Assistant Secretary of Defense (Public Affairs),1966 Special Bibliography Series ,1957 Building Global Security Through Cooperation Joseph Rotblat,John P. Holdren,2012-12-06 1989 was by any standards an extraordinary year the year in which the Cold War ended However although much has changed much remains unresolved or not changed at all Even though the rationale for the huge military forces has been removed from the East West relationship these forces still retain a tremendous potential to do harm Moreover threats to peace may grow along North South and South South axes An example of such a threat is the rapid growth in size and sophistication of military arsenals in the South. The contributions to this volume make it clear that the problems of East and West North and South are inter twined. Security can be gained only through cooperation. The contributors who come from widely differing geographical cultural and political backgrounds all share the Pugwash tradition of scientific objectivity.

The Economics of International Security Manas Chatterji, Henk Jager, Annemarie Rima, 2016-07-27. The objective of this book is to present an integrated set of original papers from leading authorities in the field related to optimal balance between arms reduction and regional and international security. The emphasis is on economics and management rather than politics and diplomacy.

From Defence to Development Jacklyn Cock, Penny Mckenzie, 1998. Remember the global peace dividend the budget surpluses that were supposed to result from the raising of the Iron Curtain and the end of the arms race. As war torn societies in the Middle East Latin America and parts of Africa found peace and began building democratic societies governments were supposed to use the money they once spent on the military to better meet basic human needs. But has it happened?
