Committee,2012-07-13 The Committees on Arms Export Controls CAEC believe that the Government should apply significantly more cautious judgements on the export of arms to authoritarian regimes which might be used for internal repression The Committees have scrutinised in unprecedented detail the Government s latest 2010 Annual Report on Strategic Export Controls HC 1402 session 2011 12 ISBN 9780102973662 the Government s quarterly information on individual export licence approvals and refusals and the Government s policies and performance on arms export controls and on arms control generally The Committees conclude that the Government s review of its policies and practices on arms exports following the Arab Spring should not have been carried out merely as an internal review and should instead have been the subject of public consultation in accordance with the Government s stated policy of transparency on arms exports And whilst the Government s introduction of a new licence suspension mechanism is welcome this is not sufficient to ensure that arms exported are not used for internal repression overseas because in many cases the arms will have left the UK before suspension occurs The Government should extend its arms export policy review from countries in the Middle East and North Africa to authoritarian regimes and countries of human rights concern worldwide Annex 7 of the report gives selected arms export licence approvals by the Government to countries of human rights concern and the report also contains details of the extant UK Government approved arms export licences to Argentina Bahrain Egypt Libya Saudi Arabia Syria Tunisia and
