Dreamworld And Catastrophe The Passing Of Mass Utopia In East And West Reprint Edition:

Urban Phantasmagorias Iulia Stătică, 2023-11-30 Urban Phantasmagorias examines the legacies of socialist housing in the city of Bucharest during the period of communist rule in Romania. The book explores the manner in which the socialist state reconfigured the city through concrete acts of demolition and construction as well as indirectly through legal frameworks aimed at the regulation of women's reproductive agency in an attempt to materialize its idea of modernity. It follows the effects of this state agenda with a focus on the period between 1965 and 1989 through an investigation of the transformations, representations, meanings and uses of domestic spaces. The book draws on Walter Benjamin's concept of phantasmagoria which provides a critical framework through which it articulates the dynamic relationship between ideology, architecture and everyday practices and reassesses their impact upon individual subjectivity and agency. The woman emerges as a central subject of the book upon whom the phantasmagoric effects of the socialist state's modernizing agenda have an acute impact at the level of lived domesticity and everyday life. Through a focus on the lived experiences of women, the book illuminates the prismatic effect of the state's infrastructural and legal intentions including the ways in which these were subverted through women's lived bodily experiences of the home. The book establishes both theoretically and through the concrete case of the city of Bucharest, the methodological significance of Benjamin's notion of phantasmagoria as an epistemological approach to a modern communist cityscape. Urban Phantasmagorias is an important contribution to scholarship in architectural history and theory, urban and gender studies and post socialist and Eastern European studies.

Creating Aztlán Dylan Miner, 2014-10-30 Creating Aztlán interrogates the important role of Aztlán in Chicano and Indigenous art and culture. Using the idea that lowriding is an Indigenous way of being, author Dylan A. T. Miner M. etis discusses the multiple roles that Aztlán has played at various moments in time, engaging pre-colonial indigeneities alongside colonial, modern and contemporary Xicano responses to colonization.

Theory of World Security Ken Booth, 2007-12-20 What is real? What can we know? How might we act? This book sets out to answer these fundamental philosophical questions in a radical and original theory of security for our times. Arguing that the concept of security in world politics has long been imprisoned by conservative thinking, Ken Booth explores security as a precious instrumental value which gives individuals and groups the opportunity to pursue the invention of humanity rather than live determined and diminished lives. Booth suggests that human society globally is facing a set of converging historical crises. He looks to critical social theory and radical international theory to develop a comprehensive framework for understanding the historical challenges facing global business as usual and for planning to reconstruct a more cosmopolitan future. Theory of World Security is a challenge both to well-established ways of thinking about security and alternative approaches within critical security studies.

Image Studies Sunil Manghani, 2013 Image Studies provides an engaging introduction to visual studies analysis and an account of existing and emergent visual culture debates along with chapters on a range of topics including consumer culture and identity.

photography and digital imaging painting and drawing the moving image the relationship between image and text including reference to text in art comics and animation and scientific imaging Written in an engaging and accessible way the text will also include extracts of existing critical materials Each chapter will include key set readings including short extracts from existing literatures with accompanying study notes and questions The chapters will also include a range of critical and creative tasks designed to bring the academic study of visual culture into direct contact with practical aspects of visual culture and image making Image Studies is a new text aimed predominantly at undergraduate students in visual culture but which will also be useful for media studies students and arts students more generally Wonderlands of the Avant-Garde

Julia Vaingurt, 2013-05-31 In postrevolutionary Russia as the Soviet government was initiating a program of rapid industrialization avant garde artists declared their intent to serve the nascent state and to transform life in accordance with their aesthetic designs In spite of their professed utilitarianism however most avant gardists created works that can hardly be regarded as practical instruments of societal transformation Exploring this paradox Vaingurt claims that the artists investment of technology with aesthetics prevented their creations from being fully conscripted into the arsenal of political hegemony The purposes of avant garde technologies she contends are contemplative rather than constructive Looking at Meyerhold s theater Tatlin s and Khlebnikov s architectural designs Mayakovsky s writings and other works from the period Vaingurt offers an innovative reading of an exceptionally complex moment in the formation of Soviet culture Senses of the Future Gerard Delanty, 2024-03-04 The future has become a problem for the present Almost every critical issue is now understood and experienced through the prism of the future since this is the primary focus for the playing out of crises Senses of the Future offers a wide ranging discussion of theories of the future It covers the main ideas of the future in modern thought and explores how we should view the future today in light of a plurality of very different and conflicting visions The key contribution of this book is to bring together the different approaches with an account that is grounded in sociological and philosophical analysis as opposed to visions of the future that are inspired by extreme visions of catastrophe or approaches that see the future as only the continuation of the present Given a revival of apocalyptic visions of the end times and dystopian views of the future of human societies there is urgent need for a new approach on how we should imagine the future The author explores the future as a field of tensions that is revealed in narratives utopian desires hope imaginaries and social struggles concerning the potential possibilities of the present the future does not just arrive it has to be fought for This book is an important contribution to a critical sociology of the future It is both a work of reconstruction and critique grounded in a historical and philosophical hermeneutics of the future As Radical as Reality Itself Matthew Beaumont, 2007 This collection of essays by a number of established scholars and artists proposes new directions for Marxist cultural theory and the criticism of modern visual culture It addresses a diverse range of topics including the state and revolution Communist and post Communist aesthetics Situationist thought and the avant garde subjectivity and commodification and the politics and problems of contemporary artistic practice The contributions also consider several other pressing questions in the visual arts from the practice of digital culture to appropriations of critical theory from the relations of art and the spectacle to architecture in the age of global modernity This book on Marxism and art is not offered in a spirit of nostalgia on the contrary it testifies to the continuing vitality and confidence of historical materialist thought in the field of cultural theory and practice in the 21st century Post-Yugoslav Constellations Vlad Beronja, Stijn

Vervaeke, 2016-01-15 Memory in the Balkans has often been described as binding authoritative and non negotiable functioning as a banner of war This book challenges such a one dimensional representation and offers a more nuanced analysis that accommodates frequently ignored instances of transnational solidarity dialogue communal mourning and working through a difficult past Exploring a broad range of memorial practices the book focuses on the ways in which cultural memory is mediated performed and critically reworked by literature and the arts in the former Yugoslavia Against the methodological nationalism of works that study Serbian Croatian or Bosniak culture as self contained this book examines post Yugoslav literature film visual culture and politicized art practices from a supranational angle Not solely focusing on traumatic memories but also exploring how post Yugoslav cultural practices mobilize memory for a politics of hope this volume moves beyond the trauma paradigm that still dominates memory studies In its scope and approach the book shows the relevance of the cultural memory of Eastern European citizens and the contribution they can offer to the building of Europe's shared cultural memory and transnational identity Artificial Hells Claire Bishop, 2012-07-24 This searing critique of participatory art from its development to its political ambitions is an essential title for contemporary art history scholars and students as well as anyone who has thought Now that's art or That's art Library Journal Since the 1990s critics and curators have broadly accepted the notion that participatory art is the ultimate political art that by encouraging an audience to take part an artist can promote new emancipatory social relations Around the world the champions of this form of expression are numerous ranging from art historians such as Grant Kester curators such as Nicolas Bourriaud and Nato Thompson to performance theorists such as Shannon Jackson Artificial Hells is the first historical and theoretical overview of socially engaged participatory art known in the US as social practice Claire Bishop follows the trajectory of twentieth century art and examines key moments in the development of a participatory aesthetic This itinerary takes in Futurism and Dada the Situationist International Happenings in Eastern Europe Argentina and Paris the 1970s Community Arts Movement and the Artists Placement Group It concludes with a discussion of long term educational projects by contemporary artists such as Thomas Hirschhorn Tania Bruguera Pawel Althamer and Paul Chan Since her controversial essay in Artforum in 2006 Claire Bishop has been one of the few to challenge the political and aesthetic ambitions of participatory art In Artificial Hells she not only scrutinizes the emancipatory claims made for these projects but also provides an alternative to the ethical rather than artistic criteria invited by such artworks Artificial Hells calls for a less prescriptive approach to art and politics and for more compelling troubling and bolder forms of participatory art and criticism Into the Cosmos James T. Andrews, Asif A. Siddiqi, 2011-09-25 The launch of the Sputnik satellite in October 1957 changed the course of human history In the span of a few years Soviets sent the first animal into space the first man and the first woman These events were a direct challenge to the United States and the capitalist model that claimed ownership of scientific aspiration and achievement The success of the space program captured the hopes and dreams of nearly every Soviet citizen and became a critical cultural vehicle in the country's emergence from Stalinism and the devastation of World War II It also proved to be an invaluable tool in a worldwide propaganda campaign for socialism a political system that could now seemingly accomplish anything it set its mind to Into the Cosmos shows us the fascinating interplay of Soviet politics science and culture during the Khrushchev era and how the space program became a binding force between these elements The chapters examine the ill fitted use of cosmonauts as propaganda props the manipulation of gender politics after Valentina Tereshkova's flight and the use of public interest in cosmology as a tool for promoting atheism Other chapters explore the dichotomy of promoting the space program while maintaining extreme secrecy over its operations space animals as media darlings the history of Russian space culture and the popularity of space themed memorabilia that celebrated Soviet achievement and planted the seeds of consumerism

Lost Unicorns of the Velvet Revolutions: Heterotopias of the Seminar Miglena Nikolchina, 2013 Concerned with the institution of the seminar a meeting for philosophical face to face oral discussion outside of the confines of Communist academia which evolved into social movements on the street in the Eastern Europe of the 1980s and 1990s The Republic of Color Michael Rossi, 2019-08-30 The Republic of Color delves deep into the history of color science in the United States to unearth its origins and examine the scope of its influence on the industrial transformation of turn of the century America For a nation in the grip of profound economic cultural and demographic crises the standardization of color became a means of social reform a way of sculpting the American population into one more amenable to the needs of the emerging industrial order Delineating color was also a way to characterize the vagaries of human nature and to create ideal structures through which those humans would act in a newly modern American republic Michael Rossi's compelling history goes far beyond the culture of the visual to show readers how the control and regulation of color shaped the social contours of modern America and redefined the way we see the world Stranded in the Present Peter Fritzsche, 2010-04-10 In this inventive book Peter Fritzsche explores how Europeans and Americans saw themselves in the drama of history how they took possession of a past thought to be slipping away and how they generated countless stories about the sorrowful eventful paths they chose to follow In the aftermath of the French Revolution contemporaries saw themselves as occupants of an utterly new period Increasingly disconnected from an irretrievable past worried about an unknown and dangerous future they described themselves as indisputably modern To be cast in the new time of the nineteenth century was to recognize the weird shapes of historical change to see landscapes scattered with ruins and to mourn the remains of a bygone era Tracing the scars of history writers and painters revolutionaries and exiles soldiers and widows and ordinary home dwellers took a passionate even flamboyant interest in the past They argued politics wrote diaries devoured memoirs and collected antiques all the time charting their private paths against the tremors of public life These nostalgic histories take place on battlefields trampled by Napoleon along bucolic English hedges against the fairytale silhouettes of the Grimms beloved Germany and in the newly constructed parlors of America s western territories This eloquent book takes a surprising completely original look at the modern age our possessions our heritage and our newly considered selves The Mental Life of the Architectural Historian Gevork

Hartoonian,2014-08-11 Starting with the question concerning the discursive formation of architectural history the chapters compiled in this book attempt to re read the historiography of early modern architecture from the point of view of the theoretical work produced since the post war era Central to the objectives of the argument are the ways in which firstly architectural history differs from the traditions of art history and secondly that the historical narrative works its autonomy through theoretical representation the discursive flow of which is interrupted by the historian s urge to support arguments with references to buildings texts drawings and historical events The historians discussed in this volume are those regularly addressed by most critics revisiting modern architectural history Individual chapters are dedicated to N Pevsner H R Hitchcock and S Giedion an economy of selection that is formative for a critical understanding of the canon established by these historians Themes such as periodization autonomy and time are discussed and the coda of the final chapter expands on the scope of critical historiography popularised by Kenneth Frampton and Manfredo Tafuri Dream Zones Jamie

Cross,2014-04-20 Dream Zones explores the dreamed of and desired futures that constitute sustain and disrupt capitalism in contemporary India Drawing on five years of research in and around India s Special Economic Zones SEZs the book follows the stories of regional politicians corporate executives rural farmers industrial workers and social activists to show how the pursuit of growth profit and development shapes the politics of industrialisation and liberalisation This book offers a timely reminder that the global economy is shaped by sentiment as much as reason and that un realised expectations are the grounds on which new hopes for the future are sown German Cinema in the Age of Neoliberalism Hester

Baer,2025-10-01 This book presents a new history of German film from 1980 2010 a period that witnessed rapid transformations including intensified globalization a restructured world economy geopolitical realignment and technological change all of which have affected cinema in fundamental ways Rethinking the conventional periodization of German film history Baer posits 1980 rather than 1989 as a crucial turning point for German cinema s embrace of a new market orientation and move away from the state sponsored film culture that characterized both DEFA and the New German Cinema Reading films from East West and post unification Germany together Baer argues that contemporary German cinema is characterized most strongly by its origins in and responses to advanced capitalism Informed by a feminist approach and in dialogue with prominent theories of contemporary film the book places a special focus on how German films make visible the neoliberal recasting of gender and national identities around the new millennium Cities and Cultures Malcolm Miles, 2007-04-26 Cities and Cultures is a critical account of the relations between contemporary cities and the cultures they produce and which in turn shape them The book questions received ideas of what constitutes a city's culture through case studies in which different kinds of culture the arts cultural institutions and heritage distinctive ways of life are seen to be differently used in or affected by the development of particular cities The book does not mask the complexity of this but explains it in ways accessible for undergraduates The book begins with introductory chapters on the concepts of a city and a culture the latter in the anthropological sense as well as denoting the arts citing cases from modern literature The book then moves from a critical account of cultural production in a metropolitan setting to the idea that a city too is produced through the characteristic ways of life of its inhabitants The cultural industries are scrutinised for their relation to such cultures as well as to city marketing and attention is given to the European Cities of Culture initiative and to the hybridity of contemporary urban cultures in a period of globalisation and migration In its penultimate chapter the book looks at incidental cultural forms and cultural means to identify formation and in its final chapter examines the permeability of urban cultures and cultural forms Sources are introduced positions clarified and contrasted and notes given for selective further reading Playing on the two meanings of culture Miles takes a unique approach by relating arguments around these meanings to specific cases of urban development today The book includes both critical comment on a range of literatures being a truly interdisciplinary study and the outcome of the author's field research into urban cultures Utopia Limited Marianne DeKoven, 2004-05-10 The end of the modern and the emergence of the postmodern in 1960s philosophy literature and popular culture The Jew, the Arab Gil Anidjar, 2003 This book argues that in Christian Europe the question of the enemy has for millennia been structured by the historical relation of Europe to both Arab and Jew It provides a philosophical understanding of the background of the current conflict in the Middle East No Social Science without Critical Theory Harry F. Dahms, 2008-06-16 Highlights the problematic nature of mainstream perspectives and the growing need to reaffirm how the specific kind of critique the early Frankfurt School theorists advocated is not less but far more important today This book also includes chapters that offer a broad and diverse look at social science and critical theory
