The epidemic of HIV/AIDS in developing countries; the current scenario in Pakistan

Muhammad Z Yousaf^{1*}, Sadia Zia¹, Masroor E Balbar¹ and Usman A Ashfaq²

Abstract

HIV (Human Immunodeficiency virus) causes (acquired immunodeficiency syndrome) AIDS, in which the immune system of body totally fails to develop any defense against the foreign invaders. Infection with HIV occurs by transfer of blood, semen, and breast milk. HIV/AIDS is a global problem and it results nearly 25 million deaths worldwide. Developing countries like Pakistan have issues regarding Public Health. Currently, epidemic of HIV/AIDS is established in Pakistan and there is a threat of an expanded HIV/AIDS outbreak in the country. The major reason is that population is engaging in high-risk practices, low awareness about HIV/AIDS, and treacherous blood transfusion practices. A supplementary threat to Pakistan is India because both sharing a border and India is facing a rapidly growing HIV/AIDS epidemic. Local NGOs, National and International organizations are warning that in near future Pakistan may experience bad situation regarding HIV/AIDS. In the present article we focused current situation of surveillance of HIV/AIDS, its virology, genotype, diagnostics, high-risk groups, reasons of vulnerability in Pakistani population, and the role of different national and international organizations in this situation.

Background

HIV belongs to Lentivirus, which are also known as "slow virus". The name indicates their mode of action as they enter into body and remain in it for longer period of time. They have unique property of being inserting the information into the DNA of host cell and also have the ability to replicate in non-dividing cells. Due to these characteristics they are considered to be the most efficient gene delivery vector [1]. HIV infects defense/immune system cells such as CD4+ T cells, macrophages and dendritic cells [2]. The CD4+ cells play a crucial role in the maintenance of immune system. After infection, HIV uses CD4+ cells as host to make copies and infect other cells. This leads to the reduction of CD4+ cells in body and immune system totally collapse [3]. The development from HIV to AIDS is checked by the rapid decline of CD4+ cells [3].

Types of HIV

Two types of HIV have been characterized; HIV-1 and HIV-2. HIV-1 is the most virulent and pathogenic strain.

Worldwide, the predominant virus is HIV-1, and generally when people refer to HIV without specifying the type of virus they will be referring to HIV-1. The relatively uncommon HIV-2 type is concentrated in West Africa and is rarely found elsewhere. The reason behind is that HIV-2 weakens the immune system slowly than HIV-1 [4]. The HIV-1 is further divided into 4-groups; a) major group M, b) Outlier group O, c) Group N, d) Group P. These groups have been identified in their envelope region. Group M is further divided into A, B, C, D, F, G, H, J and K. In Asian countries B and C are the predominant clades of HIV-1. But in Pakistan HIV-1 is dominant in Pakistan as compared to other clades, this was found more in IDUs in Karachi [5]. HIV-2 has also 8 clades from A to H, out of these clades only A and B are epidemic [6].

HIV Virology and Life Cycle

The identification of HIV led to the concentrated activity in the field of molecular virology. HIV is different in structure from other retroviruses. This is roughly spherical with a diameter of about 120 nm [7,8]. It contains three (3) structural and six (6) genes which encode the at least fifteen (15) viral proteins and control the ability of HIV to infect the cell [9]. HIV is composed of two copies of

Aids In Developing Countries:

The Political Economy of HIV/AIDS in Developing Countries Benjamin Coriat, 2008-01-01 The issue of universal and free access to treatment is now a fundamental goal of the international community Based on original data and field studies from Brazil Thailand India and Sub Saharan Africa under the aegis of ANRS the French national agency for research on Aids and viral hepatitis this timely and significant book both assesses the progress made in achieving this objective and presents a rigorous diagnosis of the obstacles that remain Placing particular emphasis on the constraints imposed by TRIPS as well as the poor state of most public health systems in Southern countries the contributing authors provide a comprehensive analysis of the huge barriers that have yet to be overcome in order to attain free access to care and offer innovative suggestions of how they might be confronted In doing this the book renews our understanding of the political economy of HIV AIDS in these vast regions where the disease continues to spread with devastating social and economic consequences This volume will be a valuable addition to the current literature on HIV AIDS in developing countries and will find widespread appeal amongst students and academics studying economics sociology and public health It will also be of interest to international organizations and professional associations involved in the fight against pandemics

Preventing HIV in Developing Countries Laura Gibney, Ralph J. DiClemente, Sten H. Vermund, 2006-04-11 Globally action to prevent HIV spread is inadequate Over 16 000 new infections occur every day Yet we are not helpless in the face of disaster as shown by the rich prevention experience analyzed in this valuable new compendium Best practice exists a set of tried and tested ways of slowing the spread of HIV of persuading and enabling people to protect themselves and others from the virus Individually features of best practice can be found almost everywhere The tragedy on a world scale is that prevention is spotty not comprehensive the measures are not being applied on anywhere near the scale needed or with the right focus or synergy The national response may concentrate solely on sex workers for example Elsewhere efforts may go into school education for the young but ignore the risks and vulnerability of men who have sex with men Action may be patchy geographically AIDS prevention may not benefit from adequate commitment from all parts and sectors of society compromising the sustainability of the response In some countries matters are still worse there is still hardly any action at all against AIDS and scarcely any effort to make HIV visible It is no wonder that the epidemic is still emerging and in some places is altogether out of control
