Art Craft And Science Of Evaluation Capacity Building New Directions For Evaluation:

Evaluating Capacity Development Douglas Horton, 2003 The perspective that informs this important book is that every evaluation of a capacity development effort should itself contribute to the capacity development effort and ultimately to the organization's performance This is a revolutionary idea in evaluation With the idea have come the questions Can it be done And if it is done what will be the consequences This book elucidates and deepens the idea shows it can be done and examines the consequences both intended and unintended of engaging in capacity development evaluation

The Art, Craft, and Science of Evaluation Capacity Building Donald W. Compton, Michael L. Baizerman, Stacey Hueftle-Stockdill, 2002-04-23 Evaluation Capacity Building ECB is now being given attention but as yet there is only a small literature about this necessary and seemingly rare process ECB is the often invisible work carried out within or between organizations to sustain the evaluation unit and evaluation studies It is the ongoing everyday work necessary to ensure quality evaluation practice It is the vision the political and administrative effort and management craft which continues to make possible over time the organizational conditions in which professional evaluation work is completed and used requested carried out and used ad infinitum This issue is given over to the conceptualization and illumination of the evaluation capacity building process Four case studies written by contributors show the complexity of the ECB process and its variation in different organizational structures and environments Included are a federal agency The Center for Disease Control and Prevention a nationwide voluntary health organization The American Cancer Society an international development agency The World Bank and a local school district The Anoka Hennepin School District Minnesota The editors introduce and define ECB compare it to evaluation practice and draw out ECB themes from the case studies These sections are used to suggest a practical framework for understanding the core ECB checklist and to provide a conceptual model for theory building and the collection of ECB case studies

Participatory Evaluation Up Close J. Bradley Cousins, Jill Anne Chouinard, 2012-07-01 Empiricism provides the backbone of knowledge creation within social science disciplines e g psychology sociology and applied domains of study e g education administration alike Yet relative to such domains of inquiry comparatively little empirical research on evaluation has occurred and the research knowledge base been infrequently synthesized and integrated to influence theory and practice The proposed book aims to fill this void with regard to participatory evaluation a set of collaborative approaches to evaluation that is receiving considerable attention of late including a growing body of empirical studies The authors begin in Part 1 with the delineation of a widely known and familiar conceptual framework for participatory evaluation They then use the framework in Part 2 as a guide to conducting an extensive review of the extant empirical knowledge base in participatory evaluation culminating in a thematic analysis of what we know about the approach In Part 3 the authors focus on methodological considerations of doing research on participatory evaluation through a critique of existing studies and an explication of design choices drawn from their own research program The book concludes in Part 4 with implications for moving the field forward in terms of important research questions methodological direction and evaluation practice This book will be of central interest to evaluation theorists and to those who choose to conduct research on evaluation appeal will be conceptual and methodological It will provide excellent supplementary reading for graduate students many of whom seek to develop empirical studies on evaluation as part of their graduate programs Rife with examples of participatory evaluation in practice and practical implications the book will also benefit evaluation practitioners with an interest in evaluation capacity building and participatory and collaborative approaches to practice

Exploring Evaluator Role Identity Katherine E. Ryan, Thomas A. Schwandt, 2002-12-01

Interactive Evaluation Practice Jean A.

King, Laurie Stevahn, 2012-04-12 You're about to start your first evaluation project. Where do you begin? Or you're a practicing evaluator faced with a challenging situation. How do you proceed? How do you handle the interactive components and processes inherent in evaluation practice? Use Interactive Evaluation Practice to bridge the gap between the theory of evaluation and its practice. Taking an applied approach, this book provides readers with specific interactive skills needed in different evaluation settings and contexts. The authors illustrate multiple options for developing skills and choosing strategies systematically, highlighting the evaluator's three roles as decision maker, actor, and reflective practitioner. Case studies and interactive examples stimulate thinking about how to apply interactive skills across a variety of evaluation situations. From beginning to end, this book is an indispensable resource for those responsible for the evaluation process. In essence, here's a chance to learn from masters about acquiring mastery. What could be more useful? Michael Quinn Patton, Author of Utilization-Focused Evaluation. At long last, a book that explicitly addresses the importance of interpersonal dynamics in evaluation practice. Hallie Preskill, Executive Director, Strategic Learning and Evaluation Center, FSG. As an evaluator who frequently interacts with a variety of stakeholders and who provides graduate-level evaluation training, I find Interactive Evaluation Practice to be an exceptional addition to the evaluation literature and a useful guide to interacting with various stakeholder groups. Chris L. S. Coryn, Western Michigan University.

Evaluation Advisory Groups Ross VeLure Roholt, Michael L. Baizerman, 2012-12-18 Advisory committees are used often in evaluation studies, yet this practice is little discussed or reported. This issue is the first full-length text devoted to the purpose, practice, and scholarship about this type of formal, structured advice. It includes case studies and analyses of these to answer such basic topics as: What is an evaluation advisory group (EAG)? Why not use an EAG? How to organize an EAG and how to evaluate it. The reader will learn how to view the EAG as a structure of expertise, its use for political legitimacy, and as a response to a variety of constituencies. Guidelines on how to recruit, select, orient, train, monitor, assess, and evaluate EAG members are also included. This is the 136th volume of the Jossey-Bass quarterly report series New Directions for Evaluation, an official publication of the American Evaluation Association.

Utilization-Focused Evaluation Michael Quinn Patton, 2008-06-18 The Fourth Edition of the bestselling Utilization-Focused Evaluation provides expert, detailed advice on conducting program evaluations from one of leading experts. Chock-full of useful pedagogy, including a unique utilization-focused evaluation checklist, this book presents Michael Quinn Patton's distinctive opinions based on more than thirty years of experience. Key Features of the Fourth Edition: Provides thoroughly updated materials, including more international content, new references, new exhibits, and sidebars and new examples, stories, and cartoons. Includes follow-up exercises at the end of each chapter. Features a utilization-focused evaluation checklist. Gives greater emphasis on mixed methods. Analyzes the pluses and minuses of the increased emphasis on accountability and performance measurement in government at all levels. Details the explosion of international evaluation. Intended Audience: Both theoretical and practical, this core text is an essential resource for students enrolled in Program Evaluation courses in a variety of disciplines including public administration government social sciences education and management Practitioners will also find this text invaluable

Evaluating Civic Youth Work Ross VeLure Roholt, Michael Baizerman, 2018 Most youth civic engagement evaluation studies fail to reach beyond specific audiences thereby hindering the diffusion of evaluation practice wisdom around effective methods to evaluate complex social innovations This book therefore provides multiple case studies of youth civic engagement evaluation designs and straightforward guidance for designing youth civic engagement evaluations

The Road to Results Linda G. Morra-Imas, Linda G. Morra, Ray C. Rist, 2009 The Road to Results Designing and Conducting Effective Development Evaluations presents concepts and procedures for evaluation in a development context It provides procedures and examples on how to set up a monitoring and evaluation system how to conduct participatory evaluations and do social mapping and how to construct a rigorous quasi experimental design to answer an impact question The text begins with the context of development evaluation and how it arrived where it is today It then discusses current issues driving development evaluation such as the Millennium Development Goals and the move from simple project evaluations to the broader understandings of complex evaluations The topics of implementing Results based Measurement and Evaluation and constructing a Theory of Change are emphasized throughout the text Next the authors take the reader down the road to results presenting procedures for evaluating projects programs and policies by using a Design Matrix to help map the process This road includes determining the overall approach formulating questions selecting designs developing data collection instruments choosing a sampling strategy and planning data analysis for qualitative quantitative and mixed method evaluations The book also includes discussions on conducting complex evaluations how to manage evaluations how to present results and ethical behavior including principles standards and guidelines The final chapter discusses the future of development evaluation This comprehensive text is an essential tool for those involved in development evaluation
