Art Ritual Of Childbirth In Renaissance:

The Art & Ritual of Childbirth in Renaissance Italy Jacqueline Musacchio,1995 Images and Identity in Fifteenth-century Florence Patricia Lee Rubin,2007-01-01 An exploration of ways of looking in Renaissance Florence where works of art were part of a complex process of social exchange Renaissance Florence of endless fascination for the beauty of its art and architecture is no less intriguing for its dynamic political economic and social life In this book Patricia Lee Rubin crosses the boundaries of all these areas to arrive at an original and comprehensive view of the place of images in Florentine society The author asks an array of questions Why were works of art made Who were the artists who made them and who commissioned them How did they look and how were they looked at She demonstrates that the answers to such questions illuminate the contexts in which works of art were created and how they were valued and viewed Rubin seeks out the meeting places of meaning in churches in palaces in piazzas places of exchange where identities were taken on and transformed often with the mediation of images She concentrates on questions of vision and visibility on seeing and being seen With a blend of exceptional illustrations close analyses of sacred and secular paintings by artists including Fra Angelico Fra Filippo Lippi Filippino Lippi and Botticelli and wide ranging bibliographic essays the book shines new light on fifteenth century Florence a special place that made beauty one of its defining features

Motherhood and Meaning in Medieval Sculpture Marian Bleeke,2017 An examination of women as mothers in medieval French sculpture What can medieval sculptural representations of women tell us about medieval women s experiences of motherhood Presumably the work of male sculptors working for clerical patrons these sculptures are unlikely to have been shaped by women s maternal experiences during their production Once produced however their beholders would have included women who were mothers and potential mothers thus opening a space between the sculptures intended meanings and other meanings liable to be produced by these women as they brought their own interests and concerns to these works of art Building on theories of reception and response this book focuses on interactions between women as beholders and a range of sculptures made in France in the twelfth through sixteenth centuries aiming to provide insight into women s experiences of motherhood particular sculptures considered include the Annunciation and Visitation from Reims cathedral the femme aux serpents from Moissac the transi of Jeanne de Bourbon Vendome the Eve from Autun and a number of French Gothic Virgin and Child sculptures Marian Bleeke is Associate Professor of Art History and Chair of the Department of Art and Design at Cleveland State University

Reconsidering Gender, Time and Memory in Medieval Culture Elizabeth Cox,Liz Herbert McAvoy,Roberta Magnani,2015 A consideration of the ways in which the past was framed and remembered in the pre modern world The training and use of memory was crucial in medieval culture given the limited literacy at the time but to date very little thought has been given to the complex and disparate ways in which the theory and practices of memory interacted with the inherently unstable concepts of time and gender at the time The essays in this volume drawing on approaches from applied poststructural and queer theory among others reassess those ideologies meanings and responses generated by the workings of memory within and over time Ultimately they argue for the inherent instability of the traditional gender time memory matrix within which men are configured as the recorders of history and women as the repositories of a more inchoate familial and communal knowledge showing the Middle Ages as a locus for a far more fluid conceptualization of time and memory than has previously been considered Elizabeth Cox is Lecturer in Old English at Swansea University Roberta Magnani is Lecturer in Medieval Literature at Swansea University Liz Herbert McAvoy is Professor of Medieval Literature at Swansea University Contributors Anne E Bailey Daisy Black Elizabeth Cox Fiona Harris Stoertz Ayoush Lazikani Liz Herbert McAvoy Pamela E Morgan William Rogers Patricia Skinner Victoria Turner

Coolidge, 2016-03-16 Drawing on history literature and art to explore childhood in early modern Spain the contributors to this collection argue that early modern Spaniards conceptualized childhood as a distinct and discrete stage in life which necessitated special care and concern The volume contrasts the didactic use of art and literature with historical accounts of actual children and analyzes children in a wide range of contexts including the royal court the noble family and orphanages The volume explores several interrelated questions that challenge both scholars of Spain and scholars specializing in childhood How did early modern Spaniards perceive childhood In what framework literary artistic did they think about their children and how did they visualize those children's roles within the family and society How do gender and literary genres intersect with this concept of childhood How did ideas about childhood shape parenting parents and adult life in early modern Spain How did theories about children and childhood interact with the actual experiences of children and their parents The group of international scholars contributing to this book have developed a variety of creative interdisciplinary approaches to uncover children's lives the role of children within the larger family adult perceptions of childhood images of children and childhood in art and literature and the ways in which children and childhood were vulnerable and in need of protection Studying children uncovers previously hidden aspects of Spanish history and allows the contributors to analyze the ideals and goals of Spanish culture the inner dynamics of the Habsburg court and the vulnerabilities and weaknesses that Spanish society fought to overcome God's Bounty? Hatter, 2019-05-02 An exploration of what self-referential compositions reveal about late medieval musical networks linking choirboys to canons and performers to theorists Pieter Bruegel and the Culture of the Early Modern Dinner Party Claudia Goldstein, 2017-07-05 Mining a rich interdisciplinary mix of sources including stoneware jugs personal correspondence paintings inventories and literature written for the dining room this study offers a critical and entirely original examination of the function of early modern images for the people who owned and viewed them The study explores the emergence functions and material culture of the Antwerp dinner party during the heady days of the mid sixteenth century when Antwerp's art market was thriving and a new wealthy non-noble class dominated the city The author recontextualizes some of Bruegel's work within the cultural nexus of the dining room where material culture and theatrical performance met humanist wit and

Mona Lisa Dianne Hales, 2014-08-05 The book rests on the premise that the woman in the painting Mona Lisa is indeed the person identified in its earliest description Lisa Gherardini 1479 1542 wife of the Florence merchant Francesco del Giocondo Dianne Hales has followed facts from the Florence State Archives to the squalid street where Mona Lisa was born to the ruins of the convent where she died Memoirs Marie Mancini, Hortense Mancini, 2009-05-15 The memoirs of Hortense 1646 1699 and of Marie 1639 1715 Mancini nieces of the powerful Cardinal Mazarin and members of the court of Louis XIV represent the earliest examples in France of memoirs published by women under their own names during their lifetimes Both unhappily married Marie had also fled the aftermath of her failed affair with the king the sisters chose to leave their husbands for life on the road a life quite rare for women of their day Through their writings the Mancinis sought to rehabilitate their reputations and reclaim the right to define their public images themselves rather than leave the stories of their lives to the intrigues of the court and to their disgruntled ex husbands First translated in 1676 and 1678 and credited largely to male redactors the two memoirs reemerge here in an accessible English translation that chronicles the beginnings of women's rights to personal independence within the confines of an otherwise circumscribed early modern aristocratic society Selected Poetry and Prose Chiara Matraini, 2009-05-15 Chiara Matraini 1515 1604 was a member of the great flowering of poetic imitators and innovators in the Italian literary heritage begun by Petrarch cultivated later by the lyric poet Pietro Bembo and supplanted by the epic poet Torquato Tasso Though without formal training Matraini excelled in a number of literary genres popular at the time poetry religious meditation discourse and dialogue In her midlife she published a collection of erotic love poetry but later in life her work shifted toward a search for spiritual salvation Near the end of her life she published a new poetry retrospective Mostly available in only a handful of rare book collections her writings are now adeptly translated here for an English speaking audience and situated historically in an introduction by noted Matraini expert Giovanna Rabitti Selected Poetry and Prose allows the poet to finally take her place as one of the seminal authors of the Renaissance next to her contemporaries Vittoria Colonna and Laura Battiferra also published in the Other Voice series
