Aging in a Changing Society Zena Smith Blau, 1981 Aging in a Changing World Molly George, 2021-10-15 This is a story about aging in place in a world of global movement Around the world many older people have stayed still but have been profoundly impacted by the movement of others Without migrating themselves many older people now live in a far different country than the one of their memories Recently the Brexit vote and the 2016 election of Trump have re enforced prevalent stereotypes of the racist older person This book challenges simplified images of the old as racist nostalgic and resistant to change by taking a deeper more nuanced look at older people s complex relationship with the diversity and multiculturalism that has grown and developed around them Aging in a Changing World takes a look at how some older people in New Zealand have been responding to and interacting with the new multiculturalism they now encounter in their daily lives Through their unhurried micro daily interactions with immigrants they quietly emerge as agents of the very social change they are assumed to oppose Middle Age and Aging Bernice L. Neugarten, 1968-12-15 The process of aging is receiving an increasing amount of attention from behavioral scientists Middle Age and Aging is an attempt to organize and select from the proliferation of material available in this field The selections in this volume emphasize some of the major topics that lie closest to the problem of what social and psychological adaptations are required as individuals move through the second half of their lives Major attention is paid to the importance of age status and age sex roles psychological changes in the life cycle social psychological theories of aging attitudes toward health changing family roles work retirement and leisure certain other dimensions of the immediate social environment such as friendships neighboring patterns and living arrangements differences in cultural settings and perspectives of time and death

Aging and Society Matilda White Riley, Marilyn Johnson, Anne Foner, 1972-03-15 Represents the first integrated effort to deal with age as a crucial variable in the social system Of special interest to sociologists for whom the sociology of age seems destined to become a special field Old Age in a Changing Society Zena Smith Blau, 1973-01-01 The Meanings of Age Bernice L. Neugarten, 1996-12-15

Neugarten who explains and highlights Neugarten s contributions in light of the most recent research in the fields of gerontology and social policy Carefully edited by Dail A Neugarten each chapter presents the reader with Bernice Neugarten s original formulations on topics such as age norms and age constraints the changing meanings of age and age neutral social policy The Elderly as Modern Pioneers Philip Silverman,1987 Overall one of the most competent and well presented treatments of the subject now available Jay Sokolovsky University of Maryland a valuable contribution to the field of gerontology The volume combines interdisciplinary and cross cultural perspectives written in a well organized framework without sacrificing depth and comprehensive summary of gerontological research Clinical GerontologistA well written and documented volume for persons interested in the anthropological viewpoint on aging Choice the use of cross cultural comparisons provides a broadened perspective to understanding the issues of aging Current Literature on AgingIt is comprehensive well written mercifully jargon free critical and controversial and undogmatic Aging and SocietyThis volume focuses on the nature and problems of old age providing a comprehensive summary of current gerontological research from interdisciplinary and cross cultural perspectives Proposed White House Conference on Aging United States. Congress. Senate. Labor and Public Welfare,1968 Aging, Society and the Life Course Leslie A. Morgan,2007 As our aging population grows ever larger it is increasingly important to understand how adults age and what we can do to provide up to date care to ensure their well being as an integral part of society Leslie Morgan and Suzanne Kunkel understand that this phenomenon is about much more than just the physical or biological aspects of growing older and have put together a comprehensive text on the impact of society and sociology on the aging process Use this text to explore the diversity of the aging population and dispel the major stereotypes surrounding the elderly Learn about aging through all the layers of social context from family life to politics and economics And through this approach come to see how aging is more than just an individual process it is a process that effects the direction of our society as a whole For the Student Web sites of interest and key terms defined at the end of each chapter Real life stories and essays on love sex music medicine and crime For the Professor Assignment ready reading in a One Chapter a Week format Questions for discussion and review at each chapter end Applying Theory sections place the lesson of each chapter in a clear real world setting Instructor s Guide Now Available An Instructor s Manual for this textbook is available for those professors who have adopted Aging Society and the Life Course Third Edition and can verify a bookstore order of 7 or more copies Please email our Marketing Department at marketing.springerpub.com if you have adopted this text as you will need a password to download the guide Please provide the name and telephone number of the bookstore that ordered the textbooks A print version of the Instructor s Manual is also available

Special Subcommittee on Aging,1968 Considers S J Res 117 to call a White House Conference on Aging in 1970 Includes Policy Statements and Recommendation From the 1961 White House Conference on Aging p 237 315 Energy Consumption and Aging Populations Shigeru Matsumoto,2025-02-21 This book explores the impact of population aging on energy use patterns in society from both a theoretical and an empirical angle with a specific focus on Japan and Spain Many developed countries are currently experiencing both population aging and population decline while the demand for social services such as health care and public transportation is expected to increase This book expands upon these well known socioeconomic challenges and explores the less well known and more complex relationship between population aging time allocation to social practices and energy resource consumption In the face of energy supply scarcity and climate change concerns the impact of population aging on energy consumption is of paramount importance By focusing on the effects of changing time allocation patterns on social practices the book shows that the impact of population aging on energy consumption will affect not just only affect the residential sector but also other socio economic sectors of society Using data from Japan and Spain currently among the fastest aging countries in the world the volume shows that the challenges of an aging society are far more complex and worrying than previously anticipated If an aging society is an inevitable future we need to prepare for the challenges that lie ahead Written by researchers in the fields of demography economics environmental engineering geography physics and transportation engineering this book will compel academics and policy makers to reflect on these problems and act
