American Journal of Pharmacy and the Sciences Supporting Public Health ,1868     Basket Weavers for the California Curio Trade Marvin Cohodas,1997-11 The peoples of northwestern California s Lower Klamath River area have long been known for their fine basketry Two early twentieth century weavers of that region Elizabeth Hickox and her daughter Louise created especially distinctive baskets that are celebrated today for their elaboration of technique form and surface designs Marvin Cohodas now explores the various forces that influenced Elizabeth Hickox analyzing her relationship with the curio trade and specifically with dealer Grace Nicholson to show how those associations affected the development and marketing of baskets He explains the techniques and patterns that Hickox created to meet the challenge of weaving design into changig three dimensional forms In addition to explicating the Hickoxes basketry Cohodas interprets its uniqueness as a form of intersocietal art showing how Elizabeth first designed her distinctive trinket basket to convey a particular view of the curio trade and its effect on status within her community Through its close examination of these superb practitioners of basketry Basket Weavers for the California Curio Trade addresses many of today s most pressing questions in Native American art studies concerning individuality patronage and issues of authenticity Graced with historic photographs and full color plates it reveals the challenges faced by early twentieth century Native weavers Extremely well written and based on an impressive amount of archival research It skillfully interweaves biography rigorous stylistic analysis and social history into an impressive story Janet Berlo editor The Early Years of Native American Art History Published with the assistance of The Southwest Museum Los Angeles     Challenging Mathematics In and Beyond the Classroom Edward J. Barbeau,Peter J. Taylor,2009-04-21 In the mid 1980s the International Commission on Mathematical Instruction ICMI inaugurated a series of studies in mathematics education by comm sioning one on the influence of technology and informatics on mathematics and its teaching These studies are designed to thoroughly explore topics of c temporary interest by gathering together a group of experts who prepare a Study Volume that provides a considered assessment of the current state and a guide to further developments Studies have embraced a range of issues some central such as the teaching of algebra some closely related such as the impact of history and psychology and some looking at mathematics education from a particular perspective such as cultural differences between East and West These studies have been commissioned at the rate of about one per year Once the ICMI Executive decides on the topic one or two chairs are selected and then in consultation with them an International Program Committee IPC of about 12 experts is formed The IPC then meets and prepares a Discussion Document that sets forth the issues and invites interested parties to submit papers These papers are the basis for invitations to a Study Conference at which the various dimensions of the topic are explored and a book the Study Volume is sketched out The book is then put together in collaboration mainly using electronic communication The entire process typically takes about six years

The Yacht Club; or, The Young Boat-Builder Oliver Optic, 2016-08-27 The Yacht Club is the second volume of the Yacht Club Series to which it gives a name and like its predecessor is an independent story The hero has not before appeared though some of the characters of Little Bobtail take part in the incidents but each volume may be read understandingly without any knowledge of the contents of the other In this story the interest centres in Don John the Boat builder who is certainly a very enterprising young man though his achievements have been more than paralleled in the domain of actual life Like the first volume of the series the incidents of the story transpire on the waters of the beautiful Penobscot Bay and on its shores They include several yacht races which must be more interesting to those who are engaged in the exciting sport of yachting than to others But the principal incidents are distinct from the aquatic narrative and those who are not interested in boats and boating will find that Don John and Nellie Patterdale do not spend all their time on the water 6 The hero is a young man of high aims and noble purposes and the writer believes that it is unpardonable to awaken the interest and sympathy of his readers for any other than high minded and well meaning characters But he is not faultless he makes some grave mistakes even while he has high aims The most important lesson in morals to be derived from his experience is that it is unwise and dangerous for young people to conceal their actions from their parents and friends and that men and women who seek concealment choose darkness because their deeds are evil Harrison Square Boston

The Basket Weavers Amelia Khatri, AI, 2025-02-12 The Basket Weavers explores the comprehensive history of basket weaving highlighting its evolution from functional necessity to a significant art form across various cultures The book argues that basket weaving offers a unique perspective on the link between human culture technology and the environment Interestingly basket weaving predates pottery in many societies demonstrating its early importance The book also showcases how different cultures adapted readily available natural resources to suit their regional climates and needs The book begins by introducing fundamental techniques and materials progressing to specific regional traditions like Native American coiling East Asian bamboo weaving and European willow work Each regional study examines the environmental context historical development and cultural significance of basketry By focusing on the social and economic roles of basket weavers the book emphasizes how this craft has historically supported communities worldwide and continues to evolve as a contemporary art form
