Animal Cognition Proceedings Of The Harry Frank Guggenheim Conference June 24 198:

Anthropocentrism and Its Discontents Gary Steiner, 2005-11-06 Anthropocentrism and Its Discontents is the first ever comprehensive examination of views of animals in the history of Western philosophy from Homeric Greece to the twentieth century In recent decades increased interest in this area has been accompanied by scholars willingness to conceive of animal experience in terms of human mental capacities consciousness self awareness intention deliberation and in some instances at least limited moral agency This conception has been facilitated by a shift from behavioral to cognitive ethology the science of animal behavior and by attempts to affirm the essential similarities between the psychophysical makeup of human beings and animals Gary Steiner sketches the terms of the current debates about animals and relates these to their historical antecedents focusing on both the dominant anthropocentric voices and those recurring voices that instead assert a fundamental kinship relation between human beings and animals He concludes with a discussion of the problem of balancing the need to recognize a human indebtedness to animals and the natural world with the need to preserve a sense of the uniqueness and dignity of the human individual
