Agricultural Ethics Research Teaching And Public Policy:

Agriculture's Ethical Horizon Robert L Zimdahl, 2012-01-30 The second edition of Agriculture's Ethical Horizon is a carefully considered application of philosophical concepts such as utilitarianism and positivism to the practice of agricultural science Author Robert Zimdahl argues for an approach to agriculture guided by foundational values and addresses the questions What are the goals of agricultural and weed science What should their goals be How do and how should the practitioners of agriculture address complex ethical questions This book engages students researchers and professionals across disciplines including horticulture soil and plant science entomology and more all without requiring a background in philosophy It examines topics such as scientific truth and myth moral confidence in agriculture the relevance of ethics to sustainability and biotechnology New to this edition is a chapter examining the raising housing and slaughter of animals for human food and a chapter on alternative and organic agricultural systems Easily understood by non philosophers Chapter sidebars highlight important concepts and can be used to engage students in further discussion Companion website includes further teaching aids and a discussion board Agricultural Ethics - An Invitation Robert L. Zimdahl, 2020-08-13 I write because I am concerned that I and my agricultural colleagues have avoided addressing the moral dimension of the environmental and social problems we have contributed to I hope for an exchange of ideas about agriculture's moral dilemmas I encourage my readers to engage in a collective conversation about the dilemmas and avoid remaining in what Merton calls the collective arrogance and despair of his own herd If those engaged in agriculture continue to ignore and fail to realize our common difficulties they will be addressed and resolved by societal pressure and political action which may not yield the resolution we favor The book's goal is not to resolve the moral dilemmas raised It is to raise them and encourage thought and discussion It will ask but not answer why nearly all involved in agriculture have not addressed the moral concerns voiced by the general public The agricultural enterprise is committed to the benefits and future success of the present very productive chemical capital and energy intensive system which is in the minds of many not sustainable The internal justification invokes the moral claim that they feed the world's population The question remains whether or not the prevailing moral justification of feeding the world is adequate given all the issues modern developed country agriculture faces pesticides in soil water and food cruelty to animals Biotech GMO's corporate agriculture pollution by animal factory waste exploitation of and cruelty to migrant labor

Technology and the Good Life? Eric Higgs, Andrew Light, David Strong, 2010-12-15 Can we use technology in the pursuit of a good life or are we doomed to having our lives organized and our priorities set by the demands of machines and systems How can philosophy help us to make technology a servant rather than a master Technology and the Good Life uses a careful collective analysis of Albert Borgmann's controversial and influential ideas as a jumping off point from which to address questions such as these about the role and significance of technology in our lives Contributors both sympathetic and critical examine Borgmann's work especially his device paradigm apply his theories to new areas such as film agriculture design and ecological restoration and consider the place of his thought within philosophy and technology studies more generally Because this collection carefully investigates the issues at the heart of how we can take charge of life with technology it will be a landmark work not just for philosophers of technology but for students and scholars in the many disciplines concerned with science and technology studies An

Hudson, 2010-05-24 Interdisciplinary and Sustainability Issues in Food and Agriculture is a component of Encyclopedia of Food and Agricultural Sciences Engineering and Technology Resources in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems EOLSS which is an integrated compendium of twenty one Encyclopedias The Theme on Interdisciplinary and Sustainability Issues in Food and Agriculture provides the essential aspects and discusses a number of issues of importance in the development of specific agriculture and food supply systems that are closely related to general developmental trends of humankind In this context technology and economic development as well as socio cultural developments affect productivity and a secure supply with food These three volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences University and College students Educators Professional practitioners Research personnel and Policy analysts managers and decision makers and NGOs Food, Genetic Engineering and Philosophy of Technology N. Dane Scott, 2018-10-22 This book describes specific well know controversies in the genetic modification debate and connects them to deeper philosophical issues in philosophy of technology It contributes to the current far reaching deliberations about the future of food agriculture and society Controversies over so called Genetically Modified Organisms GMOs regularly appear in the press The biotechnology debate has settled into a long term philosophical dispute The discussion goes much deeper than the initial empirical questions about whether or not GM food and crops are safe for human consumption or pose environmental harms that dominated news reports In fact the implications of this debate extend beyond the sphere of food and agriculture to encompass the general role of science and technology in society The GM controversy provides an occasion to explore important issues in philosophy of technology Researchers teachers and students interested in agricultural biotechnology philosophy of technology and the future of food and agriculture will find this exploration timely and thought provoking Pragmatist Ethics for a Technological Culture F.W. Jozef Keulartz, Michiel Korthals, M. Schermer, T.E. Swierstra, 2012-12-06 Our technological culture has an extremely dynamic character old ways of reproducing ourselves managing nature and keeping animals are continually replaced by new ones norms and values with respect to our bodies food production health care and environmental protection are regularly being put up for discussion This constantly confronts us with new moral problems and dilemmas In discussion with other approaches this book argues that pragmatism with its strong emphasis on the interaction between technology and values gives us both procedural help and stresses the importance of living and cooperating together in tackling these problems and dilemmas The issues in this book include the interaction of technology and ethics the status of pragmatism the concept of practice and discourse ethics and deliberative democracy It has an interactive design with original contributions alternating with critical comments The book is of interest for students scholars and policymakers in the fields of bioethics animal ethics environmental ethics pragmatist philosophy and science and technology studies Teaching the Animal , Reconstructing biotechnologies Guido Ruivenkamp, Shuji Hisano, Joost Jongerden, 2023-08-28 The main subject of this publication is the co creation of society and biotechnology The authors do not treat society and biotechnology as separate domains instead they consider technologies as socially constructed The main focus of this publication is on agro biotechnologies and the contributors present perspectives for reconstruction both from and in the North and the South Reconstructing biotechnologies offers a range of critical social analyses confronting the actuality of biotechnology with the potentialities of its social reconstruction In doing that the book develops and merges literature from four different disciplines namely i critical theory and its analyses of technology and power ii political economy critically assessing the interrelationship between economy politics and technology iii social constructivism which holds that technology is the product of agency and knowledge systems and iv the analysis of rural society and agrarian technologies in rural sociology Reconstructing biotechnologies introduces exciting approaches and examples into the social reshaping of biotechnologies It brings together critical examinations of contemporary biotechnology development and puts forward possible alternatives written by critical scholars The contributions in this publication are for students and scholars in a wide range of disciplines such as social and political sciences science and technology studies and development studies The editors of the book are associated with the Social Sciences Department of Wageningen University in the Netherlands and the Graduate School of Economics of Kyoto University in Japan They have published extensively on social and political theory and biotechnology

The Agrarian Vision Paul B. Thompson, 2010-07-07 As industry and technology proliferate in modern society sustainability has jumped to the forefront of contemporary political and environmental discussions The balance between progress and the earth's ability to provide for its inhabitants grows increasingly precarious as we attempt to achieve sustainable development In The Agrarian Vision Sustainability and Environmental Ethics Paul B Thompson articulates a new agrarian philosophy emphasizing the vital role of agrarianism in modern agricultural practices Thompson a highly regarded voice in environmental philosophy unites concepts of agrarian philosophy political theory and environmental ethics to illustrate the importance of creating and maintaining environmentally conscious communities Thompson describes the evolution of agrarian values in America following the path blazed by Thomas Jefferson John Steinbeck and Wendell Berry Providing a pragmatic approach to ecological responsibility and commitment The Agrarian Vision is a significant compelling argument for the practice of a reconfigured and expanded agrarianism in our efforts to support modern industrialized culture while also preserving the natural world

Technology and Cultural Values Peter D. Herschok, Marietta Stepaniants, Roger T. Ames, 2003-10-31 Recent history makes clear that the quantum leaps being made in technology are the leading edge of a groundswell of paradigm shifts taking place in science politics economics social institutions and the expression of cultural values Indeed it is the simultaneity and interdependence of these changes occurring in every dimension of human experience and endeavor that makes the present so historically distinctive The essays gathered here give voice to perspectives on the always improvised relationship between technology and cultural values from Africa the Americas Asia Australia Europe and the Pacific Contributors Syed Muhammad Naquib Al Attas Roger T Ames Yoko
