Hansen, 1973 Rural Development and Agricultural Growth in Indonesia, the Philippines and Thailand Takamasa Akiyama, Donald F. Larson, 2004 Focuses on economic growth in the agricultural sectors of Indonesia the Philippines and Thailand The agricultural sectors of these economies have diverged considerably over the last 40 years The volume investigates the ways in which policy institutions investments and resource constraints have driven this divergence Agricultural and Rural Development in Indonesia, 1974 Rural Development and Agricultural Growth in Indonesia, the Philippines and Thailand Takamasa Akiyama, Donald F. Larson, 2013 Understanding economic growth is central to the study of development Rural economic growth is an important aspect of economic growth Historically rural agriculture has employed most people in most countries and continues to do so today Nevertheless the casual relationship between economic growth and growth in agriculture remain poorly understood This volume focuses on economic growth in the agriculture sectors of Indonesia the Philippines and Thailand Starting from similar positions the agriculture sectors of these economies have diverged considerably over the last 40 years This volume investigates the ways in which policy institutions investments resource constraints and the reallocation of agricultural labor have driven this divergence It volume documents the interplay of endowments technology the accumulation of productive factors policy and advocacy in the rural sectors of these three countries It contributes in its own ways to an explanation of the past Good policy rests on an understanding of successes and failures in the past This book is a critical contribution to such an understanding Rural Development Paola de Salvo, Manuel Vaquero Pineiro, 2022-02-02 The book brings together a series of contributions with a common goal of reflecting the links between economic development and rural development The scenario is dotted not only with old and new wounds but also with innovative strategies in an attempt to overcome existing delays The chapters of the book are composed of scenarios full of case studies The plans to be adopted to help the countries that have lagged behind fueled an intense debate since the obstacles to development as evidenced by the extensive scientific literature available now appeared to be the realities present in the socio economic structures of a large number of villages Although the data available are still few it is assumed that the Covid 19 pandemic will make a landscape already full of criticalities even more fragile Poverty

House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Agriculture, Rural Development, and Related Agencies, 1986     Rural Investment Climate in Indonesia Neil McCulloch, 2009 This book provides a comprehensive analysis of the constraints facing the development of rural non farm enterprises in Indonesia Recent years have seen a substantial effort by the Indonesian government to improve the investment climate To date much of this effort has focused on the constraints faced by businesses at the national level However if Indonesia is to be successful in creating jobs and reducing poverty across the archipelago this will require improving the investment climate for the 15 7 million micro and small enterprises that employ more than half of all the non farm workers in the country This book brings together leading Indonesian and international academics to consider seven key constraints that RNFs face labour regulations and practices infrastructure competition and marketing knowledge transfer and technology access to credit and financial services local taxation and user charges and insecurity In each case the authors draw on the Indonesian Rural Investment Climate Survey a unique dataset of more than 2 500 RNFs to identify the size and nature of the constraints the way in which they impact upon enterprise growth and the implications for policy In addition a key chapter estimates the strength of the linkage between agriculture and non agricultural activities in rural areas showing that agricultural revitalization is an essential complement to the development of the non farm economy Understanding the rural investment climate in both slow and fast growing economies has taken on new urgency in the wake of the world food crisis The rural non farm economy often provides half or more of the income of farm families and is especially important for food deficit rural households hard hit by rising food prices The Indonesian Rural Investment Climate Assessment is the gold standard for how to achieve this understanding It is a delight to see it published and available to a wide audience C Peter Timmer Visiting Professor Program on Food Security and Environment Stanford University Non Resident Fellow Center for Global Development     Rural Indonesia Erik Thorbecke, Theodore van der Pluijm, 1993-05-01 The formulation of a rural development strategy for any country is an extremely difficult and multi faceted task especially so for a country as large and diversified as Indonesia With its almost two hundred million inhabitants and its island geography Indonesia presents a particular challenge to efforts aimed at improving the lot of the rural poor Illustrating again how economic growth in urban areas rarely translates into a decrease in rural poverty this volume identifies the impact of recent changes in the national economy on the rural poor the interaction between the agricultural sector and the rural population and patterns of food consumption nutrition and health Drawing on the data and conclusions of thirteen years of IFAD experience in Indonesia this book also examines the successes and failures of past development efforts and makes tangible practical recommendations for future programs Emphasizing that different strategies are required for Java the other Inner Islands and for the Outer Islands the authors highlight the need for greater employment opportunities greater commodity and regional diversification in the
