Deuteronomium Armen Claude E. Cox, 1981 Includes bibliographical references and index      The Armenian translation of Deuteronomy Claude Cox, 1981      The Text of the Old Testament Ernst Würthwein, 1995 This classic introduction to textual criticism of the Hebrew Bible is now entirely updated The book examines the transmission of the biblical text in its original language the history of its translation the causes of corruption in the textual tradition and the proper principles and techniques of textual criticism      "Translation is Required" Robert James Victor Hiebert, 2010 Proceedings of a conference held Sept 18 20 2008 at Trinity Western University      A Treatise on God Written in Armenian by Eznik of Kolb (floruit C.430-c.450) Eznik (Koghbats'i, Bishop of Bagrewand), 1998 The conversion of Armenia is traditionally dated to 314 when Gregory the Illuminator c 240 332 baptized King Trdat 298 330 and the royal family Not until the fifth century did there develop both a Christian literature for Armenians in the Armenian languages and the beginnings of a literary tradition in several genres which provided a coherent argument against the old religion of Zoroastrianism and made for the creation of Armenia as a Christian nation Eznik of Kolb later bishop of Bagrewand studied in Edessa and in Constantinople among that first generation of Armenian Christians who made available in the newly established Armenian script translations of Greek and Syriac texts including the Bible and other early Christian writings Eznik composed a treatise of theology and apologetic in Armenian which has survived untitled in one manuscript Modern editors and translators have titled this treatise On God or Against the Sects Eznik addressed perceived threats to Christianity in Armenia from heretical and non Christian movements among them Valentinian Gnosticism and the schools of Greek philosophy Marcionism Manichaeism and Zoroastrian Zurvanism Eznik's sources include the Bible ancient Greek non Christian literature earlier Greek patristic treatises and other works Syriac patristic texts and Iranian works either written or oral concerning the Zurvanite form of Zoroastrianism and Armenian paganism The central concern of the book is to contrast the monotheistic Christian God with the dualistic or polytheistic deities and religions of his opponents Eznik's book is unusual in several aspects It is the first apologetic treatise composed in Armenian and it also provides a summary of early Christian doctrine as Eznik understood it It contains unique information on the fifth century teachings of Zurvanism and Marcionism It attests to an Armenian theology conversant with both Syriac and Greek sources It also opens a window into pre Christian Armenian mythology and folklore The English translation is based on the critical edition of Louis Maries and Charles Mercier      A Syrian in Greek Dress R. B. ter Haar Romeny, 1997 The identification and publication of an ancient Armenian translation of Eusebius of Emesa's Commentary on Genesis 1980 and the edition of fragments of his work in the Greek Catena in Genesim have opened new perspectives for the study of this fourth century scholar and bishop of Syrian descent This book now brings together the evidence of the various branches of tradition of this work the oldest complete Antiochene commentary to survive The author concentrates on one of the most striking characteristics of Eusebius commentary its interest in translation problems and appeal to alternative readings Apart from the Septuagint the version commented on Eusebius quotes the Syrian ho Syros and the Hebrew ho Hebraios It has long been unclear what or who answered to these names The author proposes a new solution to this problem The first part of this study deals with the content and affiliations of all biblical quotations in the Commentary and with their place in Eusebius method of exegesis The author demonstrates that Eusebius referred to the Hebrew and Syriac texts in their original languages He had direct access to the Syriac text and is thus one of the oldest witnesses to the Peshitta version but used informants for his knowledge of the Hebrew text His approach in assessing the value of the different versions of the biblical text is contrasted with that of his predecessors Origen and Eusebius of Caesarea his contemporary Jerome and later Antiochene exegetes who followed or criticized him The second part gives the basis of the first it is a collection of all passages that cite alternative readings All texts are given in their original languages and in English translation A commentary deals with the textual tradition of each passage identifies the questions Eusebius wanted to solve by the use of alternative readings contrasts his handling of the text with that of others establishes his sources and studies the biblical quotations in detail
