Dropouts In America Confronting The Graduation Rate Crisis:

Dropouts in America Gary Orfield, 2004 Only half of our nation's minority students graduate from high school Dropouts in America confronts the challenges facing urban schools as well as strategies to combat increasing high school dropout rates in the face of higher academic expectations Expanding the Reach of Education Reforms: Perspectives from Leaders in the Scale-Up of Educational Interventions Thomas K. Glennan, Susan J. Bodilly, Jolene Galegher, Kerri A.

Kerr, 2000-10-28 How does one spread a successful educational reform The essays here recount the authors' experiences with the scale up process Among their lessons are the importance of building the capacity to implement and sustain the reforms adjusting for local culture and policy ensuring quality control providing the necessary infrastructure and fostering a sense of ownership The process is iterative and complex and requires cooperation among many actors who must ensure that the results align with goals NCLB Meets School Realities Gail L. Sunderman, James S. Kim, Gary Orfield, 2005-06

A timely study on the implementation of NCLB in 6 states during the initial phase of the reform The authors' policy recommendations will be particularly useful to policy makers and practitioners in designing more effective strategies to improve schooling quality for the least advantaged children This book will be widely adopted in graduate courses in educational policy and intergovernmental relations Kenneth Wong Professor Peabody College Vanderbilt University This is an important topical book that provides a deep look at fundamental issues in the design and implementation of No Child Left Behind Richard F. Elmore Gregory Anrig Professor of Educational Leadership Harvard Graduate School of Education The well documented and thorough approach to collecting the data is a major strength The material fits with my experiences as a practicing principal This book can serve as a catalyst for quality conversation that is so drastically needed about how to make NCLB do what it is intended to do ensure that every child is successful Bonnie Tryon Principal Golding Elementary School Cobleskill NY Member 2002-2003 NAESP Board of Directors The essential guide to understanding NCLB The No Child Left Behind Act of 2001 is one of the biggest educational forces of our time So why is it one of the least understood NCLB Meets School Realities is an essential resource for educators wanting to explore and understand the issues raised by NCLB Based on original research of 11 districts across 6 states by The Civil Rights Project at Harvard University this text details how NCLB is put into practice the issues it raises and how it affects minority and low income students The authors look closely at the implications of increased federal involvement in education how states designed their accountability systems to meet the NCLB requirements and the implications of the adequate yearly progress provisions for schools and students They examine whether the transfer policy creates better schooling options for disadvantaged families the ability of districts to implement supplemental educational services and how teachers view the efficacy of NCLB's reforms They also review one provision graduate rate accountability in light of the national graduation rate crisis NCLB Meets School Realities includes Practical methods to understanding the political implications of NCLB A detailed look at how proficiency standards affect minority youth

High School Dropout, Graduation, and Completion Rates

National Academy of Education, National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Center for Education, Committee for Improved Measurement of High School Dropout and Completion Rates: Expert Guidance on Next Steps for Research and Policy Workshop, 2011-04-17 High school graduation and dropout rates have long been used as indicators of educational system productivity and effectiveness and of social and economic well being While determining these rates may seem like a straightforward task their calculation is in fact quite complicated How does one count a student who leaves a regular high school but later completes a GED How does one count a student who spends most of his her high school years at one school and then transfers to another If the student graduates which school should receive credit If the student drops out which school should take responsibility High School Dropout Graduation and Completion Rates addresses these issues and to examine 1 the strengths limitations accuracy and utility of the available dropout and completion measures 2 the state of the art with respect to longitudinal data systems and 3 ways that dropout and completion rates can be used to improve policy and practice

Cycles of Poverty and Crime in America's Inner Cities Lewis D. Solomon, 2018-02-06 Despite the best hopes of the past half century black urban pathologies persist in America The inner cities remain concentrations of the uneducated unemployed underemployed and unemployable Many fail to stay in school and others choose lives of drugs violence and crime Most do not marry leading to single parent households and children without a father figure The cycle repeats itself generation after generation It is easy to argue that nothing works given the policy failures of the past For Lewis D Solomon fatalism is not acceptable A complex and interrelated web of issues plague inner city black males joblessness the failure of public education crime mass incarceration and drugs the collapse of married two parent families and negative cultural messages Rather than abandon the black urban underclass Solomon presents strategies and programs to rebuild lives and revitalize America's inner cities These approaches are neither government oriented nor dependent on federal intervention and they are not futuristic Focusing on rehabilitative efforts Solomon describes workforce development prisoner reentry and the role of nonprofit organizations Solomon's strategies focus on the need to improve the quality of America's workforce through building human capital at the socioeconomic bottom The goal is to enable more people to fend for themselves thereby weaning them from dependency on public sector handouts Solomon shows a path forward for inner city black males

Latino Dropouts in Rural America Carolyn Hondo, Mary E. Gardiner, Yolanda Sapien, 2008-03-13 Latino high school students in rural communities talk about dropping out of school

Urban Youth and School Pushout Eve Tuck, 2012-03-15 A theoretically and empirically rich treatise on school push out Urban Youth and School Pushout illustrates urban public schooling as a dialectic of humiliating ironies and dangerous dignities

Educational Delusions? Gary Orfield, Erica Frankenberg, 2013-01-25 The first major battle over school choice came out of struggles over equalizing and integrating schools in the civil rights era when it became apparent that choice could be either a serious barrier or a significant tool for reaching these goals The second large and continuing movement for choice was part of the very different anti government individualistic market based movement of a more conservative period in which many of the lessons of that earlier period were forgotten though choice was once again presented as the answer to racial inequality This book brings civil rights back into the center of the debate and tries to move from doctrine to empirical research in exploring the many forms of choice and their very different consequences for equity in U S schools Leading researchers conclude that although helping minority children remains a central justification for choice proponents ignoring the essential civil rights dimensions of choice plans risks compounding rather than remedying racial inequality

A Case for Radical Pragmatic Leaders and Personalised Learning Schools Andrew Bills, 2020-06-23 Thousands of young people from disadvantaged backgrounds are forsaking education in secondary mainstream schools across Australia This book places a sociological and lived experience phenomenological lens on public policy that is working against school inclusion learning engagement and post school opportunity The school case studies provided here highlight the damage done and the opportunity for refreshed policy approaches to address this malaise Across the educational landscape there are a number of fine examples of schools that are choosing to do schooling against the grain of unhelpful regulatory policy that works to exclude many from their educational entitlement These schools and their practices are examined in this book and are presented as examples for policy learning If education systems learn to embrace an ongoing culture of research and inquiry where the evidence based and contextual learning experiences of students teachers and Principals are equally valued and heard in the policy realm the phenomenon of early school leaving can begin to turn around This work calls upon Principals in the first instance to become more radical and pragmatic in their leadership of schools collectively working with courage to ensure that the experience of schooling is personalised to the learning needs and career aspirations of all young people

Lessons in Integration Erica Frankenberg, Gary Orfield, 2007-11-29 Segregation is deepening in American schools as courts terminate desegregation plans residential segregation spreads the proportion of whites in the population falls and successful efforts to use choice for desegregation such as magnet schools are replaced by choice plans with no civil rights requirements Based on the fruits of a collaboration between the Civil Rights Project at Harvard University and the Southern Poverty Law Center the essays presented in Lessons in Integration Realizing the Promise of Racial Diversity in American Schools analyze five decades of experience with desegregation efforts in order to discover the factors accounting for successful educational experiences in an integrated setting Starting where much political activity and litigation as well as most previous scholarship leaves off this collection addresses the question of what to do and to avoid doing once classrooms are integrated in order to maximize the educational benefits of diversity for students from a wide array of backgrounds Rooted in substantive evidence that desegregation is a positive educational and social force that there were many successes as well as some failures in the desegregation movement and that students in segregated schools whether overwhelmingly minority or almost completely white are disadvantaged on some important educational and social dimensions when compared to their peers in well designed racially diverse schools this collection builds on but also goes beyond previous research in taking account of increasing racial and ethnic diversity that distinguishes present day American society from the one addressed by the Brown decision a half century ago In a society with more than 40 percent nonwhite students and thousands of suburban communities facing racial change it is critical to learn the lessons of experience and research regarding the effective operation of racially diverse and inclusive schools Lessons in Integration will make a significant contribution to knowledge about how to make integration work and as such it will have a positive effect on educational practice while providing much needed assistance to increasingly beleaguered proponents of integrated public education OECD Reviews of Vocational Education and Training: A Learning for Jobs Review of Norway 2008 Kuczera Malgorzata, Brunello Giorgio, Field Simon, Hoffman Nancy, 2008-10-30 This book is an OECD study of vocational education and training VET in Norway It is designed to help make their VET systems more responsive to labour market needs Critical Pedagogy for Social Justice
