Art And Its Significance An Anthology Of Aesthetic Theory Second Edition:

Art and Its Significance Stephen David Ross, 1984-01-01 The philosophy of art including the theory of interpretation has been among the most generative branches of philosophy in the latter half of the twentieth century Remarkable interesting and important work has emerged on both sides of the Atlantic from all the major sources of philosophic thought For the first time Stephen David Ross brings together the best of recent writing with the major historical texts and the most influential works of the past century to provide valuable insight into the nature of art and how we are to understand it The selections in this collection comprise a remarkably wide array of positions on the nature and importance of art in human experience A wealth of material is divided into four parts Part I from the history of philosophy includes selections by the essential writers Plato Aristotle Kant Hegel Nietzsche In Part II there are significant selections from Dewey Langer Goodman Heidegger and Merleau Ponty The major selections in Part III are from Hirsch and Gadamer on the nature of interpretation supplemented by selections from Pepper Derrida and Foucault Selections in Part IV sharpen the issues that emerge from the more theoretical discussions in the preceding sections Part IV includes important psychological theories seminal proclamations by twentieth century artists and selections from Bullough on aesthetic distance as well as from Marcuse who develops an important variation on the Marxist view of art

Art and Its Significance Stephen David Ross, 1987-08-15 The four parts of this anthology comprise a remarkably wide array of positions on the nature and importance of art in human experience Part I from the history of philosophy includes selections by the essential writers Plato Aristotle Kant Hegel Nietzsche Part II contains significant selections from Dewey Langer Goodman Heidegger and Merleau Ponty The major selections in Part III are from Hirsch and Gadamer on the nature of interpretation supplemented by selections from Pepper Derrida and Foucault Selections in Part IV sharpen the issues that emerge from the more theoretical discussions in the preceding sections Significantly revised for this second edition Part IV now presents discussions of major contemporary importance In recognition of the increasing influence of Bakhtin and his notion of linguistic multiplicity materials from The Dialogic Imagination are included A new section on postmodernism presents some of Lyotard's definitions of the phenomenon The Frankfurt School is more adequately represented with the addition of the essays by Benjamin and Adorno to the selection from Marcuse Perhaps the most important additions are the essays by Gottner Abendroth Cixous and Owens Crucial contributions to the contemporary discourse these writings from feminist theory represent a mode of thought that questions male centered structures of authority and expression These changes result in a more provocative and representative second edition

Art and Its Significance Stephen David Ross, 1994-01-27 This anthology has been significantly expanded for this edition to include a wider range of contemporary issues The most important addition is a new section on multicultural theory including important and controversial selections ranging from discussions of art in other cultures to discussions of the appropriation of nonWestern art in Western cultures The material from Kant's Critique of Judgment has been expanded to include his writing on aesthetical ideas and the sublime The selections from Derrida have been updated and considerably expanded for this edition primarily from The Truth in Painting One of Derrida's most interesting provocations has also been added his letter to Peter Eisenman on architecture In addition the section on feminist theory now includes a chapter from Irigaray's Speculum of the Other Woman The anthology includes the most important writings on the theory of art in the Western tradition including selections from Plato Aristotle Hume Kant Hegel and Nietzsche the most important philosophical writings of the last hundred years on the theory of art including selections from Collingwood Langer Goodman Heidegger and Merleau Ponty contemporary Continental writings on art and interpretation including selections from Gadamer Ricoeur Derrida Lyotard and Foucault also writings on the psychology of art by Freud and Jung from the Frankfurt School by Benjamin Adorno and Marcuse in feminist theory multiculturalism and postmodernism The anthology also includes twentieth century writings by artists including discussions of futurism suprematism and conceptual art Stephen David Ross is Professor of Philosophy and Comparative Literature State University of New York at Binghamton

The Oxford Handbook of Religion and Education Liam Francis Gearon, Arniika Kuusisto, 2025-04-29 The Oxford Handbook of Religion and Education offers a multi-disciplinary work of scholarship and research highlighting the global significance of a critical interface of cultural and social political and theological importance Drawing on historical perspective and contemporary reflection the collection provides a uniquely transformative analysis of why the interface of religion and education is of such critical significance With contributions from some of the leading thinkers in the field this Handbook presents a cumulatively powerful argument to reassess the complexities of the intersection of religion and education With ambitious and yet accessible intellectual engagements the Handbook here furthers a central thesis that the interface of religion and education is not merely a matter of arcane disputation about a domain of ancient origin or a rudimentary matter of formal educational process but a vibrant domain of critical contestation fundamental to knowing understanding and living in the modern world

Metaphysical Aporia and Philosophical Heresy Stephen David Ross,1989-01-01 From Descartes to the present there has been a call for a new beginning in philosophy Contemporary continental philosophy and American pragmatism continue to proclaim the end of one philosophic tradition and the beginning of another The basis for many of these developments is the repudiation of metaphysics The purpose of this book is to rethink the metaphysical traditions in terms of the continental and pragmatist critiques rejecting a single view The major works in the tradition are viewed as heretical Philosophy has recurrently acknowledged aporia moments in the movement of thought in which it finds itself faced with unconquerable obstacles resulting from conflicts in its understanding of its own intelligibility A chapter is devoted to each of the eight major philosophers and movements in the Western canonical tradition the pre Socratics Plato Aristotle Spinoza Leibniz empiricism Kant and Hegel The last three chapters are devoted to contemporary discussions of the end of metaphysics including the development of a local metaphysics that is able to express its own locality and aporia
