Articulating Reasons Robert B. Brandom, 2001-10-15 Brandom is one of the most original philosophers of our day whose book Making It Explicit covered and extended a vast range of topics in metaphysics epistemology and philosophy of language the core of analytic philosophy This new work provides an approachable introduction to the complex system that Making It Explicit mapped out

Articulating Reasons Robert BRANDOM, 2009-06-30 Robert B Brandom is one of the most original philosophers of our day whose book Making It Explicit covered and extended a vast range of topics in metaphysics epistemology and philosophy of language the very core of analytic philosophy This new work provides an approachable introduction to the complex system that Making It Explicit mapped out A tour of the earlier book's large ideas and relevant details Articulating Reasons offers an easy entry into two of the main themes of Brandom's work the idea that the semantic content of a sentence is determined by the norms governing inferences to and from it and the idea that the distinctive function of logical vocabulary is to let us make our tacit inferential commitments explicit Brandom's work making the move from representationalism to inferentialism constitutes a near Copernican shift in the philosophy of language and the most important single development in the field in recent decades Articulating Reasons puts this accomplishment within reach of nonphilosophers who want to understand the state of the foundations of semantics

Displaying a sovereign command of the intricate discussion in the analytic philosophy of language Brandom manages successfully to carry out a program within the philosophy of language that has already been sketched by others without losing sight of the vision inspiring the enterprise in the important details of his investigation Using the tools of a complex theory of language Brandom succeeds in describing convincingly the practices in which the reason and autonomy of subjects capable of speech and action are expressed J rgen Habermas

Articulating a Thought Eli Alshanetsky, 2019 Articulating a thought can be astoundingly easy We generally have no trouble expressing complex ideas that we have never considered before though not always Articulating a thought can also be extremely hard Our difficulties in articulating thoughts pervade many aspects of philosophical inquiry as well as many ordinary situations While we may overcome some of the challenges through education and practice we cannot do away with them altogether And the hardest thoughts to articulate often come to us unbidden as we neither assemble them from other thoughts nor get them from any source of external information They can come from us freely and spontaneously and frequently we articulate them in order to find out what they are In many cases we would not bother articulating our thoughts if we already had this knowledge yet when we find the right words we can often instantly tell that they express our thought How do we manage to recognize the formulations of our thoughts in the absence of prior knowledge of what we are thinking And why is it that producing a public language formulation contributes in any way to the deeply private undertaking of coming to know our own thoughts In Articulating a Thought Eli Alshanetsky considers how we make our thoughts clear to ourselves in the process of putting them into words and examines the paradox of those difficult cases where we do not already know what we are struggling to articulate

German Idealism Espen Hammer, 2007-08-07 This outstanding collection of specially commissioned chapters examines German idealism from several angles and assesses the renewed interest in the subject from a wide range of fields Including discussions of the key representatives of German idealism such as Kant Fichte and Hegel it is structured in clear sections dealing with metaphysics the legacy of Hegel s philosophy Brandom and Hegel recognition and agency autonomy and nature the philosophy of German romanticism Amongst other important topics German Idealism Historical and Philosophical Perspectives addresses the debates surrounding the metaphysical and epistemological legacy of German idealism its importance for understanding recent debates in moral and political thought its appropriation in recent theories of language and the relationship between mind and world and how German idealism affected subsequent movements such as romanticism pragmatism and critical theory Contributors Espen Hammer Stephen Houlgate Sebastian Gardner Paul Redding Andrew Bowie Richard Eldridge Jay Bernstein Frederick Beiser Paul Franks Robert Pippin Fred Rush Manfred Frank Terry Pinkard Robert Stern

Secularisations and Their Debates Matthew Sharpe, Dylan Nickelson, 2013-10-30 This volume explores timely topics in contemporary political and social debates including the new atheisms the debate between Habermas and the Pope on the fate of modernity and the impact of new scientific developments on traditional religions This book collects articles first presented at the Deakin University World in Crisis workshop held November 2010 by leading Australasian philosophers and theologians It addresses questions raised by the recent much touted return to religion including possible reasons for the return and its practical political and intellectual prospects Secularisation and Their Debates is not afraid to provide answers to such questions as Is religion only ever a force of political reaction in modernity or are there resources in it which progressive even secular social movements could engage with or adopt Are the new atheisms or on the opposite side the new fundamentalisms really novel phenomena or has religion only ever been artificially sidelined in the modern Western states Has modern liberalism only really been kidding itself about its non doctrinal neutrality between different faiths and if so what should follow This book will appeal to researchers in the philosophy of religion social sciences political philosophy and anthropology

Constitutionalism Justified Ester Herlin-Karnell, Matthias Klatt, Héctor A. Excessive Subjectivity Dominik Finkelde, 2017-09-05 How are we to conceive of acts that suddenly expose the injustice of the prevailing order These acts challenge long standing hidden or silently tolerated injustices but as they are unsupported by existing ethical rules they pose a drastic challenge to dominant norms In Excessive Subjectivity Dominik Finkelde rereads the tradition of German idealism and finds in it the potential for transformative acts that are capable of revolutionizing the social order Finkelde s discussion of the meaning and structure of the ethical act meticulously engages thinkers typically treated as opposed Kant Hegel and Lacan to develop the concept of excessive subjectivity which is characterized by nonconformist acts that reshape the contours of ethical life For Kant the subject is defined by the ethical acts she performs Hegel interprets Kant s categorical imperative as the ability of an individual s conscience to exceed the existing state of affairs Lacan emphasizes the transgressive force of unconscious desire on the ethical agent Through these thinkers Finkelde develops a radical ethics for contemporary times Integrating perspectives from both analytical and continental philosophy Excessive Subjectivity is a distinctive contribution to our understanding of the ethical subject

Pragmatism Russell B. Goodman, 2005 Presents key texts in and about pragmatism from its origins in nineteenth century America to its contemporary revival as an international and multi disciplinary phenomenon

Integrative Learning of Theory and Practice Mariana Orozco, 2022-02-14 This book addresses the questions of what constitutes the integrative learning of theory and practice ILTP and how this learning progresses over time these are important questions that have been overlooked to date It introduces a new way of looking at the theory practice integration and presents the conceptual and empirical research that has led to such a view The conceptualisation of the ILTP and the description of the phenomenon of integration draw on psychological aspects of epistemological beliefs in TVET and on philosophical aspects of social reasoning In this inferentialist non dualistic epistemological perspective theory and practice are distinguished in terms of their use in reasoning rather than as intrinsically different forms of knowledge In particular the integrative learning is presented in terms of qualitative changes in chains of reasoning that connect theoretical and practical considerations This work represents a contribution to further educational research as it advances a novel operationalisation of the inferentialist framework Finally this work contributes to educational practice as it offers evidence based guidelines for practitioners concerned with instructional design in T VET The reported empirical investigations involved in depth qualitative research methods and were conducted at a micro level of instruction in alternating school based and work based programmes in the field of Chemicals Processing Technology CPT

Posthumanism Meets Surveillance Capitalism Patrick Gamez, 2025-07-01 The core contention of this book is that when viewed through the lens of contemporary posthuman theory contemporary uses of AI under platform capitalism not only undermine our sense of the human but also our frameworks for conceptualizing ourselves as subjects or selves at all This radical conclusion raises issues forces us to reckon with a new disorienting horizon for critical thought at the intersection of technology and politics This book demonstrates that two major streams of posthuman thought namely accelerationism and Prometheanism can be interpreted as attempts to liberate our desires from our reason or our rationality from our all too human desire each through the offloading of various tasks to emerging technologies But Patrick Gamez argues the rise of opaque unexplainable machine learning algorithms to predict and shape our behaviour undermines the common sense models of mind through which we ultimately make sense of both the human and the posthuman

Reasonable Disagreement Christopher McMahon, 2009-07-16 This book length treatment of reasonable disagreement in politics sheds light on this important and overlooked aspect of political life

Facing Epistemic Uncertainty Roel van Goor, 2012-09-01 Increasing doubts over the narratives that traditionally served to legitimize the tasks and possibilities of societal institutions such as science have also called into question the significance of philosophy to educational thinking Related debates largely concern epistemological issues i e issues regarding the nature and status of scientific knowledge This dissertation takes as its starting point the nowadays hardly controversial idea that all knowledge is to a certain extent uncertain The questions addressed are how this epistemic uncertainty may be intelligibly understood and what consequences can be drawn from such an understanding for the tasks and possibilities of philosophy of education as an academic discipline

This Sorrowful Song David Scott, 2025-09-10 This Sorrowful Song A Genealogy and Ethics of Critical Realism addresses the concept and practice of critical realism through a semiotic and ethical lens In trying to understand how a concept or a set of concepts functions in the world it is important to contextualise the way it functions within three networks or constellations of meaning antecedent frameworks coextensive frameworks and pragmatic frameworks This book is constructed around these three frameworks as any text about an idea ethics or a conceptual tradition a critical realist genealogy should be It traces the genealogy of the term critical realism through the work of Roy Sellars Ludwig Wittgenstein Wilfred Sellars Richard Rorty Roy Bhaskar and Robert Brandom It sets out a theory of critical realism its genealogical semantic ethical and pragmatic elements that pays due deference to these six seminal theorists contextualising this theory as a replacement and alternative to empiricism There is a dearth of monographs and introductory texts about the most important relation in social theory and meta philosophy that of world to mind and mind to world relations and connections the critical ethical and transformational apperceptive process

Metaphysics and the Future of Theology William J. Meyer, 2010-01-01 William J Meyer engages in critical and illuminating conversation with major figures in contemporary philosophy and theology in order to explain why theology has been marginalized in modern culture and why modernity has had such difficulty integrating religion and public life Wrestling with notable philosophers like MacIntyre and Stout and theologians such as Gustafson Hauerwas Porter Milbank and Reinhold Niebuhr Meyer argues that theology must embrace modernity s formal commitments to public and democratic discourse while simultaneously challenging its substantive postmetaphysical outlook Drawing on the philosophical perspectives of Whitehead and Hartshorne and the theologies of Ogden and Gamwell he concludes that a process metaphysical theology offers the most promising path for theology to regain a vital public voice in the world of the twenty first century

between Hegel and Anglo American analytical philosophies the author argues that the first generation of British analytic philosophers had in fact a limited understanding of this field leading to a misunderstanding of Hegel's philosophies in a number of areas

Philosophy and Temporality from Kant to Critical Theory Espen Hammer, 2011-03-31 This book is a critical analysis of how key philosophers in the European tradition have responded to the emergence of a modern conception of temporality Espen Hammer suggests that it is a feature of Western modernity that time has been forcibly separated from the natural cycles and processes with which it used to be associated In a discussion that ranges over Kant Hegel Schopenhauer Nietzsche Heidegger and Adorno he examines the forms of dissatisfaction which result from this together with narrative modes of configuring time the relationship between agency and temporality and possible challenges to the modern world's linear and homogenous experience of time His study is a rich exploration of an enduring philosophical theme the role of temporality in shaping and reshaping modern human affairs

Conceptual Realism and Historicity: Brandom versus Hegel Norman Schultz, 2024-12-23 A persistent challenge in philosophy is constructing an explicit link between mind and external reality In this regard this book introduces and examines two opposing philosophies It scrutinizes Brandom's inferentialist solution encompassing his influential work Making It Explicit 1994 and his controversial interpretation of Hegel as a conceptual realist in A Spirit of Trust 2019 Contrastingly it introduces Hegel's relativist historicism arguing that a robust epistemological framework does not necessitate an explicit link to mind independent reality By confining knowledge to its historical context it prevents adherence to false beliefs maintaining openness for truth to emerge one day Hegel, Literature, and the Problem of Agency Allen Speight, 2001-02-05 A study of Hegel s appeal to literature in the Phenomenology of Spirit
