The Global Classroom Jeffrey S. Lantis, Leigh A. Poole,2025-08-06 The Global Classroom An Essential Guide to Study Abroad Second Edition is a unique international studies text that provides students and practitioners with valuable resources for success in education abroad The Global Classroom addresses the challenges and opportunities of study abroad by encouraging participants to think about their personal academic and professional goals during every step of the process Not only does it address different ways that study abroad has been re envisioned and strengthened in the post pandemic world it is also intentional in its design to speak to a variety of contemporary issues and concerns For example the book addresses many different audiences including appealing to historically marginalized groups about the value of study abroad and addressing the rights of LGBTQ individuals at home and abroad It explores how social media has changed how we navigate distance in education abroad and a new section offers resources for mental health at home and abroad Critically the book also offers practitioners an academic up to date core text for pre departure orientation programs and provides readers with tools to better link student preparation with considerations like safety risk management and response

Becoming a Scholar Maria Savva ,Lynn P. Nygaard ,2021-03-01 Becoming a Scholar provides a window into the lives of nine non traditional doctoral students As mature part time international students enrolled in a professional doctorate programme they reflect on the transformation process of becoming scholars and their narratives provide breadth and depth to themes that represent a diverse cross section of cultures identities and communities Recognising that the process of becoming a scholar is as much internal as it is external the book provides an opportunity to engage with authentic personal stories that remain firmly rooted in academic literature By bringing the human face behind the doctoral journey to the forefront the narratives draw much needed attention to the personal journey that inevitably parallels and intersects with the academic journey Although the narratives are drawn from a professional Doctor in Education EdD programme based in the UK the struggles are sure to resonate with a much wider range of doctoral students and academics sparking lively discussion debate and reflection A must read for students preparing to embark on the doctoral journey and essential reading for doctoral programmes that wish to equip students with important knowledge about the challenges ahead

Translating Cultures David Katan, 2014-06-03 As the 21st century gets into stride so does the call for a discipline combining culture and translation This second edition of Translating Cultures retains its original aim of putting some rigour and coherence into these fashionable words and lays the foundation for such a discipline This edition has not only been thoroughly revised but it has also been expanded In particular a new chapter has been added which focuses specifically on training translators for translational and intercultural competencies The core of the book provides a model for teaching culture to translators interpreters and other mediators It introduces the reader to current understanding about culture and aims to raise awareness of the fundamental role of culture in constructing perceiving and translating reality Culture is perceived throughout as a system for orienting experience and a basic presupposition is that the organization of experience is not reality but rather a simplified model and a distortion which varies from culture to culture Each culture acts as a frame within which external signs or reality are interpreted The approach is interdisciplinary taking ideas from contemporary translation theory anthropology Bateson's logical typing and metamessage theories Bandler and Grinder's NLP meta model theory and Hallidayan functional grammar Authentic texts and translations are offered to illustrate the various strategies that a cultural mediator can adopt in order to make the different cultural frames he or she is mediating between more explicit

How

Interculturally Competent am I? An Introductory Thesis Writing Course for International Students Yau

Tsai, 2014-07-08 This textbook aims to help students to develop thesis writing skills through experiential learning by conducting a research project based on a diary study and reporting on it in a mini thesis It was developed for the benefit of international students who in their penultimate year of undergraduate study are planning to write a graduation thesis in English related to intercultural communication in their final year with little or no prior knowledge of the subject or of thesis writing itself The overarching structure of the book provides a clear overview of the main parts of a thesis and how they fit together It presents wide ranging activities designed to help students to critically analyse and evaluate the academic literature with a specific research question in mind and provides a basic introduction to qualitative research methodology placing a special focus upon the use of diary studies in research Thirteen units guide students through the process of analyzing and evaluating competing models of intercultural competence before using them as frameworks to structure self reflection in a small scale study Along the way students write a series of structured diary entries in response to different kinds of intercultural experience that ultimately allows them to draw conclusions about not only their current level of intercultural competence within the terms they choose to define it but also about the standards they tend to apply in practice To promote extensive reading the textbook may be used in conjunction with its optional accompanying handbook from which many reading passages are drawn Tsai Y and Houghton S Becoming Intercultural Inside and Outside the Classroom Newcastle upon Tyne Cambridge Scholars Publishing 2010 The Unknown God Thomas G.
