The Mediterranean Basins Bernard Durand, 1999 The coexistence in space and time of growing mountain belts and actively extending basins poses a number of yet unsolved questions in terms of mechanics This problem is particularly crucial in the Mediterranean regions where all Cenozoic basins opened in the internal zones of mountain belts This volume brings together contributions from geologists and geophysicists in the quest to solve the complex dynamic problem posed by the Mediterranean region It presents a wealth of new data on various topics centred on the Mediterranean region from the deep mantle structure to the detailed geometry of sedimentary basins

Geology of Hungary János Haas, 2012-06-30 Hungary lies in the central part of the Pannonian Basin surrounded by the ranges of the Alps Carpathians and Dinarides The geology of the country can be summarized as a process whereby complicated plate collision type orogeny was followed by the formation of a young basin in which a relatively complete sequence of basin infill has been preserved The handbook Geology of Hungary presents an outline of the main features of the geology and geohistory of the region in a single volume illustrated by a great number of color figures and photos for the benefit of foreign geoscientists interested in this area The volume follows the evolutionary history of the major structural units prior to their juxtaposition in the Tertiary and discusses the subsequent evolution of the Pannonian Basin Due to the geohistorical approach to this study it was necessary to extend the scope of the discussion beyond the present day political boundaries of Hungary to cover most of the Pannonian region
