civil liberties Angry and bereaved activist leaders and advocacy groups like Mothers Against Drunk Driving campaign passionately for education and legislation but even as people continue to be killed many Americans remain unwilling to take stronger steps to address the problem Lerner attributes this attitude to Americans' love of drinking and love of driving an inadequate public transportation system the strength of the alcohol lobby and the enduring backlash against Prohibition The stories of people killed and maimed by drunk drivers are heartrending and the country's routine rejection of reasonable strategies for ending drunk driving is frustratingly inexplicable This book is a fascinating study of the culture of drunk driving grassroots and professional efforts to stop it and a public that has consistently challenged and tested the limits of individual freedom Why despite decades and decades of warnings do people still choose to drive while intoxicated One for the Road provides crucial historical lessons for understanding the old epidemic of drunk driving and the new epidemic of distracted driving

The Poet's Freedom Susan Stewart, 2011-10-11 Why do we need new art How free is the artist in making And why is the artist and particularly the poet a figure of freedom in Western culture The MacArthur Award winning poet and critic Susan Stewart ponders these questions in The Poet's Freedom Through a series of evocative essays she not only argues that freedom is necessary to making and is itself something made but also shows how artists give rules to their practices and model a self-determination that might serve in other spheres of work Stewart traces the ideas of freedom and making through insightful readings of an array of Western philosophers and poets Plato Homer Marx Heidegger Arendt Dante and Coleridge are among her key sources She begins by considering the theme of making in the Hebrew Scriptures examining their account of a god who creates the world and leaves humans free to rearrange and reform the materials of nature She goes on to follow the force of moods sounds rhythms images metrical rules rhetorical traditions the traps of the passions and the nature of language in the cycle of making and remaking Throughout the book she weaves the insight that the freedom to reverse any act of artistic making is as essential as the freedom to create A book about the pleasures of making and thinking as means of life The Poet's Freedom explores and celebrates the freedom of artists who working under finite conditions make considered choices and shape surprising consequences This engaging and beautifully written notebook on making will attract anyone interested in the creation of art and literature

Child Health ABE Development Services Trust, Marina Clarke, 2003 Community health workers CHW play a vital role in the provision of health care services in South Africa and the need for the training and development of these CHWs is obvious and urgent A major obstacle to the provision of such training is the low level of literacy among CHWs It is for this reason that Juta Academic has teamed up with a number of key organisations and professionals involved in community health and adult education to develop the Health for All series With over 150 illustrations these outcomes based training materials will develop the health care knowledge and skills of CHWs and bolster their literacy language and communication skills The series can be used for health care training courses with each of the six books forming a separate module The publications can also serve as reference books for use in the field

Young People and the Aesthetics of Health Promotion Kerry Montero, Peter Kelly, 2016-03-10 Health promotion with young people has largely been framed by theories of behaviour change to target unsafe unhealthy and or risky behaviours These theories and models seek to encourage the development in young people of reasoned rational and risk aware personal strategies This book presents an innovative and critical perspective on young people and health promotion It explores the limits and possibilities of traditional health behaviour change models with their focus on reason risk and rationality by examining the embodied dimensions of meaning making in health promotion programs Drawing on an array of critical social theories and approaches to knowledge production the authors identify and engage the aesthetic and affective dimensions of young people's engagement with issues such as road safety sexualities alcohol and drug use and physical and mental health and well being The book will appeal to researchers and practitioners in the fields of health promotion and health education public health education the sociology of health and illness youth studies and youth work Vice and Virtue James Sedgwick, 2015-09-26 I was in the midst of a long stroll and happened upon it one evening A crusty blue neon light depicted a bottle of vodka hanging crookedly in the window I was wet and dreary and miserably cold so I stepped inside One of the wonderful things about life is the mystery of opening a new door and having only the foggiest idea about what lies on the other side When Leonid moves across the city into a grimy seedy neighborhood he is met with unfamiliar and uncomfortable surroundings As he adopts a new pattern of living he discovers in sometimes humorous ways that wisdom often comes from the unlikeliest of places And so does love Musings of a Vegetarian Traveller Maureen Stone, 2011-03-01 Musings of a Vegetarian Traveller is the opening story in this collection of tales told by a woman whose appetite for life and travel took her on innumerable journeys One of the most notable her journey from meat eater to vegetarian provides a deeply personal and sometimes very funny look into the worlds she encountered But as Maureen says The story of my transformation from a meat eating to vegetarian traveller is not about food but rather it is about the interesting diverting amusing distressing provocative and irritating things that have happened to me as a vegetarian traveller For adventurers and armchair travellers alike sociologist Maureen Stone offers a different perspective on travel writing From the Caribbean to Europe India Asia Africa and South America readers will experience a new look at familiar landscapes with her musings and reflections on personal political social and contemporary issues About the Author Maureen Stone was originally trained as a social worker and then as a sociologist She was born in Barbados and educated in India and the United Kingdom After a brief career in social work she moved into academic life as a university teacher and Independent Research Consultant Maureen is a full time writer traveller She is best known for her academic work The Education of the Black Child in Britain 1983 and for her social work publications most notably Child Protection Work A Professional Guide 1990 and Child Protection A Model for Risk Assessment 1993 In 2002 she moved away from academic and research publications with her book Black Woman Walking A Different Experience of World Travel Publisher s website <http://www.strategicpublishinggroup.com/title/MusingsOfAVegetarianTraveller.htm> Paramedic: Lights and Sirens Steven Webb, 2010
