Critical Perspectives on Social Justice in Speech-Language Pathology

Horton, RaMonda, 2021-06-25 There is very little discussion of socially just approaches to speech language pathology Within other fields of clinically oriented practice social justice is a topic that has received a great deal of attention within the last few years Pedagogy for addressing social justice has been developed in other disciplines The field of communication disorders has failed to move forward and do the same Discussion of social justice is important given the current sociopolitical climate and landscape that clients carry out in their day to day functioning Speech language pathologists SLPs have an opportunity to engage in practices that help address and alleviate some of the injustices that contribute to educational and health disparities experienced by communities of color They may do this through the development and application of a socially just orientation of culturally competent practice that fosters changes beyond the individual level Adapting such a framework makes it possible for SLPs to effectively advocate for and foster equity and inclusion for the individuals and broader communities impacted by SLP services Critical Perspectives on Social Justice in Speech Language Pathology addresses the socio political contexts of how the field of speech language pathology and service delivery can impact policy and debates related to social justice issues It explores social position factors and the experiences of marginalized communities to explore how speech language pathologists deliver services train and prepare students and carry out research in communities of color It covers topic areas including disproportionality in special education disability rights and ableism achievement and opportunity gaps health disparities and LGBTQ rights with a focus on voice communication and gender diverse populations This book is essential for speech language pathologists administrators practitioners researchers academicians and students interested in how the SLP profession and discipline can contribute to or develop efforts to help address injustices faced by Black Indigenous and people of color BIPOC communities Childhoods Gaile Sloan Cannella, Lourdes Diaz Soto, 2010 For the past 20 years a range of scholars educators and cultural workers have examined dominant discourses of childhood using critical feminist and other postmodern perspectives Located in a variety of disciplines these poststructural deconstructive and even postcolonial critiques have challenged everything from notions of the universal child to adult child dualisms to deterministic developmental theory The purpose of this volume is to acknowledge the profound contributions of that large body of literature while demonstrating the ways that critical analyses can be used to generate avenues actions that increase possibilities for social justice for those who are younger while at the same time avoiding determinism In this time of globalization hyper capitalism and discourses that would control and disqualify through constructions like accountability we believe that projects such as this are of utmost importance The volume is divided into four major sections to reflect the multiplicity of human voices and perspectives section I contemporary circumstances and dominant discourses within which we all attempt to function sections II and III and the generation of new possibilities for constructing relationships together section IV Finally a voice from the heart within a reconceptualist social science agenda for early childhood studies is presented Geropsychological Interventions in Long-Term Care Lee Hyer, PhD, ABPP, Robert C. Intrieri, PhD, 2006-02-22 Older people are entering nursing homes later and sicker than ever before thus presenting as more physically fragile and complex residents and requiring more advanced care and treatment To this end Hyer and Intrieri have gathered together a group of health care professionals who are genuinely dedicated to the care and research of long term care LTC environments This group seeks to push the envelope for improved use of professional time effort and input and in this remarkable book share their ideas with you By applying the Selective Optimization with Compensation SOC model to various care settings the editors are able to examine current LTC practices and existing psychosocial issues confronting older LTC patients either support or challenge them and offer suggestions and strategies such as Cognitive Behavior Therapy for improving the LTC system and residents physical psychological emotional and social health This book provides insight on the psychological issues facing long term care residents for a plethora of health care professionals including Physicians and geriatricians who care for older adults in the LTC system Nurses and geriatric nurse specialists Social workers Activity coordinators Physical occupational and speech therapists within an LTC setting who are seeking ways to explain behavior and empower the residents they care for Psychologists and psychiatrists whose practice focuses on older adults Health Promotion in Medical Education Ann Wylie, Tangerine Holt, 2018-05-08 Health promotion has been a relatively overlooked area in modern medical and health professional vocational curricula This practical and informative book aims to redress the balance towards health promotion being a visible integrated curricular component with agreed principles on quality in health promotion teaching across various faculties Experienced and enthusiastic writers with expertise in health promotion public health and medical education explore how curricular structures can accommodate the discipline providing examples of teaching sessions and methods of teaching health promotion within integrated curricula Do not fear another dry discussion of how to stop patients smoking This book takes a stimulatingly lateral view of the scope of the subject goes a very long way to showing why it is essential to medical education and gives good advice on how to support and develop both the subject and its tutors in today s medical schools From the Foreword by Amanda Howe

Comparative Perspectives on the Enforcement and Effectiveness of Antidiscrimination Law Marie Mercat-Bruns,David B. Oppenheimer,Cady Sartorius,2018-06-30 This book focuses on anti discrimination law in order to identify commonalities and best practices across nations Almost every nation in the world embraces the principle of equality and non discrimination in theory if not in practice As the authors expert contributions establish the sources of the principle vary considerably from international treaties to religious law traditions and more There are many approaches to methods of enforcement and other variables but the principle is nearly universal What does a comparison of the laws and approaches across different lands reveal Readers may explore the enforcement and effectiveness of anti discrimination law from 25 nations across six continents Esteemed authors examine national regional and international systems looking for common and best practices identifying innovative approaches to long standing problems The many ways that anti discrimination law is enforced are brought to light from criminal or civil prosecution through to community resolution processes amongst others Through comparing the approaches of different lands the authors consider which methods of enforcement are effective These enriching national and international perspectives highlight the need for more creative concrete and coordinated means of enforcement to ensure the effectiveness of anti discrimination law regardless of the legal tradition concerned but in light of these traditions Readers will find each nation remarkable and learn something new and interesting from each report

BOOK JACKET Vessel Health and Preservation: The Right Approach for Vascular Access Nancy L. Moureau, 2024-12-28 This second edition offers updated and revised information on vessel health and preservation VHP It presents a model of care and systematic application of vascular access and administration of intravenous treatment to show how establishing and maintaining a route to the bloodstream with optimal methods is essential for patients in acute care today This model concept was first published in poster form in 2008 and in JVA in 2012 which has received a great deal of attention especially in the US UK and Australia Until now little thought has been given to an intentional process to guide selection insertion and management of vascular access devices VADs and by default actions are based on crisis management when a quickly selected VAD fails The book details how VHP establishes a framework or pathway model for each step of the patient experience intentionally guiding improving and eliminating risk when possible The evidence points to the fact that reducing fragmentation establishing a pathway and teaching the process to all stakeholders reduces complications with intravenous therapy improves efficiency and diminishes cost As such this book has become a strong point of reference appealing to vascular access specialists bedside nurses physicians and other health professionals Few authoritative guides provide the depth and descriptive evidence included in this VHP model of care suitable for hospital administrators directors educators and others to apply within their services

Assessing Competence in Professional Performance across Disciplines and Professions Paul F. Wimmers,Marcia Mentkowski,2016-04-19 This book examines the challenges of cross professional comparisons and proposes new forms of performance assessment to be used in professions education It addresses how complex issues are learned and assessed across and within different disciplines and professions in order to move the process of performance assessment for learning to the next level In order to be better equipped to cope with increasing complexity change and diversity in professional education and performance assessment administrators and educators will engage in crucial systems thinking The main question discussed by the book is how the required competence in the performance of students can be assessed during their professional education at both undergraduate and graduate levels To answer this question the book identifies unresolved issues and clarifies conceptual elements for performance assessment It reviews the development of constructs that cross disciplines and professions such as critical thinking clinical reasoning and problem solving It discusses what it means to instruct and assess students within their own domain of study and across various roles in multiple contexts but also what it means to instruct and assess students across domains of study in order to judge integration and transfer of learning outcomes Finally the book examines what it takes for administrators and educators to develop competence in assessment such as reliably judging student work in relation to criteria from multiple sources the co editors of this volume Marcia Mentkowski and Paul F Wimmers are associated with two institutions whose characters are so intimately associated with the insight that assessment must be integrated with curriculum and instructional program if it is to become a powerful influence on the educational process Lee Shulman Stanford University Food Safety and Foodborne Pathogen - A Global Perspective on the Diversity, Combating Multidrug Resistance and Management Learn-Han Lee,Om V. Singh,Nurul-Syakima Ab Mutalib,Marta López,2020-12-11 A question raised by many individuals today How Safe is Our Food Consumed Today Food safety has become a hot topic and an important public issue due to the increasingly widespread nature of foodborne illnesses in both developed and developing countries As food is biological in nature and supplies consumers with nutrients it is also equally capable of supporting the growth of microorganisms from the environmental sources A precise method of monitoring and detecting of foodborne pathogens including Salmonella sp Vibrio sp Listeria monocytogenes Campylobacter and Norovirus is needed to prevent and control human foodborne infections Clinical treatments of infection caused by foodborne pathogens are becoming tougher with the increase number of multidrug resistant pathogens in the environment This situation creates a huge healthcare burden e g prolonged treatment for infections decrease in the efficacy of antibiotic delay in treatment due to unavailability of new antibiotics and increased number of deaths As such continuous investigation of the foodborne pathogens is needed to pave the way for a deeper understanding on the foodborne diseases and to improve disease prevention management and treatments
