Dreams Of Glory:

Dust That Dreams of Glory Michael Mayne, 2017-12-20 Dust That Dreams of Glory collects together never before published seasonal material for Lent and Holy Week by the much loved Anglican priest and writer Michael Mayne. Michael Mayne was one of Anglicanism's most compelling and attractive voices: a gifted preacher and writer whose works have remained popular. This collection offers material from Ash Wednesday to Holy Saturday including a sequence of seven meditations on the words of Christ from the cross. These unpublished writings are offered as both a preaching and devotional resource at a time of the year when many seek fresh ways of opening up familiar texts.

Early Modern Japanese Literature Haruo Shirane, 2008-04-21 This abridged edition of Haruo Shirane's popular anthology Early Modern Japanese Literature retains the essential texts that have made the original volume such a valuable resource. The book introduces English speaking readers to prose fiction genres including dangibon, kibyoshi, satiric picture books, sharebon, books of wit and fashion, yomihon, kokkeibon, books of humor, gokan, bound books, and ninjobon, books of romance and sentiment. It also features poetic genres such as waka, haiku, senryu, and kyoka, and plays ranging from Chikamatsu's puppet plays to nineteenth century kabuki. Readers will continue to benefit from the anthology's selection of significant essays, treatises, literary criticism, folk stories, and other noncanonical works, as well as the numerous prints that accompanied these works. They will also find Shirane's introductions and critical commentary which guide the reader through the allusive and often elliptical nature of these incredible selections.

Dreams of Love and Fateful Encounters Ethel S. Person, 2007-04-02 This groundbreaking study has been widely hailed for its focus on a human emotion generally considered impervious to rational analysis: romantic, passionate love. Ethel Person views romantic love as a powerful agent of change, arguing that it is as central to human culture as it is to human existence. This new edition of Dreams of Love and Fateful Encounters emphasizes the relevance of passion not only to lovers but also to mental health professionals whose patients often enter treatment because of love-related issues: from the inability to love or make a commitment, to the perils of extramarital love, to love sickness or loss of love. She forthrightly addresses not only the power of love to unlock the soul but also its inherent paradoxes and conflicts. Employing a philosophical perspective in order to understand the existential dilemmas posed by love, and a cultural perspective in order to understand its cultural variability, Dr. Person breaks with contemporary intellectual and philosophical dismissive assumptions about romantic love. She acknowledges love's vital importance and power, proposing that passion serves an important function not only for the individual but also for the culture, while charging psychoanalysis with a reductionist emphasis on sexuality and psychopathology that has narrowed the focus of inquiry into love. Among the issues she discusses are romantic love's sources in our early lives, its relationship to imagination and creativity, and its capacity to enable the lover to transcend the self, how romantic love often demands a reordering of values and promotes personal growth by exposing the self to new risks and possibilities, the transformational potential of transference love in the therapy process, flaws in the common misperception that women are more influenced by romantic love than men considerations of homosexual love love across generations and love triangles focusing on the individual growth that can result from such relationships Citing accounts of love drawn from literature film and real life Person focuses on the lover s internal soliloquy and external dialogue with the beloved that can develop over an individual s life An uplifting resource for people experiencing failing or unorthodox romances Dreams of Love and Fateful Encounters boldly takes on issues pertinent to lovers to professionals who encounter patients for whom key conflicts revolve around romantic love and to anyone who has struggled to understand the importance of romantic love in his or her own life Dreams of Subversion in Medieval Jewish Art and Literature ,1997 Europe s Jewish minority culture was subjected to a barrage of public images proclaiming the dominance of the Christian majority This book is the first to explore the Jewish response to this assault in the development of a visual culture through which Jews could affirmatively construct their identity as a people It demonstrates how medieval Jews gave voice to messages of protest and dreams of subversion by actively appropriating and transforming the quintessential symbols of the dominant culture

Memoirs Hans Jonas,2021-04 Jonas was a veritable intellectual celebrity in Germany owing to the runaway success of his 1979 book The Imperative of Responsibility an extra ordinarily timely work that mediates between humankind s enormous technological capacities and its diminished moral sensibilities The book became something of a cultural shibboleth Jonas himself became a celebrated public intellectual For Jonas this development must have been enormously gratifying In the 1920s Jonas studied philosophy with Edmund Husserl and Martin Heidegger at universities in Marburgh and Freiburg but the Nazi regime s early attempts to Aryanize the universities forced Jonas to leave Germany for London He emigrated to Palestine in 1935 and eventually enlisted in the British Army s Jewish Brigade to fight against Hitlerism Following the Israeli War of Independence in which he also fought he emigrated to the US and took a position at the New School for Social Research in New York He became part of a circle of friends around Hannah Arendt and Heinrich Blucher which included Adolph Lowe and Paul Tillich Because Jonas s life spanned nearly the entire twentieth century this memoir provides nuanced pictures of a host of important historical moments of German Jewry during the Weimar Republic of German Zionism of the Jewish emigrants in Palestine during the 1930s and 1940s and of German Jewish emigre intellectuals in New York In addition Jonas outlines the development of his work beginning with his studies under Husserl and Heidegger and extending through his later metaphysical speculations about God after Auschwitz

Traces of Dreams Haruo Shirane,1998 Basho 1644 94 is perhaps the best known Japanese poet in both Japan and the West and this book establishes the ground for badly needed critical discussion of this critical figure by placing the works of Basho and his disciples in the context of broader social change

Modern Trotting Sire Lines John Bradley,1997 A Faith for Skeptics John H. Heidt,2005 Setting Yourself Free to Believe We do not live in an age of disbelief but in an age of doubt After many years in the parish ministry John H Heidt has found that few people do not have some kind of belief in God But a great many peopleinside and outside the church are uneasy about believing too much or too strongly. They take all sorts of other things in life for granted but when it comes to religion they are skeptics. This book is written for all those who would like to believe in something definite but are afraid to do so. It does not try to argue anyone into belief but sets out to convince the reader that it is all right to believe and specifically to believe in the traditional teachings of Christianity. Dreams of the Rarebit Fiend Winsor McCay, 2013-04-23

This pioneering cartoon strip by the creator of Little Nemo transports readers to a captivating world of dreams and nightmares. A facsimile of the rare 1905 first edition it features 60 cartoon sequences. Dreams of a Patriot Oluneye Oluwole, 2011-10-11

The greatness of a nation is less a function of its physical geography than it is of the quality of its human content. Any nation can rise to great heights if it has within its borders men and women who will dare to dream and see a life beyond the limitations of the times in which they live. These are people who know that however dark and bleak the night may be there will be light at the break of dawn and are willing both to persevere through the long dark night and to help others do so. These men and women are those the world knows as patriots. In Dreams of a Patriot Oluneye Oluwole confronts the monstrous subject of leadership crisis in Nigeria not from the boring and tedious perspective of a political analyst but from the refreshing everyday angle of a common citizen who knows that a nation so great and so immensely endowed as Nigeria deserves more from her people. She lights a candle in the wind of our turbulent national experience and beckons on all who share in this dream of greatness to help shield its flickering flame from the extinguishing forces that have held her nation down all these years. In a subtle unobtrusive way it is an expression of the dreams and hopes of that pained and distressed patriot in every one of us. Dreams of Authority Ronald R. Thomas, 1990

Dreams in Chinese Fiction Johannes D. Kaminski, 2024-06-07

This book considers the contemporary political formula of the Chinese Dream in the light of the treatment of dreams in Chinese literary history since antiquity. Sinic literary and philosophical texts document an extensive spectrum of dream possibilities starting with Zhuangzi's eminent butterfly dream, an early example of the inversion of the dreamer's reality through to confusing visions of the spiritual realm. In classical dramas, novels, and ghost stories, dreams see the earthly realm enter into conflict with higher realms of existence. They indulge the dreamer's quest for sensual pleasures but then spiritual beings relentlessly harvest the dreamer's life energy. Dreams promise spiritual enlightenment only to abandon the dreamer in a state of utter confusion. In the early twentieth century, traditional dream knowledge is abandoned in favour of Freudian episodes of sexual repression. In this context, the collective national dream emerges as an unexpected vehicle of the pained individual's hope for national rejuvenation.
