Provincial Reconstruction Teams and Military Relations with International and Non-governmental Organizations in Afghanistan Michael J. Dziedzic, 2009-02 This report stems in part from the publication of the book Aid During Conflict Interaction Between Military and Civilian Assistance Providers in Afghanistan

September 2001 June 2002 On the occasion of the publication of that work a conference was held on Oct 25 2004 that focused on the impact Provincial Reconstruction Teams PRTs have had on the recurring themes in civil military relations addressed in the monograph This report is based on the presentations and discussions that took place during that conference

Map Biopolitics, Governmentality and Humanitarianism Volha Piotukh, 2015-04-10 This book critically analyses the changing role and nature of post Cold War humanitarianism using Foucault's theories of biopolitics and governmentality It offers a compelling and insightful interpretation of the policies and practices associated with new humanitarianism in general as well as of the dynamics of two specific international assistance efforts the post 2001 conflict related assistance effort in Afghanistan and the post 2000 Chernobyl related assistance effort in Belarus The central argument of the book is that new humanitarianism represents a dominant regime of humanitarian governing informed by globalising neoliberalism and is reliant on a complex set of biopolitical disciplinary and sovereign technologies It demonstrates that while the purposes of humanitarian governing are specific to particular contexts its promise of care is more often than not accompanied by sovereign and or biopolitical violences Making an important contribution to existing scholarship on humanitarian emergencies and humanitarian action on biopolitics and governmentality this book will be of much interest to students and scholars of humanitarianism critical security studies governmentality and International Relations generally Toppling the Taliban Walter L. Perry, David Kassing, 2016-01-04 On September 11 2001 the United States was without a plan for military operations in Afghanistan One was quickly created by the Defense Department and operations began October 7 The Taliban was toppled in less than two months This report describes preparations at CENTCOM and elsewhere Army operations and support activities building a coalition and civil military operations in Afghanistan from October 2001 through June 2002

Military Medical Ethics in Contemporary Armed Conflict Michael L. Gross, 2021 Integrating the ethics of medicine and the ethics of war Military Medical Ethics in Contemporary Armed Conflict offers theorists and practitioners clinicians and commanders the tools they need to distribute scarce medical resources in wartime Emphasizing that military medicine's goal is to maintain unit readiness and the force capabilities necessary to wage just war Michael L. Gross instructs readers on when and how compatriot and host nation war fighters local civilians detainees and veterans should receive medical attention Readers will see how medicine functions also as a weapon of war To this end military forces deploy medical care to win local hearts and minds and harness medical science to enhance war fighter capabilities A Capabilities-based Strategy for Army Security Cooperation Jennifer D. P. Moroney, Adam Grissom, Jefferson P. Marquis, 2007 This study outlines a planning framework for cultivating multinational force compatibility MFC with armies that are not traditional allies Such coalition partners are increasingly important to the Army in the post 9 11 security environment Multilateral military operations are often now conducted by coalitions of the willing rather than by alliances and many of these ad hoc coalitions include key contingents that have no history of sustained peacetime cooperation with the U S Army The Army has only very limited resources available to enhance compatibility with non allied partner armies especially compared to the resources devoted to compatibility with traditional allies such as the United Kingdom The challenge of enhancing compatibility and building partnership capacity with non core partner armies therefore requires an innovative approach to planning Why the European Union Failed in Afghanistan Oz Hassan,2024-09-26 The return of the Taliban has undermined EU external action reversed twenty years of state building efforts and represents the most significant failure of EU foreign policy to date Drawing on over 100 hours of interviews with key actors and an in depth examination of the EU s state building efforts this book offers unparalleled insights into the complex interplay between transatlantic relations and the resurgence of the Taliban It critically evaluates the EU s strategies advocating for a nuanced historically informed approach to international relations Indispensable for academics policy makers and anyone vested in the intricacies of foreign interventions in an ever complex global environment

Stabilization and Reconstruction Staffing Terrence K. Kelly, Ellen E. Tunstall, Thomas S. Szayna, Deanna Weber Prine, 2008-03-18 Uses the Office of Personnel Management s Human Capital Assessment and Accountability Framework which advocates strategic alignment workforce planning and development and leadership and knowledge management to assess the U S civilian personnel and staffing requirements for stability and reconstruction operations

The military-humanitarian complex in Afghanistan Eric James, Tim Jacoby, 2016-09-10 Violent conflict brings together two seemingly disparate groups humanitarians and soldiers This mixes and convolutes agendas blurring lines that are often perceived to be sacrosanct Delving deeply into the history and reasons of why these two groups work in close proximity this study provide a unique insight into the history ethical dilemmas and policy conundrums when aid workers operate close to the military Using Afghanistan as a case study analytical rigour deep primary research and field knowledge are combined in an exceptional contribution to this important area This book gives scholars and practitioners alike a nuanced perspective on the challenges faced by aid workers military personnel and decision makers alike in countries affected by violent conflicts hosting foreign military interventions and receiving international aid

NATO in Afghanistan Sten Rynning, 2012-09-26 The war in Afghanistan has run for more than a decade and NATO has become increasingly central to it In this book Sten Rynning examines NATO s role in the campaign and the difficult diplomacy involved in fighting a war by alliance He explores the history of the war and its changing momentum and explains how NATO at first faltered but then improved its operations to become a critical enabler for the U S surge of 2009 However he also uncovers a serious and enduring problem for NATO in the shape of a disconnect between high liberal hopes for the new Afghanistan and a lack of realism about the military campaign prosecuted to bring it about He concludes that while NATO has made it to the point in Afghanistan where the war no longer has the potential to break it the alliance is at the same time losing its own struggle to define itself as a vigorous and relevant entity on the world stage To move forward he argues NATO allies must recover their common purpose as a Western alliance and he outlines options for change
