Manda Scott

Dreaming The Hound:

Boudica Manda Scott,2006 AD 57 much of Britannia has been under Roman occupation for over ten years with key areas in the south and east administered as vassal states where the tribes pay costly tithes to the Emperor in return for the right to continue living on their own land

Dreaming the Hound Manda Scott,2005 The third installment in the breathtaking fictionalization of the life of Britain's warrior queen Boudica plunges readers into a world of druids and dreamers where horses and hounds and the landscape itself are characters in their own right where warriors fight for honour as much as victory BOUDICA means Bringer of Victory from the early Celtic word boudeg She was the last defender of the Celtic culture the only woman openly to lead her warriors into battle and to stand successfully against the might of Imperial Rome and triumph Dreaming the Hound opens in AD 57 Caradoc betrayed to Rome is exiled in Gaul leaving Boudica bereft to lead the tribes of the west in an increasingly bloody resistance against Roman occupation Only if she can drive Rome from the land will she find peace and to do that she must raise again the tribes of the East Her people the Eboraci languish in the shadow of the Legions led by a man who proclaims himself king and yet allows slavers to trade freely in his lands Too notorious to reclaim her own birthright Boudica strives instead to return her daughters to their heritage Across the sea Boudica's half brother Ban has been named traitor by both sides He too seeks peace on a journey that takes him from the dreaming tombs of the ancestors to the cave of a god he no longer serves Only if these two meet can Britannia be saved But the Roman Governor has been ordered to subdue the tribes or die in the attempt and he has twenty thousand legionaries ready to stop anyone however determined from bringing Britain to the edge of revolt Written with uncompromising mastery this is fiction that captivates the heart challenges the mind and offers us an utterly enthralling experience of history in the flesh and blood of its making

Boudica Manda Scott,2005 AD 57 much of Britannia has been under Roman occupation for over ten years with key areas in the south and east administered as vassal states where the tribes pay costly tithes to the Emperor in return for the right to continue living on their own lands On the sacred isle of Mona the Boudica or Bringer of Victory as Breaca has long been hailed now knows for certain that her lover Caradoc betrayed captured and kept hostage in Rome will never return to her She decides to leave Mona where she and her warriors have been waging a guerilla war and to take the fight to the Eboraci heartland where it is needed most With her are her children Cunomar and Grainne and her best friend from childhood ex lover and dreamer Airmid But the once proud Eboraci are a downtrodden and defeated people who are forbidden on pain of death to worship their old gods and who now scrape a living from the once fertile land Across the sea in Hibernia Breaca's half brother Ban is struggling to make peace with his fractured past Soon provoked by Roman aggression he will sail to Britain to protect Mona and from there he will go to Camulodunum where once more united he and Breaca will face down the might of Rome in the bloodiest revolt the western world has ever known
