Drunken Lovely Bird:

The Drunken Lovely Bird Sue Sinclair, 2004 Winner American Independent Publishers Poetry Prize Sue Sinclair writes in a lyrical tradition that subverts the stereotype of Canadian women's poetry while still playing with some if not all of the same poetic vocabulary. The Drunken Lovely Bird her accomplished third book of poetry confirms her reputation as one of Canada's most original young poets. A keen observer of the material world from the Newfoundland coast to the streets of Toronto she has a rare gift for epiphany for exposing the numinous in the commonplace. Her poems speak from that precise place where our perception of the world and our capacity for language meet and embrace where our sense of experience goes to get sharpened and refreshed. That experience might involve the inner lives of clouds the flourishing and passing of a tulip the evocative scent of wolf willow or the intricate arts of Bach and Virginia Woolf. Sinclair's poems are deft musical and quick in the moment alive to the sensuous surface and the meditative depth their antennae fully extended. They focus brilliantly on lively physical details yet they resonate with the subtle emotions that whisper at the edges of the everyday world. Meditative and beautifully crafted Sinclair's poems are simultaneously surprising and inevitable inviting readers to gaze more deeply into their surroundings and to rejoice in both the light and the dark.

Ferguson, 2010-10 Fool's Paradise is a blend of real events fiction fantasy mystery and incredible adventures that tells the life story of Bobby Ferguson aka Bobby McAllister from early childhood and a near death experience that delusionally introduces him to a spectral pirate who tells him about the mythical treasure ship The Prize. As if one ghost in his life is not enough a teenage McAllister meets an apparitional woman who not only re-enforces his belief in the existence of The Prize but convinces him of his destiny to locate the mysterious ship. Working for a corrupted politician a stint as a producer for a television station his chance meeting of an established and world famous treasure hunter and even a stretch in an Arizona prison all combine to put him out to sea in search of The Hacha del Oro a documented treasure ship that went down in a mighty hurricane off the coast of the Florida Keys over 250 years ago. In spite of all the adversity involved McAllister's experience on the Hacha Project proves to be successful and he confides to Granger Lawton his true quest is The Prize a treasure he fully expects the reluctant and leery Lawton to help him find. Determined to act as McAllister's Devil's advocate Lawton agrees to help in the search of The Prize. Their investigation takes them to Seville Spain the home of the Archives of the Indies and perhaps wherein lays the answers to the unsolved two hundred and fifty year old mystery. While touring the Spanish countryside McAllister comes across a dusty and deserted old mansion that contains one hundred year old evidence of the identity of the haunting apparition that has been McAllister's obsession since his teen age years The portrait of a beautiful woman distracts his pursuit of The Prize and sends him on what Lawton characterized as a wild goose chase up the Orinoco River in Venezuela On a regal yet struggling cattle ranch outside Ciudad Bolivar a gentleman rancher whose daughter steals McAllister's heart entertains McAllister and Lawton It is Lawton who stumbles on evidence of not only the existence of the The Prize but its actual location It takes McAllister however to finally locate the cargo she carried by carefully piecing together all of the clues evidence cryptic conditions of the island priestess and even the phantoms of his past to lead him to the treasure The Bottle; Or, the Drunkard's Career Gabriel Alexander, 1849 Ormsdal, 1895
