Air Quality Analysis For Urban Transportation Planning:

Air Quality Analysis for Urban Transportation Planning Joel L. Horowitz, 1982 The protection of air quality through the control of man made pollution is not only a relatively recent issue of policy concern but also a relatively new subject of scientific investigation The Congestion Mitigation and Air Quality Improvement Program National Research Council (U.S.). Committee for the Evaluation of the Congestion Mitigation and Air Quality Improvement Program, 2002 The Congestion Mitigation and Air Quality Improvement CMAQ program was enacted as part of the surface transportation legislation This work recommends that Congress retain the sole federal surface transportation program that funds projects to reduce pollution and traffic congestion in areas that must comply with national air quality standards Transport Policy and the Environment Kenneth Button, 2013-11-05 Transport in particular the motor vehicle is a major source of environmental disruption and in the developed world accounts for thirty percent of energy consumption In most countries transport policy is a major government concern yet it is rare for decisions to be made outside a narrow set of sectoral considerations This book commissioned by the OECD looks at seven countries the UK the USA West Germany France The Netherlands Greece and Italy Each case demonstrates in different ways the problems in transport policies produced by the failure is a consequence of departmental division transport the environment the exchequer etc all have their own quite separate ministries Here a group of economists have demonstrated both the folly of such partial ways of thinking and in writing their critiques of specific disaster have provided models for ways forward Originally published in 1990 Journal of Transportation and Statistics, 2000 Provides a forum for the latest developments in transportation information and data theory concepts and methods of analysis relevant to all aspects of the transportation system Publishes original research on the use of information to improve public and private decisionmaking for transportation Predicting Air Quality Effects of Traffic-flow Improvements Richard Gerhard Dowling, National Cooperative Highway Research Program, 2005
