Agricultural Land In An Urban Society:

Agricultural Land in an Urban Society Owen J. Furuseth, John T. Pierce, 1982 Intended for geography professors researchers and undergraduate students this publication focuses on the important issues surrounding the urbanization of agricultural land the assessment of the relative effectiveness of policy responses and an assessment of opportunities for change in approaches toward farmland preservation Emphasis is on agricultural land in Canada and the United States There are seven chapters The focus of chapter 1 is on urban growth and the competition for agricultural land including a discussion of government intervention Land conversion processes are discussed in the second chapter Chapter 3 deals with land resources for food production discussing how valuable farmland is defined the agroclimatic resource index existing and potential agricultural resources and implications for the future The fourth chapter treats the topic of agricultural land conversion Planning to protect farmland and studies in farmland protection are the topics of chapters 5 and 6 respectively The concluding chapter discusses agricultural land resources for the future An appendix of commonly used acronyms and a bibliography are provided RM

Progress in Agricultural Geography (Routledge Revivals) Michael Pacione, 2014-06-03 In the second half of the twentieth century significant changes were occurring within the agricultural industry including an increase in efficiency and government intervention as well as expanded and more complicated patterns of trade This comprehensive volume first published in 1986 reflects how these developments challenged the field of agricultural geography Considering agricultural innovations farming systems government policy and land ownership this title provides an essential background to students with an interest in agricultural methods distribution and reform

Work in Non-Market and Transitional Societies Herbert A. Applebaum, 1984-01-01 In industrialized cultures what we do to earn a living is usually divorced from what we do the rest of the time This contrasts with non market cultures where work is an intimate part of life People of such cultures perceive a unity between hunting and raising a family between making pots and training children between the building of houses and the practice of religion Often there is no separate word for work because work is such an all encompassing activity Work in Non Market and Transitional Societies is an overview of the organization of work in diverse societies the division of labor the notions of time that affect work and working and the kinds of adaptations people make when transplanted from one society to another The groundbreaking study encompasses pre industrial and non market societies as well as cultures in the process of change and modernization This double focus provides an unusual and stimulating perspective for both anthropology and the social sciences This book features a broad theoretical introduction delineating the major issues and aspects of investigation in this field It then presents twenty essays that show how work is carried on by women and men in varied societies and cultures The authors provide guidelines for understanding the different value systems and discuss why each approach to work is appropriate in its specific societal structure

Urban Agriculture for Growing City Regions Undine Giseke, Maria Gerster-Bentaya, Frank Helten, Matthias Kraume, Dieter

Scherer, Guido Spars, Fouad Amraoui, Abdelaziz Adidi, Said Berdouz, Mohamed Chlaida, Majid Mansour, Mohamed Mdafai, 2015-09-07 This book demonstrates how agriculture can play a determining role in integrated climate optimised urban development Agriculture within urban growth centres today is more than an economic or social left over or a niche practice It is instead a complex system that offers multiple potentials for interaction with the urban system Urban open space and agriculture can be linked to a productive green infrastructure this forms new urban rural linkages in the urbanizing region and helps shape the city But in order to do this agriculture has to be seen as an integral part of the urban fabric and it has to be put on the local agenda Urban Agriculture for Growing City Regions takes the example of Casablanca one of the fastest growing cities in North Africa to investigate this approach The creation of synergies between the urban and rural in an emerging megacity is demonstrated through pilot projects design solutions and multifunctional modules These synergies assure greater resource efficiency particularly regarding the use and reuse of water and they strengthen regional food security and the social integration of multiple spheres A transdisciplinary research approach brings together different scientific disciplines and local actors into a process of integrated knowledge production The book will have a long lasting legacy and is essential reading for researchers planners practitioners and policy makers who are working on urban development and urban agricultural strategies Coordinating Urban and Rural Development in China Ye Yumin, Richard LeGates, 2013-09-30 The focus of published narrative on the great Chinese urbanization wave was always going to sharpen away from the general fascination assertions theories and commentaries to specific issues and specific regions Well here is a first class example The Rural-urban Fringe in Canada Kenneth B. Beesley, 2010 Human Settlement Development - Volume II Saskia Sassen, 2009-09-30 Human Settlement Development is a component of Encyclopedia of Institutional and Infrastructural Resources in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems EOLSS which is an integrated compendium of twenty one Encyclopedias The Theme on Human Settlement Development deals in nine parts and four volumes with a myriad of issues of great relevance to our world such as Urban Sustainability and the Regional City System in the Asia Pacific Peri Urbanization Zones of Rural Urban Transition Urban Sustainability Theoretical Perspectives on Integrating Economic Development and the Environment Rural Sustainability Using Foreign Direct Investment to Improve Urban Environmental Infrastructure and Services The Case of Hanoi Vietnam The Long Road Towards Sustainable Cities The Dutch case Urban Dimensions of Sustainable Development Rural Development Participation and Diversity for Sustainability The Cities the State and the Markets In Search of Sustainability These four volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences University and College students Educators Professional practitioners Research personnel and Policy analysts managers and decision makers and NGOs The Urban Community Nels Andersen, 2013-03-07 Part of the Sociology of the City series originally published in 1959 this volume looks at the urban community bringing together rural and urban sociology It advises that areas need to be looked at in terms the way of the life of the inhabitants and not by size and that urban sociology needs to assume a more global perspective not just locally Urban Poverty in China Fulong Wu,Chris Webster,Shenjing He,Yuting Liu,2010-01-01 Wow What a tour de force This timely masterly work does everything from broad empirical comparison to theory quantitative correlation to case studies of neighborhoods and quotations from individual life histories Its findings from 25 neighborhoods in six cities demonstrate convincingly that urban destitution is not homogeneous is concentrated in and generated by location and has patterned institutional roots that produced varying processes of pauperization This superb book must put to rest once and for all references to Chinese poverty as a matter of just the rural areas and their residents Dorothy J Solinger University of California Irvine US Market reform has brought new forms of poverty to urban China even while the standard of living of most urban residents has greatly improved This research uses interviews with people in six cities to document their situation and to show how poverty is rooted in the failure of support systems in their neighborhoods and communities It offers a stark evaluation of a system of inequalities that is only beginning to be addressed by state policy John R Logan Brown University US Urban poverty is an emerging problem This book explores the household and neighbourhood factors that lead to both the generation and continuance of urban poverty in China It is argued that the urban Chinese are not a homogenous social group but combine laid off workers and rural migrants resulting in stark contrasts between migrant and workers neighbourhoods and villages The expert authors examine the new urban poor in China and the dynamics of their poor neighbourhoods highlighting both household experience and neighbourhood changes affecting the urban poor Urban Poverty in China is based upon a comprehensive household survey in six Chinese cities and provides insights into microscopic and neighbourhood level poverty dynamics The comprehensive study explores the spatial implications such as concentration of poverty as well as the differentiation within poor neighbourhoods This informative book tells an insightful story about evolving urban poverty in Chinese cities that will be invaluable to researchers and postgraduate students within urban studies geography social policy and development studies as well as Chinese and Asian studies It will also prove to be an invaluable read for researchers in urban and social development and international development agencies The Political Economy of Land Mika Hyötyläinen,Robert Beauregard,2022-11-30 Recent years have seen a gathering interest in the importance of real estate development to the growth and development of cities This has included theoretical work on such topics as land rent and property rights as well as empirical studies on property investments assetization securitization and the effects of changing property values on economic growth and the global status of cities In the field of urban political economy attention has turned particularly to the financialization of land and the built environment and to the globalization of property ownership real estate development and architectural design This edited volume brings together a collection of original investigations of the current thinking on three broad themes the assetization of land and buildings the relationship of land rent to valuation and speculation in the markets for private and public properties and the different ways in which land functions as a social relation In order to ground the discussion each chapter combines a theoretical perspective with empirical evidence And to convey a sense of the global nature of these phenomena the book includes cases from Finland India Spain Singapore Hong Kong Japan Italy China and the United States Although its prime goal is to solidify and extend the political economy of land this book is also a celebration of the Finnish scholar Anne Haila who was a major contributor to this literature and specifically to the work of this book s authors Prior to her sudden death in 2019 she was a key figure in the discussions that are at the core of the political economy of land this book in part is a public acknowledgement of her contributions Introduction to Smart Regions Smart Cities and Smart Villages Mr. Rohit Manglik,2024-03-07 EduGorilla Publication is a trusted name in the education sector committed to empowering learners with high quality study materials and resources Specializing in competitive exams and academic support EduGorilla provides comprehensive and well structured content tailored to meet the needs of students across various streams and levels
