Toward Afrodiasporic and Afrofuturist Philosophies of Religion Jon Ivan Gill, 2022-04-14 Based on the categories of mainstream philosophy of religion we must ask the question if said categories are adequate to describe the conceptual frameworks of traditions not philosophically dependent on Western theistic understandings such as religious traditions and philosophies of life emerging from the continent of Africa and appearing in the United States the Caribbean North Central and South America and Europe This book hosts students from Pomona College and Pitzer College Claremont Colleges Claremont California who have analyzed the field of philosophy of religion as it stands to determine which of its insights can be applied to Afro diasporic and Afrofuturist notions of religion and which ones cannot Their reflections in these chapters will ask how do we define Afro diasporic religion what would a robust philosophy of religion of Afro diasporic and Afrofuturist religions draw from what categories would it contain how would we construct such a non-Western methodology of philosophy of religion and what sources would we use to construct such a philosophy of religion In an attempt to aesthetically experience what Afro diasporic and Afrofuturist philosophies of religion are could be the text will rely heavily on fiction novels poetry music movies and texts written by Afro diasporic people from various social locations and perspectives on some African notions of religion among other centers of reflection workings of humanitarian literature as they engage with and critique narratives of Africa Overlapping with but distinct from human rights humanitarianism centers on a relationship of assistance focusing less on rights than on needs less on legal frameworks than moral ones less on the problem than on the nonstate solution Tracing the white savior narrative back to religious missionaries of the nineteenth century Humanitarian Fictions reveals the influence of religious thought on seemingly secular institutions and uncovers a spiritual collectivist streak in the discourse of humanity Because the humanitarian model of care transcends the boundaries of the state and its networks touch much of the globe Humanitarian Fictions redraws the boundaries of literary classification based on a shared problem space rather than a shared national space The book maps a transnational vein of Anglophone literature about Africa that features missionaries humanitarians and their so called beneficiaries Putting humanitarian thought in conversation with postcolonial critique this book brings together African British and U S writers typically read within separate traditions Paustian shows how the novel with its profound sensitivity to narrative can enrich the critique of white saviorism while also imagining alternatives that give African agency its due
