Arresting Images Aaron Doyle, 2003-01-01 Arresting Images asks instead how TV influences what is in front of the camera and how it reshapes other institutions as it broadcasts their activities Arresting Images Steven C. Dubin, 2013-10-18

Although contemporary art may sometimes shock us more alarming are recent attempts to regulate its display Drawing upon extensive interviews a broad sampling of media accounts legal documents and his own observations of important events sociologist Steven Dubin surveys the recent trend in censorship of the visual arts photography and film as well as artistic upstarts such as video and performance art He examines the dual meaning of arresting images both the nature of art work which disarms its viewers and the social reaction to it Arresting Images examines the battles which erupt when artists address such controversial issues as racial polarization AIDS gay bashing and sexual inequality in their work The

Extraordinary Image Robert P. Kolker, 2016-11-30 Welles Hitchcock Kubrick These names appear on nearly every list of the all time greatest filmmakers But what makes these directors so great Despite their very different themes and sensibilities is there a common genius that unites them and elevates their work into the realm of the sublime The Extraordinary Image takes readers on a fascinating journey through the lives and films of these three directors identifying the qualities that made them cinematic visionaries Reflecting on a lifetime of teaching and writing on these filmmakers acclaimed film scholar Robert P Kolker offers a deeply personal set of insights on three artists who have changed the way he understands movies Spotlighting the many astonishing images and stories in films by Welles Hitchcock Kubrick he also considers how they induce a state of amazement that transports and transforms the viewer Kolker's accessible prose invites readers to share in his own continued fascination and delight at these directors visual inventiveness even as he lends his expertise to help us appreciate the key distinctions between the unique cinematic universes they each created More than just a celebration of three cinematic geniuses The Extraordinary Image is an exploration of how movies work what they mean and why they bring us so much pleasure Aesthetic Subjects Pamela R. Matthews, David McWhirter, 2003

Recent calls for a return to aesthetics occur precisely at a moment when it is increasingly evident that nothing concerning aesthetics is self evident anymore Determined to recover the value of aesthetic experience for artistic cultural and social analysis the contributors to this volume prominent scholars in literature philosophy art history architecture history and anthropology begin from a shared recognition that ideological readings of the aesthetic have provided invaluable insights in particular that analyses of aesthetics within historical and social contexts tell us a great deal about the experience of aesthetic encounters From multiple and complementary perspectives the contributors address topics as varied as Nabokov and Dickens Caravaggio and Shelley Winters gender and sexuality advertising and AIDS Taken together their essays constitute a sustained and multifarious effort to resituate aesthetic pleasure in the mixed impure conditions characteristic of every social practice and experience however privileged or marginalized and to ask what happens to the aesthetic if we consider it apart from or at least in tension with its historically dominant discursive formulations As such this volume establishes a renewed sense of aesthetic discourse and its usefulness as a tool for understanding culture

American Photo, 2002-11 Images and Human Rights Nancy Lipkin Stein, 2017-01-06 This book explores issues of creation distribution and control of images through official and unofficial sources asking what impact that has had on human rights and what the ethical implications are The volume includes research from healthcare advocates human rights scholars and activists photographers and visual anthropologists who see a need for more careful contextual interpretation of images in global and local settings It represents diverse forms of scholarship and the ever changing field of research methodologies and it examines how human rights issues take advantage of visual methodologies and how the visual works to communicate these issues with the public As such this collection will be useful for researchers studying in the fields of visual culture and human rights

Vise and Shadow Peter Balakian, 2015-05-06 In Vise and Shadow the critically acclaimed poet and memoirist Peter Balakian brings together his most influential essays of the past twenty five years He argues that the force of the lyric imagination is able to hold experience under pressure like a vise while it also shadows history Precise lyrical and eloquent Balakian s essays explore the ways poetry engages disaster and ingests mass violence without succumbing to the didactic He gives us new insights into the relationships between trauma memory and aesthetic form his essays on major Armenian voices and the aftermath of genocide are a fresh contribution to contemporary literature and art Other essays engage painting collage song lyrics and film as forms of enduring lyric knowledge With a range that includes W B Yeats YeghisheCharents Joan Didion Hart Crane Primo Levi Robert Rauschenberg Bob Dylan Elia Kazan Arshile Gorky and Adrienne Rich Vise and Shadow offers a cosmopolitan vision of the power and resilience of the human imagination

Life-span Development Leonie Sugarman, 2004-03-01 This thorough revision of the highly successful first edition of Life Span Development offers the reader a wide ranging and thought provoking account of human development throughout the lifespan The lifespan approach emphasises that development does not stop when we cease to be adolescents but goes on throughout adulthood and into old age In initial chapters Leonie Sugarman outlines the issues surrounding the notion of development and how it can be studied including reviews of the work of key theorists Erikson Levinson and Gould She goes on to consider the different ways in which the life course can be construed as a series of age related stages as a cumulative sequence as a series of developmental tasks as a series of key life events and transitions or as a narrative construction which creates a sense of dynamic continuity A final chapter looks at how people cope the resources that are available and the theoretical and practical issues regarding interventions to assist them in the process New to this edition is increased coverage of the topical issue of successful ageing and a new chapter on the increasingly popular narrative approach to lifespan development This edition is also more student friendly with exercises in self reflection that encourage the reader to look at the development of their own lives or those of their current or future clients Boxed material highlighting major theories and clarifying concepts is also included This book will be invaluable for students of developmental and occupational psychology and professionals in the fields of health management education and social work NASA Tech Briefs ,2003 Art and Ethical Criticism Garry L.
