Lake,2019-01-22 Why has the US military begun to suffer from overstretch in recent decades Why is one of the largest militaries in the world and the most expensive by far periodically stressed by the operational demands placed upon it This book argues that recent problems with overstretch are the result of a heavy reliance on technology to solve tactical and strategic problems Over the last seven decades the US armed services have consistently chosen to push the technological frontier out in an effort to first gain and then maintain qualitative superiority over potential foes The high procurement and support costs associated with cutting edge weapon systems has resulted in a military that is shrinking in both absolute size and in the relative share of combat forces The culmination of this process is a US military that increasingly lacks the capacity needed to conduct operations without putting significant stress on its personnel and equipment Lake argues that this pattern is a manifestation of an American cultural disposition favoring technology He shows that this affinity for technology is present in the organizational cultures of all the armed services though not to the same degree By examining procurement programs for each armed service this book reveals how attempts to develop and leverage superior technology has resulted in some notable program failures high procurement costs for the latest generation of equipment with associated production cuts and the high support requirements that are causing the relative share of combat forces to shrink Lake's analysis of recent initiatives by the armed services suggests that this pattern is likely to continue with the US military remaining prone to overstretch whenever its operational tempo increases above the peacetime baseline

The Evolution of the US Air Force Israel Guy, 2024-08-05 This book looks at the history of the US Air Force through the lens of its lack of preparedness for major wars which is shown to be a result of its organizational culture The U S Air Force is probably the most powerful military force in history both in its destructive firepower and in its ability to project it globally Yet despite its unparalleled power the Air Force entered its first three pivotal conflicts World War II the Korean War and the Vietnam War unprepared But surprisingly it was remarkably well prepared for its fourth major war the Gulf War of 1991 Could there be an underlying trait or characteristic which influenced the Air Force between the wars that historically caused the US Air Force to be unprepared for war or prepared for the wrong type of war Surprisingly there is such a factor which was quite prominent in the Air Force's complex identity its organizational culture Besides providing a historical description of the Air Force this book demonstrates clearly how its organizational culture evolved and how it caused the US Air Force to be prepared for the wrong war It also shows that when the organizational culture changed the Air Force changed its focus and arrived prepared for the following war the 1991 Gulf War This book will be of interest to students of air power strategic studies US public policy and security studies in general
