Ages And Days In Cyprus Studies In Mediterranean Archaeology Pocketbooks:

Mortuary Ritual and Society in Bronze Age Cyprus Priscilla Keswani, 2004 A ground breaking investigation of burial practices and social transformations in the era when Cypriot agricultural communities moved from village to urban life and became major players in the eastern Mediterranean copper trade The author develops an innovative theoretical and methodological approach that enables her to define and elucidate the shifting spatial relationships between tombs and habitation areas the elaboration of rituals involving secondary treatment and collective burial and changing patterns of mortuary expenditure and symbolism throughout the Bronze Age Keswani proposes that during the Early Middle Bronze periods the growing elaboration of mortuary festivities and their crucial importance in negotiating status hierarchies contributed to the intensification of Cypriot copper production and the expansion of interregional exchange relations Subsequent changes in mortuary practice suggest that the importance of collective burial rites and traditional modes of ritual display diminished over the course of the Late Bronze Age as urban institutions multiplied and the bases of social prestige were transformed

Provenience Studies and Bronze Age Cyprus Arthur Bernard Knapp, John F. Cherry, 1994 In the archaeological reconstruction of prehistoric production and exchange systems the use of provenience techniques has assumed a high profile The primary aim of such archaeometric work has been the objective identification of non local materials and the isolation or elimination of specific stone metal or clay sources However the important step of specifying and examining critically the relationships between archaeological data human action analytical results and cultural interpretation has seldom been taken

"The Fantastic Years on Cyprus" Paul Åström, 1994 Cyprus in the Long Late Antiquity Panayiotis Panayides, Ine Jacobs, 2023-01-24 Cyprus was a thriving and densely populated late antique province Contrary to what used to be thought the Arab raids of the mid seventh century did not abruptly bring the island's prosperity to an end Recent research instead highlights long lasting continuity in both urban and rural contexts This volume brings together historians and archaeologists working on diverse aspects of Cyprus between the sixth and eighth centuries They discuss topics as varied as rural prosperity urban endurance artisanal production civic and private religion and maritime connectivity The role of the imperial administration and of the Church is touched upon in several contributions Other articles place Cyprus back into its wider Mediterranean context Together they produce a comprehensive impression of the quality of life on the island in the long late antiquity

The Transport Amphorae and Trade of Cyprus Mark L. Lawall, John Lund, 2013-12-31 Placed as a stepping stone on the sea route between Europe and the New East Cyprus has always been a meeting place of many cultures Though rarely united politically through many millennia of history and for extended periods subject to foreign rule the island nonetheless managed to maintain specific and unique identities This publication seeks to throw new light on important aspects of the economy of Cyprus between c 700 BC and AD 700 through a concerted study of the transport amphorae found in and around the island These standardised containers of fired clay were commonly used for shipping foodstuffs from their places of production to the consumers in antiquity Completely preserved or found only in fragments such vessels are a prime source of information about the island's exports and imports of agricultural products and ultimately about the fluctuations in the economy of Cyprus through a crucial millennium and a half of her history The jars thus contribute both to our understanding of the changing intensities of Cypriot connections with other centres around the Mediterranean and to the documentation of regional patterning within the island itself

A Study of the Circulation of Ceramics in Cyprus from the 3rd Century BC to the 3rd Century AD John Lund, 2015-10-26 This is the first monograph devoted solely to the ceramics of Cyprus in the Hellenistic and Roman Periods The island was by then no longer divided into kingdoms but unified politically first under Ptolemaic Egypt and later as a province in the Roman Empire Submission to foreign rule was previously thought to have diluted if not obliterated the time honoured distinctive Cypriot character The ceramic evidence suggests otherwise The distribution of local and imported pottery in Cyprus points to the existence of several regional exchange networks a division that also seems reflected by other evidence The similarities in material culture exchange patterns and preferential practices are suggestive of a certain level of regional collective self awareness From the 1st century BC onwards Cyprus became increasingly engulfed by mass produced and standardized ceramic fine wares which seem ultimately to have put many of the indigenous makers of similar products out of business or forced them to modify their output Also the ceramic record gradually became less diverse during the Roman Period than before developments which we today might be inclined to view as symptoms of an early form of globalisation

The Development of the Cypriot Economy Vassos Karageorghis, Dēmētrēs Michaēlidēs, 1996

Globalization and Transculturality from Antiquity to the Pre-Modern World Serena Autiero, Matthew Adam Cobb, 2021-09-30 This book explores how globalization and transculturality are useful theoretical tools for studying pre modern societies and their long distance connections Among the themes explored are how these concepts can enhance our understanding of trade networks the spread of religions the diffusion of global fashions the migration of technologies public and private initiatives and wider cultural changes In this book archaeologists and ancient historians demonstrate how in diverse contexts from the Bronze Age to colonial times humanity displayed an urge and an incredible capacity to connect with distant lands and people Adopting and modifying approaches originally developed for the study of contemporary societies it is possible to enhance our understanding of the human past not only in economic terms but also the cultural significance of such interconnections This book provides both the wider public and the specialist reader with a fresh point of view on global issues relating to the past in turn allowing us to look anew at developments in the contemporary world Its large chronological and geographical scope should prove appealing to those who want more than mere Eurocentric history Teachers and students of world history and archaeology will find this book a useful resource

Exploring the Materiality of Food 'Stuff' Louise Steel, Katharina Zinn, 2016-11-10 From remote antiquity to contemporary contexts food and the stuff of food remains central to people's daily experiences as well as their sense and expression of identity This volume explores the materiality of foodstuffs past and present examining humanity's intriguingly complex relationships with and experiences of food The book also makes a fresh contribution to our understanding of materiality through a novel focus on material culture analysing objects used to prepare wrap serve and consume food and the tactile experiences involved in its production and consumption Considering a wide range of cultures spanning from ancient China to modern day Kenya this broad collection of interdisciplinary chapters reveal the multiple interplays between foods bodies material worlds rituals and embodied knowledge that emerge from these encounters and which in turn shape the material culture of food Exploring the Materiality of Food Stuff makes an important contribution to this burgeoning field and will be of interest to archaeologists and anthropologists working in the key area of food research

Studies in Aegean Chronology Paul Åström, Leonard Robert Palmer, Leon Pomerance, 1984 "1200 v. Chr." Tobias Mühlenbruch, 2021-08-27 In die Jahrzehnte um 1200 v Chr fällt einer der bedeutendsten Einschnitte in der Ur und Frühgeschichte zwischen Mitteleuropa und der ostmediterranen Welt Zerstörungen in der Levante werden mit den Seevölkern verbunden die unter Pharao Ramses III besiegt wurden Auch auf Zypern und in Kilikien gab es Zerstörungen ebenfalls durch die Seevölker Das hethitische Großreich brach zusammen das mykenische Palastsystem endete Von der mittleren Donau breiteten sich die Urnenfelderkulturen auf dem Balkan nach West und Mitteleuropa sowie auf die Apenninhalbinsel aus Mehrere ihrer Elemente wurden früh auch im Ostmittellerraum nachgewiesen weshalb auf eine Urnenfelderwanderung in die Gegend und darüber hinaus geschlossen wurde Dieses Modell ist allerdings nur noch forschungsgeschichtlich relevant Vielmehr ergibt eine detaillierte nach Regionen differenzierte Analyse der archaischen Quellen da sich die Ausprägungen der kulturellen Wandlungen zwischen Ägypten und dem südlichen Mitteleuropa zwischen dem 14 und dem 12-11 Jahrhundert v Chr deutlich unterschieden und bedeutende Veränderungen in einen größeren Zeitraum fielen als lediglich in die Jahre um 1200 v Chr selbst The Mycenaean Settlement on Tsoungiza Hill Mary K. Dabney, James C. Wright, 2020-12-04 A hill dominating the Nemea Valley Tsoungiza is located only 10 kilometers northwest of the citadel of Mycenae Excavations there have uncovered the remains of a Late Helladic settlement that stood at its southern end This volume presents the results of these investigations with an unprecedented study of a small settlement's economy and society in the Mycenaean period Through an interdisciplinary approach that incorporates a wide variety of general and specialist studies the authors demonstrate how agricultural production craft activities and ceremonial practices integrated the inhabitants of Tsoungiza into a regional exchange system within the Bronze Age world The volume includes contributions by P Acheson S E Allen K M Forster P Halstead S M A Hoffmann A Karabatsoli K Kaza Papageorgiou B Lis R Mersereau H Mommsen J B Rutter T Theodoropoulou and J E Tomlinson SOMA 2002 Ann Brysbaert, 2003 The 2002 Symposium on Mediterranean Archaeology brought together a number of postgraduate students researching a broad range of topics on the archaeology of the Mediterranean area from prehistory to the modern period This volume presents twenty contributions from the workshop

Parkinson,2007-12-31 This revised and expanded edition of the classic 1999 edited book includes all the chapters from the original volume plus a new updated introduction and several new chapters The current book is an up to date review of research into Mycenaean palatial systems with chapters by archaeologists and Linear B specialists that will be useful to scholars instructors and advanced students This book aims to define more accurately the term palace in light of both recent archaeological research in the Aegean and current anthropological thinking on the structure and origin of early states Regional centers do not exist as independent entities They articulate with more extensive sociopolitical systems The concept of palace needs to be incorporated into enhanced models of Mycenaean state organization ones that more completely integrate primary centers with networks of regional settlement and economy The George C.
