Riad El-Ghonemy, 2002-09-11 Affluence and Poverty in the Middle East is an introduction to the political economy of the Middle East focusing on its most salient features persistent poverty and extreme inequality El Ghonemy analyses the factors influencing the region including its unique historical religious and cultural mix as well as its economic foundations and forms of corruption For each factor he employs case studies drawn from throughout the region from Turkey to Sudan and Morocco to Iran In the final section El Ghomeny discusses possible solutions to the challenges facing the region including possible uses of a peace dividend and the role of democracy Reclaiming the Human Sciences and Humanities Through African Perspectives Helen Lauer,Kofi Anyidoho,2012 This compilation was inspired by an international symposium held on the Legon campus in September 2003 Hosted by the CODESRIA African Humanities Institute Programme the symposium had the theme Canonical Works and Continuing Innovation in African Arts Humanities The Historical Origin of the African Economic Crisis Alemayehu Geda,2019-02-13 This book illuminates the answers to various major questions on African development related to international trade and finance It explores the economic interaction between Africa and the now developed countries the West in the past and China today as well as the legacy of these interactions for Africa s growth and poverty reduction effort today In addition it discusses the implication of this legacy for Africa s future development and considers whether lessons can be drawn from this experience in terms of the continent s future development By providing in depth historical and economic analysis conducted in non technical terms the book represents a valuable resource for policy makers researchers and students as well as international organizations that focus on African development Globalization and North East India Bimal J. Deb,Keya Sengupta,B. Datta-Ray,2008 Contributed papers presented at a national seminar organized by North East India Council of Social Science Research in Shillong India An Assault on Poverty United Nations Commission on Science and Technology for Development. Panel on Technology for Basic Needs,International Development Research Centre (Canada),1997 Does science and technology S T truly have a part to play in meeting basic human needs Can S T help the world s communities secure adequate nutrition health care water sanitary facilities and access to education and information The role of science and technology in development is certainly one of the most complex and delicate issues facing policymakers and development practitioners today In An Assault on Poverty the Panel on Technology for Basic Needs of the United Nations Commission on Science and Technology for Development offers analyses of poverty eradication and the role of S T International Development and the Social Sciences Frederick Cooper,Randall M. Packard,1997 This superb collection assembles a number of stimulating and theoretically current contributions by outstanding scholars Angelique Haugerud author of The Culture of Politics in Modern Kenya New Multinational Enterprises from Korea and Taiwan Roger van Hoesel,2013-01-11 This volume represents the first substantive study of emerging multinationals MNEs from Asian economies drawing on the unique experiences of South Korea and Taiwan Combining an econometric investigation with detailed case studies of leading Korean and Taiwanese electronics companies it aims to demystify the nature and theoretical implications of these dynamic economic regions The author argues that many of these new multinationals do not possess the characteristics typically ascribed to MNEs such as technological leadership strong marketing positions or advanced managerial capabilities This is highlighted by documentation of recent developments in outward investment from Korea and Taiwan at both micro and macro level The implications of the recent Asian crisis for the internationalization of Korean and Taiwanese firms are also explored Bulliet the Earth and Its Peoples Volume Two, Third Edition with Handbook Bulliet,2005-11 China's 40 Years of Economic Reform and Development Xinli Zheng,2018-10-12 This book aims to explain the secret to China's rapid growth over the last 40 years from the viewpoint of a firsthand witness Zheng Xinli was enrolled as a graduate student of economics 40 years ago at a time when very few Chinese people could enroll in higher level education let alone graduate school Since 1978 he has been engaged in the study of macroeconomic theory and economic policy He has worked with the economic group of the Research Section of the Secretariat of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of China the State Information Center and the Policy Research Office of the State Planning Commission as well as other organizations His work serves to help Chinese leaders in making economic decisions In 2013 Zheng Xinli appeared on the list of China's Top Ten Economists With the addition of several up to date articles this book is mainly a condensed version of a 16 volume collection of essays selected from among the more than 500 articles published by Zheng between 1981 and 2016 Addressing some of the major issues in China namely Reform and Development Development Patterns Macro Regulation Balanced Urban and Rural Development Innovation and Industry Revitalization the book as Zheng himself puts it visualizes the birth process of different policies and measures which have catered to the different stages of reform As an insider and also partly as a designer and architect Zheng Xinli provides readers with a view of China's reform from the top A World of Difference,1991 Economic Lessons from China's Forty Years of Reform and Opening-up David Daokui Li,2021-03-26 This book first shows that the past 40 years of China's economic reform and opening up represents the greatest magnitude of economic growth in history Based on field trips extensive and intensive interviews and literature surveys this book argues that there are five general lessons for a rapid growing economy from China's economic reform and opening up all in the area of the relationship between the government and the economy First the local governments need to be incentivized to help rapid entry and development of enterprises Second local governments need to be incentivized to help rapid land conversion from agricultural to non agricultural Third financial deepening is vital that is inducing households to hold more and more financial assets in local currency Financial deepening is essential to convert savings into investments This requires financial stability which is crucial Fourth the learning through opening up is the key to endogenous economic growth The fundamental benefit of opening up is learning rather than enjoying comparative advantage The fifth and final lesson from China is that the central government must proactively manage the macroeconomy The rationale is that enterprises compete with each other in games of industrial organization In order to resolve this problem proactive measures including market oriented means administrative orders and reform measures should be implemented Overall the main lesson from China s past 40 years of reform and opening up is that proper incentives and behavior of the government local and central are important for economic growth China has been conducting reforms in this regard and as a result the government more or less has been playing the role of a helping hand regarding economic growth although China s economic system is far from perfect and many reforms are still needed

Democracy and Development R.C. Bhardwaj,K. Vijayakrishnan,2018-10-26 Published in 1998 The question of whether democracy and development are allies or adversaries has long been debated and with the triumph of the democratic spirit worldwide the relationship between democracy and development has once again come to attract much attention globally The collapse of the Soviet Union and the developments in Eastern Europe led to considerable rethinking in political circles on the efficacy of the economic policies pursued in those countries and the long term viability of political systems prevalent there Elsewhere several newly industrialized countries are striving to consolidate their gains though there are differing perceptions of whether their politics conform to the classical framework of democracy or not In a remarkable turn around some other countries have initiated measures for economic reforms and structural adjustment setting aside their earlier approaches towards economic management In short the last decades of this millennium have witnessed meaningful efforts worldwide on forging a new partnership between democracy and development In February 1996 the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association jointly organized a conference entitled Parliamentary Democracy and Development Allies or Adversaries with the Wilton Park an international agency of the British Commonwealth and Foreign Office in Wilton House West Sussex United Kingdom The week long conference brought together parliamentarians diplomats administrators political scientists economists and specialists from all over the world The participants shared their views and experiences on diverse aspects of the main theme This publication presents an essentially parliamentary perspective on the correlation between democracy and development based on the discussions at the Wilton Park conference and in the light of current thinking on the subject matter

Eastern Africa Social Science Research Review ,2003 Globalization and Economic Development Servaas Storm,C. W. M. Naastepad,2001 Globalization is widely regarded as a means not only of ensuring efficiency and growth but also of achieving equity and development for those countries operating in the global economy The book argues that this perception of globalization as the road to development has lost its lustre The experience of the 1990s belied expectation of the gains such as faster growth and reduced poverty which could be achieved through closer integration in the world economy The authors demonstrate that the downside of globalization for developing countries has proved to be far greater than is generally accepted Based on empirical facts and sound economic reasoning they arrive at a non conventional interpretation of the impact of globalisation on the development process of poor countries and propose policy alternatives to the standard Washington consensus On the external front they find that developing countries need to actively manage their integration into the global economy if they are to overcome the imbalances and instabilities associated with international flows of goods and capital and be capable of pursuing broad based and equitable economic development Domestically they show that such development can often be achieved by deviating from rather than adhering to the Washington consensus fiscal and other policy norms The distinguished group of contributors have produced a provocative book which is a substantial contribution to the debate on globalization It will appeal to development economists in particular and economists in general who like to question contemporary economic reasoning Nepal's Failed Development
