Aging Gender In Literature Studies In Creativity:

Ageing, Gender, and Illness in Anglophone Literature Heike Hartung, 2015-12-07 This study establishes age as a category of literary history delineating age in its interaction with gender and narrative genre Based on the historical premise that the view of ageing as a burden emerges as a specific narrative in the late eighteenth century the study highlights how the changing experience of ageing is shaped by that of gender By reading the Bildungsroman as a coming of age novel the book asks how the telling of a life in time affects individual age narratives Bringing together the different perspectives of age and disability studies the book argues that illness is already an important issue in the Bildungsroman's narratives of ageing This theoretical stance provides new interpretations of canonical novels visiting authors such as Johann Wolfgang Goethe Frances Burney Maria Edgeworth Jane Austen Charles Dickens George Eliot Samuel Beckett and Jonathan Franzen Drawing on the link between age and illness in the Bildungsroman's age narratives the genre of dementia narrative is presented as one of the directions which the Bildungsroman takes after its classical period Applying these theoretical perspectives to canonical novels of the nineteenth century and to the new genre of dementia narrative the volume also provides new insights into literary and genre history This book introduces a new theoretical approach to cultural age studies and offers a comprehensive analysis of the connection between narratology literary theory gender and age studies

King, 2012-11-13 This book explores the way older women are represented in society Through close readings of novels by major 20th century novelists compared with the more dominant representations of female ageing to be found in popular culture it suggests that they offer a feminist understanding of the invisible woman sometimes lacking in feminism itself

Modernist Poetics of Ageing Jade Elizabeth French, 2025-01-12 What happens when the modern woman ages Modernist Poetics of Ageing answers this question by being the first book length study of three late modernist women's writers Drawing on their place within wider modernist networks this monograph is primarily framed around work by Mina Loy H D and Djuna Barnes who are often thought of as the quintessentially youthful modern woman of the 1920s Taking a literary ageing studies and cultural criticism approach this monograph focuses on lived experience as well as thematic representations of ageing in their work to examine how each author grew older in the years

1940 1982 By surveying literary texts visual art photography life writing and archival material this book explores the intersection of old age as lived and as well as written to argue that modernist late writing embodies the realities of ageing and transforms them through avant garde aesthetics As an interdisciplinary study this work pairs ageing studies and modernist studies to innovatively consider experimental works written about and in later life The book suggests that a focus on older age complicates the very avant garde or modernist aesthetics that each author was interested in what happens when the scene of the new is populated by older people How does an embodied experience of illness inform an aesthetics of late style After fulfilling their role as the youthful modern woman of the 1920s how did each artist continue to create rich avant garde works that go well beyond the paradigms of late modernism Modernist Poetics of Ageing argues that the late lives of some of modernism s most prominent and networked women writers are overlooked despite being rich vital and contemporary in their continuing commitment to modernist experiment By reframing these older modernist women writers as engaged in continuing creative experiments Modernist Poetics of Ageing reveals that the new does not always have to be young

Joseph Straus,2024-08-23 Operating largely within the world of European American classical music this book discusses the creative work of old musicians composers performers listeners and scholars and how those forms of music making are received and understood Like everything else about old age music making is usually understood as a decline from a former height a deficiency with respect to a youthful standard Against this ageist mythology this book argues that composing oldly performing oldly and listening oldly are distinctive and valuable ways of making music a difference not a deficit to be celebrated not ignored or condemned Instead of the usual biomedical or gerontological understanding of old age with its focus on bodily cognitive and sensory decline this book follows Age Studies in seeing old age through a cultural lens as something created and understood in culture This book seeks to identify the ways that old musicians composers performers listeners and scholars accept resist adapt and transform the cultural scripts for the performance of old age Musicking oldly making music in old age often represents an attempt to rewrite ageist cultural scripts and to find ways of flourishing musically in a largely hostile landscape

Whitbourne, 2016-01-19 This authoritative reference work contains more than 300 entries covering all aspects of the multi disciplinary field of adult development and aging Brings together concise accurate summaries of classic topics as well as the most recent thinking and research in new areas Covers a broad range of issues from biological and physiological changes in the body to changes in cognition personality and social roles to applied areas such as psychotherapy long term care and end of life issues Includes contributions from major researchers in the academic and clinical realms 3 Volumes www.encyclopediaadulthoodandaging.com Modernist Short Fiction by Women Claire Drewery, 2016-04-15 Taking on the neglected issue of the short story's relationship to literary Modernism Claire Drewery examines works by Katherine Mansfield Dorothy Richardson May Sinclair and Virginia Woolf Drewery argues that the short story as a genre is preoccupied with transgressing boundaries and thus offers an ideal platform from which to examine the Modernist fascination with the liminal Embodying both liberation and restriction liminal spaces on the one hand enable challenges to traditional cultural and personal identities while on the other hand they entail the inevitable negative consequences of occupying the position of the outsider marginality psychosis and death Mansfield Richardson Sinclair and Woolf all exploit this paradox in their short fiction which typically explores literal and psychological borderline states that are resistant to rational analysis Thus their short stories offered these authors an opportunity to represent the borders of unconsciousness and to articulate meaning while also conveying a sense of that which is unsayable Through their concern with liminality Drewery shows these writers contribute significantly to the Modernist aesthetic that interrogates identity the construction of the self and the relationship between the individual and society Aging and Old-Age Style in Günter Grass, Ruth Klüger, Christa Wolf, and Martin Walser Stuart Taberner, 2013 Explores the performance of aging in the late style of Günter Grass Ruth Klüger Christa Wolf and Martin Walser Demographers say that by the year 2060 every seventh person in Germany will be aged eighty or older and every third person over sixty five The prediction for other Western countries is scarcely different. Indeed, the aging society is seen by some as a graver threat than even global warming with potentially unmanageable tensions relating to intergenerational relationships, work and benefits, and flows of people. This book explores the representation and performance of aging in recent late style German language fiction. It situates the authors chosen as case studies: Günter Grass, Ruth Klüger, Christa Wolf, and Martin Walser in their biographical and social contexts and explores the significance of their aesthetic figuring of aging for debates raging both in Germany and internationally. In particular, the book looks at gender, generations and trauma and their impact on how writers narrativize aging. Finally, it examines the timeliness of these different representations and late style performances of aging in the context of the shift of social, political and economic power away from the declining societies of the West to the ascendant societies of the East. Stuart Taberner is Professor of Contemporary German Literature, Culture and Society at the University of Leeds.

This major new publication draws together these currents including Theory and Methods, Embodiment, Identities and Social Relationships, Consumption and Leisure, and Time and Space. Based on specially commissioned chapters by leading international authors, the Routledge Handbook of Cultural Gerontology will provide concise, authoritative reviews of the key debates and themes shaping this exciting new field.

Critical Humanities and Ageing Marlene Goldman, Kate de Medeiros, Thomas Cole, 2022-11-01. Providing a critical humanities approach to ageing, this book addresses new directions in age studies: the meaning and workings of ageism in the twenty-first century; the vexed relationship between age and disability studies; the meanings and experiences of queer aging; the fascinating yet often elided work of age activists; and finally the challenges posed by AI and more generally transhumanism in the context of caring for an ageing population. Divided into four parts: Part I: What Does It Mean to Grow Old; Part II: Aging Old Age and Disability; Part III: Aging Old Age and Activism; Part IV: Old Age and Humanistic Approaches to Care, the volume provides an innovative two-part structure that facilitates rather than merely encourages interdisciplinary collaboration across the humanities and social sciences. Each essay is thus followed by two short critical responses from disciplinary viewpoints that diverge from that of the essay's author. Drawing on work from across the humanities, philosophy, fine arts, religion and literature, this book will be a useful supplemental text for courses on age studies, sociology and gerontology at both undergraduate and graduate levels.
