Aging As A Social Process Canadian Ed:

Diversity and Aging Among Immigrant Seniors in Canada Douglas Durst, Michael MacLean, 2010-01-01 Historically Canada has been a nation of immigrants with 16 20% of its citizens being foreign born Most immigrant research addresses the issues of integration and adjustment of young and adult immigrants with little work on aging There are numerous books on immigrants and books on aging but there are few that have considered the topics of both diversity and aging Diversity and Aging among Immigrant Seniors in Canada breaks from that tradition and offers an eclectic collection of original research from among Canada's leading researchers on aging and immigrants Some researchers refer to this emerging field as Ethno gerontology There are two interesting groups of immigrant seniors those who entered Canada at over 65 years of age and those who aged in Canada Most Canadians are surprised to learn that the senior population of seniors has a higher percentage of immigrants 19 6% than the general population 13 7% As Canadians age the country's composition of immigrant seniors has also changed from mainly European to greater cultural and ethnic diversity from Africa and Asia This cultural and ethnic diversity has social health economic policy implications and impacts on programs and services delivered to seniors Diversity and Aging among Immigrant Seniors in Canada is divided into two main sections In Part 1 the chapters explore general and universal issues such as national trends and demographics theoretical orientations issues of culture and legal dimensions poverty and income and end of life care In Part 2 the chapters examine issues pertaining to specific ethnic groups For example there are chapters on the social well being of Chinese immigrants determinants of mental health for Iranian seniors family dynamics for aging Haitian elders and emerging issues for Punjabi families Diversity and Aging among Immigrant Seniors in Canada offers both breadth and depth to the topic of aging among immigrants and is a must read for social work and health care professionals students in health and social services policy and program planners and families of aging immigrants It is written in a language that crosses disciplines shedding professional jargon making it an informative and engaging read for professionals researchers and the general public Aging as a Social Process Barry D. Resilience and Aging Andrew V. Wister, Theodore D. Cosco, 2021-01-04 Older aged adults face many adversities over the later life course This edited volume will address the ways in which seniors bounce back from different types and combinations of adversity termed resilience While research has been accumulating that identifies inherent abilities and external resources needed to adapt and navigate stress inducing experiences among aging and older adults gaps remain in understanding the unique elements and processes of resilience A series of chapters included in this book will address several overarching questions why do some older individuals families communities adapt to adversity better than others what are modifiable behavioral protective risk factors related to resilience and how can we foster resilience at the individual community level and which approaches show the most promise The spectrum of aging related challenges and responses addressed in this book include mental health physical functional health problems multimorbidity socio economic deprivation social isolation and loneliness cultural dimensions of loneliness housing homelessness problems and environmental disasters This book presents cutting edge science at the conceptual methodological empirical and practice levels applied to emerging resilience sub fields in gerontology It will also present potential areas of future research policy and practice linked to these areas During a period of the most rapid population aging in the US Canada and many other nations coupled with heightened global socio political change extending our knowledge of resilience will help society to make important adjustments to maximize health and wellness of older individuals Supporting and enhancing resilience through technological social and or community level advances in geroscience will help those facing adversity to thrive by harnessing stretching and leveraging a wide array of potential resources The promotion of healthier older populations has far reaching consequences for health care and social community support systems both in terms of public health including pandemic response and the development and implementation of innovations in treatment and practice guidelines The Self and Society in Aging Processes Carol D. Ryff, PhD, Victor W. Marshall, PhD, 1999-06-23 This volume focuses on the experience of growing old as it is linked to societal factors Ryff and Marshall construct this macro view of aging in society by bridging disciplines and brining together contributors from all the social sciences The book is organized into three sections theoretical perspectives socioeconomic structures and contexts of self and society Leading psychologists anthropologists gerontologists and sociologists present theoretical and empirical advances that forge links between the individual and the social aspects of aging It is must reading for researchers in all gerontologic specialties and a valuable text for graduate courses in human development psychology of aging and other social aspects of aging Ageing, Wellbeing and Climate Change in the Arctic Paivi Naskali, Marjaana Seppänen, Shahnaj Begum, 2015-11-19 The Arctic and its unique natural resources have become objects of increasing concern Rapid climate change and ageing of the population are transforming the living conditions in the region This translates into an urgent need for information that will contribute to a better understanding of these issues Ageing Wellbeing and Climate Change in the Arctic addresses the important intersection of ageing wellbeing and climate change in the Arctic region making a key interdisciplinary contribution to an area of research on which little has been written and limited sources of information are currently available The book explores three key areas of discussion First various political issues that are currently affecting the Arctic such as the social categorisation of elderly people Second the living conditions of the elderly in relation to Arctic climate change Third the wellbeing of elderly people in terms of traditional knowledge and lifestyles The book also features contributions from a number of key researchers in the field which examine a broad range of case studies including the impact of climate change on health in Lapland and elderly people and geographical mobility in Norway This book will be of great interest to scholars of climate change gerontology and social policy Elder Abuse and Mistreatment Joanna Mellor, Patricia Brownell, 2013-04-15 Provide the most effective service possible to help victims of this growing social problem Elder Abuse and Mistreatment is a comprehensive overview of current policy issues new practice models and up to date research on elder abuse and neglect Experts in the field provide insight into elder abuse with newly examined populations to create an understanding of how to design service plans for victims of abuse and family mistreatment The book addresses all forms of abuse and neglect examining the value issues and ethical dilemmas that social workers face in providing service to elderly abuse victims and their families Elder abuse and neglect is a social problem of increasing concern to policymakers practitioners and researchers in the United States and around the world Elder Abuse and Mistreatment incorporates health mental health and social service perspectives that assist social work and health care professionals with interdisciplinary teamwork The book examines the Elder Justice Act the Madrid 2002 International Plan of Action on Ageing new and emerging practice modalities and international models such as shelter programs and support groups and the latest research on practice methods elder abuse with special populations and interventions with victim abuse dyads Topics examined in Elder Abuse and Mistreatment include abuse reporting statutes the roles of agencies involved in abuse investigations service commonly needed by victims funding sources common impediments to service delivery adult protective services APS local state and federal policies social and economic inclusion self determination long term care and nursing homes consumer fraud and financial abuse dependency and compliance and much more Elder Abuse and Mistreatment Policy Practice and Research is an essential resource for educators and students of social work nursing and public health and for social work practitioners Work and Caring for the Elderly Viola M. Lechner, Margaret B. Neal, 1999 Work and Caring for the Elderly directly addresses the pressing issues of this worldwide dilemma by examining how 11 geographically dispersed countries in various stages of economic and social development are responding to this challenging problem Health in Rural Canada Judith C. Kulig, Allison M. Williams, 2011-12-06 Health research in Canada has mostly focused on urban areas often overlooking the unique issues faced by Canadians living in rural and remote areas This volume provides the first comprehensive overview of the state of rural health and health care in Canada from coast to coast and in northern communities Three themes are highlighted rural places matter to health rural places are unique and rural places are dynamic The contributors bring insights and methodologies from nursing social work geography epidemiology and sociology and from community based research to a full spectrum of topics health literacy rural health care delivery and training Aboriginal health web based services and their application rural palliative care and rural health research and policy Taken together these wide ranging and multifaceted explorations of the dynamic relationship between health and place offer researchers and policy makers students and practitioners a valuable resource for understanding the special ever changing needs of rural communities Insights in Aging and Public Health: 2022 Marcia G. Ory, Matthew Lee Smith, 2023-10-27 This collection is part of a recurrent series Insights in Aging and Public Health 2021 Our global society is changing Now in the third decade of the 21st Century the achievements made by scientists have led to major advancements in the fast growing field of Aging and Public Health As indicated by the United Nations Declaration of the Decade of Healthy Aging 2021 2030 there is global interest in understanding determinants of healthy aging and strategies to improve the lives of older people their families and the communities in which they live As such the field of public health and aging must constantly evolve and adapt alongside the ongoing changes in population growth and demographics social and physical environments and policy and other drivers of health related costs Further the indicators of risk and markers of success have assumed new meaning as new societal needs challenges Aging in Canadian Society Maureen Baker,1988 Contesting Elder Abuse and Neglect Joan R. Harbison, 2016-12-23 The mistreatment of older people is categorized in many societies as elder abuse and neglect yet the concept has not been subjected to rigorous critical inquiry Instead it has most often represented the interests of professionals academics and governments while policy makers and researchers frequently overlook or disregard the complexity of issues that fall under this designation Contesting Elder Abuse and Neglect questions existing understandings about the mistreatment of older people It explores how and why the designation elder abuse and neglect came to be and shows how this term masks problems concerning the mistreatment of older people their place in society and how they see themselves Joan R Harbison and her colleagues expose how supposed solutions to the problem of abuse can take their toll on those people they were originally intended to protect The book is an important contribution to the literature that encourages new thinking about issues concerning the mistreatment of older people Cruel but Not Unusual Ramona Alaggia, Cathy Vine, 2013-05-21 Violence in families and intimate relationships affects a significant proportion of the population from very young children to the elderly with far reaching and often devastating consequences Cruel but Not Unusual draws on the expertise of scholars and practitioners to present readers with the latest research and thinking about the history conditions and impact of violence in these contexts For this new edition chapters have been updated to reflect changes in data and legislation New chapters include an examination of trauma from a neurobiological perspective a critical analysis of the gender symmetry debate a debate that questions the gendered nature of intimate violence and an essay on the history and evolution of the women's movement dedicated to addressing violence against women which advances theoretical developments that remind readers of the breadth of inclusivity that should be at the heart of working in this field Aging as a Social Process Barry D. McPherson, 2004 Aging as a Social Process Canadian Perspectices is the most comprehensive and up to date survey of the topic in Canada Employing a variety of theoretical and methodological approaches it explains why aging is not just a biological process but also a complex social one Each chaper has been rewritten and upadted to include 2001 Census data and this fourth edition includes even more made in Canada material than its predecessor
