Farm Sector Restructuring in Belarus Csaba Csáki,Zvi Lerman,Sergey Sotnikov,2000 Agriculture remains the main source of employment and livelihood for the large rural population of many transition countries especially among the former Soviet republics Accordingly the World Bank continuously monitors the progress of land reform and farm restructuring in the region because of the potential impact of these processes on rural development and poverty alleviation in rural areas The present study on Belarus is the latest addition to a long and growing series of World Bank publications on land reform and farm restructuring in the former socialist countries of Europe and Central Asia The unique features of all these publications is their reliance on first hand empirical information collected through extensive farm surveys of various rural constituencies Analysis of survey findings enables the World Bank to base its policy dialogue with governments in the region on solid empirical facts making the Bank's recommendations more credible and relevant The survey findings in this volume will provide a platform for useful policy discussions with this country's government and supply international donors that are active there with essential information to design their strategic programs

A Diagnostic Framework for Revenue Administration Jit B. S. Gill,2000-01-01 A systematic diagnosis of a revenue administration is a prerequisite to developing a successful strategy for its reform However given the complexity of tax and customs administration this is not a simple task A host of external and internal factors need to be analyzed to uncover the roots of organizational and institutional dysfunction Also the diagnosis needs to be done in a participatory manner to build consensus around the causes for inadequate performance and their remedies This framework enables a step by step analysis of the environment history resources strategy transformation processes outputs and feedback mechanisms of the revenue administration system with a view to identifying systemic deficiencies that lead to inefficiency and ineffectiveness in its operations Besides a detailed set of diagnostic questions for each area of analysis the framework provides illustrations of frequently encountered problems and their possible remedies The framework can be used in a group setting involving different stakeholders to guide brainstorming sessions and draft reform strategies

Financial Markets, Credit Constraints, and Investment in Rural Romania Rodrigo Chaves,2001 This study evaluates the performance of financial markets in rural areas of Romania based on the 1998 rural household rural enterprise and financial intermediary surveys along with other official statistical data for 1997 It presents empirical evidence indicating that constrained access to credit markets negatively influences the investment behavior of households and enterprises The report recommends a detailed government strategy to correct the observed shortcomings of rural financial markets and identifies new challenges that are likely to appear Telecommunications Legislation in Transitional and Developing Economies Tim Schwarz, David Satola, 2000 This paper examines the design of telecommunications legislation in countries with transitional and developing economies TDCs engaged in liberalising and privatising their telecommunications sectors It attempts to synthesise good practice and is intended to be used as a tool for legislative drafting The main purpose of the paper is to highlight some of the issues which policy makers and legislators in TDCs may wish to bear in mind The paper has three components The first section outlines the scope and underlying principles of telecommunications legislation the second section outlines the regulatory imperatives of telecommunications legislation and the third part the annex contains framework telecommunications legislation Dismantling Russia's Nonpayments System Brian Pinto, Vladimir Drebensov, Aleksandr Morozov, 2000-01-01 One question preoccupies many scholars and practitioners How can economic growth in the Russian Federation be reinvigorated This report contributes to the current debate Nonpayments in Russia evolved into a complex inter linked system over the latter half of the 1990s becoming one of the most critical issues facing policymakers This paper analyzes this system including its origins its evolution the factors that now perpetuate it and its costs and identifies a minimum set of economic reforms needed to dismantle it The paper also proposes answers to key questions about nonpayments including How has its course been influenced by government policy at the federal and subnational levels What are the links with macroeconomic policy What is the role of the energy sector and how has the system affected the way businesses operate What are the implications for economic growth How indeed as part of Russia's transition to a monetized market economy did the nonpayments system come to exert a stranglehold on virtually every aspect of the economy This report will be of interest to policymakers and economists interested in transition economies Communal Infrastructure in Slovenia Mojmir Mrak, 2000 Annotation

Although growth of infrastructure services in Vietnam since the late 1980s greatly facilitated rapid growth in exports and gross domestic product GDP Vietnam's infrastructure still suffers from a number of major inadequacies This report has three main objectives to describe and assess the current status and performance of key infrastructure sectors to describe and assess the policy regulatory and institutional environment for involving the private sector in those sectors and to help policymakers in framing future reform and development strategies and to assist potential private sector investors in assessing investment opportunities The TB and HIV/AIDS Epidemics in the Russian Federation, 2001-01-01 The TB and

HIV AIDS Epidemics in the Russian Federation describes the socioeconomic conditions in the Russian Federation and examines how they are influencing infectious disease epidemics It also discusses the impact of the epidemics on the population including the incidence and prevalence in the general and prison populations Finally this paper presents a description of a mathematical model of improvements in health status possible under various TB control strategies with implications for HIV AIDS as well
