Artisans And Entrepreneurs In The Rural Philippines:

Artisans and Entrepreneurs in the Rural Philippines Rosanne Rutten, 1993 Artisans and Cooperatives

Kimberly M. Grimes, B. Lynne Milgram, 2022-07-12 With new markets opening up for goods produced by artisans from all parts of the world craft commercialization and craft industries have become key components of local economies Now with the emergence of the Fair Trade movement and public opposition to sweatshop labor many people are demanding that artisans in third world countries not be exploited for their labor Bringing together case studies from the Americas and Asia this timely collection of articles addresses the interplay among subsistence activities craft production and the global market It contributes to current debates on economic inequality by offering practical examples of the political economic and cultural issues surrounding artisan production as an expressive vehicle of ethnic and gender identity Striking a balance between economic and ethnographic analyses the contributors observe what has worked and what hasn't in a range of craft cooperatives and show how some artisans have expanded their entrepreneurial role by marketing crafts in addition to producing them Among the topics discussed are the accommodation of craft traditions in the global market fair trade issues and the emerging role of the anthropologist as a proactive agent for artisan groups As the gap between rich and poor widens the fate of subsistence economies seems more and more uncertain The artisans in this book show that people can and do employ innovative opportunities to develop their talents and in the process strengthen their ethnic identities Contents Introduction Facing the Challenges of Artisan Production in the Global Market Kimberly M Grimes and B Lynne Milgram Democratizing International Production and Trade North American Alternative Trading Organizations Kimberly M Grimes Building on Local Strengths Nepalese Fair Trade Textiles Rachel MacHenry That They Be in the Middle Lord Women Weaving and Cultural Survival in Highland Chiapas Mexico Christine E Eber The International Craft Market A Double Edged Sword for Guatemalan Maya Women Martha Lynd Of Women Hope and Angels Fair Trade and Artisan Production in a Squatter Settlement in Guatemala City Brenda Rosenbaum Reorganizing Textile Production for the Global Market Women's Craft Cooperatives in Ifugao Upland Philippines B Lynne Milgram Textile Production in Rural Oaxaca Mexico and the Complexities of the Global Market for Handmade Crafts Jeffrey H Cohen Part Time for Pin Money The Legacy of Navajo Women's Craft Production Kathy M Closkey The Hard Sell Anthropologists as Brokers of Crafts in the Global Marketplace Andrew Causey Postscript To Market To Market June Nash Power and Intimacy in the Christian Philippines Fenella Cannell, 1999-03-18 What kind of reciprocity exists between unequal partners How can a culture which makes no attempt to defend unchanging traditions be understood as such In the Christian Philippines inequalities global and local are negotiated through idioms of persuasion reluctance and pity Fenella Cannell's study suggests that these are the idioms of a culture which does not need to represent itself as immutable Her account of Philippine spirit mediumship Catholicism transvestite beauty contests and marriage in Bicol calls for a reassessment of our understanding of South East Asian modernity

Combining a strong theoretical interest in the anthropology of religion with a broader comparative attention to recent developments in South East Asian studies she offers a powerful alternative to existing interpretations of the relationship between culture and tradition in the region and beyond This book addresses not only South East Asianists but all those with an interest in the anthropology of religion and post colonial cultures Power and Intimacy in the Christian Phillipines has won the Harry J Benda prize for 2001

Land, Poverty and Livelihoods in an Era of Globalization A. Haroon Akram-Lodhi, Saturnino M. Borras Jr., Cristóbal Kay, 2007-01-24 A host of internationally eminent scholars are brought together here to explore the structural causes of rural poverty and income inequality as well as the processes of social exclusion and political subordination encountered by the peasantry and rural workers across a wide range of countries This volume examines the intersection of politics and economics and provides a critical analysis and framework for the study of neo liberal land policies in the current phase of globalization Utilizing new empirical evidence from ten countries it provides an in depth analysis of key country studies a comparative analysis of agrarian reforms and their impact on rural poverty in Africa Asia Latin America and transition countries Presenting an agrarian reform policy embedded in an appropriate development strategy which is able to significantly reduce and hopefully eliminate rural poverty this work is a key resource for postgraduate students studying in the areas of development economics development studies and international political economy

Dutch Filipiniana Otto van den Muijzenberg, 1992-01-01 Until recently the Philippines were hardly known in the Netherlands In academic circles the focus was on Indonesia and publications on the Philippine part of the Malay archipelago tended to be inspired by matters of economy and state in the former Netherlands East Indies The 1970s and 1980s showed a substantial broadening of scope and increase in research as well as popular interest in the Philippines as is evidenced by the large majority of the 349 titles mentioned and annotated in this publication Many early publications contain interesting information and views as well however Pre war authors who are mainly known for their work on Indonesia such as Valentijn Van Ho vell Kern Abendanon E F E Douwes Dekker Van Vollenhoven Van Mook and Holleman at one or more stages of their careers also devoted attention to the Philippines The primary aim of this bibliography is to offer the international and Filipino scholarly public access to articles and books written by Dutch authors on the history sociology anthropology and to a lesser extent the geography languages economy and culture of the Philippines About two hundred of them appeared in the Dutch language The bibliography proper is preceded by an introduction on the history of relation between the Philippines and the Netherlands and the Netherlands Indies and on shifts in the subjects of Dutch scholarly research as well as popular interest Access to the titles is facilitated by a geographical and a subject index

Rebellious Families Jan Kok, 2002 Why do people rebel This is one of the most important questions historians and social scientists have been grappling with over the years It is a question to which no satisfactory answer has been found despite more than a century of research However in most cases the research has focused on what people do if they rebel but hardly ever why they rebel The essays in this volume offer an alternative perspective based on the question at what point families decided to add collective action to their repertoires of survival strategies In this way this volume opens up a promising new field of historical research the intersection of labour and family history The authors offer fascinating case studies in several countries spanning over four continents during the last two centuries In an extensive introduction the relevant literature on households and collective action is discussed and the volume is rounded off by a conclusion that provides methodological and theoretical suggestions for the further exploration of this new field in social history Philippine Economic Bibliography ,1987

Women Traders in Cross-Cultural Perspective Linda J. Seligmann,2002-03-01 This innovative volume studies women as economic political and cultural mediators of space gender value and language in informal markets Drawing on diverse methodologies multisited fieldwork linguistic analysis and archival research the contributors demonstrate how women move between and knit together household and marketplace activities This knitting together pivots on how household practices and economies are translated and transferred to the market as well as how market practices and economic principles become integral to the nature and construction of the household Exploring the cultural identities and economic practices of women traders in ten diverse locales Bolivia Ghana Hungary India Indonesia Mexico Morocco Nicaragua Peru and the Philippines the authors pay special attention to the effects of global forces national economic policies and nongovernmental organizations on women s participation in the market and the domestic sector The authors also consider the impact that women s economic and political activities in social movements public protests and more hidden kinds of subversive behavior have on state policy on the attitudes of different sectors of society toward female traders and on the dynamics of the market itself A final theme focuses on the cultural dimension of mediation Many women traders straddle cultural spheres and move back and forth between them Does this affect their participation in the market and their identities How do ties of ethnicity or acts of reciprocity affect the nature of commodity exchanges Do they create exchanges that are neither purely commodified nor wholly without calculation Or is it more often the case that ethnic commonalities and reciprocity merely mask the commodification of social and economic exchanges Does this straddling lead to the emergence of new kinds of hybrid identities and practices In considering these questions the authors specify the ways in which consumers contribute to identity formation among market women Petty Capitalists and Globalization Alan Smart,Josephine Smart,2012-02-01 Globalization is often seen as driven by large corporations and supranational organizations Enterprises operated by petty capitalists may be small but there is nothing petty about their significance for the operation of economies or our understanding of contemporary societies families and localities Petty Capitalism and Globalization uses ethnographic research to examine how small firms in Europe Asia and Latin America have been compelled to operate and compete in a fast moving transnational economic environment From Nepalese rug makers to German bakers to Taiwanese memory chip designers these fascinating case studies delve into the complex situation of petty capitalists often ambiguously situated between capital and labor cooperation and exploitation family and economy tradition and modernity friends and competitors Understanding the position of petty capitalists in a global economy provides lessons in the potential and limitations of promoting small firms and entrepreneurship as a route to sustainable development Women of a Lesser Cost Sylvia Chant, Cathy McIlwaine, 1995-07-20 An accessible introduction to models and theories of human nature and how they inform our professional practice Professional Social Work The Modern Anthropology of South-East Asia Victor King, William D. Wilder, 2020-09-10 This is a comprehensive introduction to the social and cultural anthropology of South East Asia It provides an overview of the major theoretical issues and themes which have emerged from the engagement of anthropologists with South East Asian communities a succinct historical survey and analysis of the peoples and cultures of the region Most importantly the volume reveals the vitally important role which the study of the area has occupied in the development of the concepts and methods of anthropology from the perspectives of Edmund Leach to Clifford Geertz Maurice Freedman to Claude Levi Strauss Lauriston Sharp to Melford Spiro Philippine Politics Lynn T. White III, 2014-12-17 Philippine political history especially in the twentieth century challenges the image of democratic evolution as serving the people and does so in ways that reveal inadequately explored aspects of many democracies In the first decades of the twenty first century the Philippines has nonetheless shown gradual socioeconomic progress This book provides an interpretive overview of Philippine politics and takes full account of the importance of patriotic Philippine factors in making decisions about future political policies It analyses whether regional and local politics have more importance than national politics in the Philippines Discussing cultural traditions of patronism it also examines how clan feuds localize the state and create strong local policies These conflicts in turn make regional and family run polities collectively stronger than the central state institution The book goes on to explore elections in the Philippines and in particular the ways in which politicians win democratic elections the institutionalized role of public money in this process and the role that media plays Offering a new interpretive overview of Philippine progress over many decades the author notes recent economic and political changes during the current century while also trying to advance ideas that might prove useful to Filipinos Presenting an in depth analysis of the problems and possibilities of politics and society in the Philippines the book will be of interest to those researching Southeast Asian Politics Political History and Asian Society and Culture Philippine Quarterly of Culture and Society, 2006 The Revolution Falters Patricio Abinales, 2018-05-31 A detailed investigation of the contemporary Philippine Left focusing on the political challenges and dilemmas that confronted activists following the disintegration of the Marcos regime and the reestablishment of electoral democracy under Corazon Aquino The authors focus on such varied topics as peasant politics urban social movements purges and executions and Marxist theory The Sociology of Southeast Asia Victor T. King, 2008 One of the main problems faced by teachers and students who have a scholarly interest in Southeast Asia is the lack of general user friendly texts in the social sciences The absence of an introduction to the sociology of Southeast Asia is especially unfortunate This volume attempts to meet these needs This is then the first sole authored introductory sociology text on Southeast Asia that focuses on change and development in the region provides an overview of the important sociological and political economy writings and considers the key concepts and themes in the field since 1945 Some multiauthored works do exist but these either are outdated or focus on specialized topics Aimed primarily at undergraduates up to the final year it will also be a useful reference work for post graduates and researchers who lack such a general work

Gender and Sustainability Mar'a Luz Cruz-Torres, Pamela McElwee, 2012-11-08 Gender and Sustainability deals with women's struggles to contend with global forces environmental change economic development discrimination and stereotyping about the roles of women and diminishing access to natural resources not in the abstract but in everyday life It addresses the lived complexities of the relationship between gender and sustainability

Tourism and Souvenirs Jenny Cave, Lee Jolliffe, Tom Baum, 2013-07-04 Souvenirs are part of global and local travel and tourism in all corners of the world This book portrays souvenirs as expressions of culture and as triggers of cultural change The volume provides critique and theorisation of souvenirs of places people and experiences in the context of lives lived at the margins of society politics tourism flows and urbanisation Case studies in sustainable tourism illustrate dynamic ways that consumers and suppliers use souvenirs to respond to resist and re interpret global and local influences upon cultures across informal hybrid and formal economies

A Generation Later James F. Eder, 1999-09-01 A Generation Later moves beyond analytical models of rural change that focus on the peasant agricultural aspect of rural communities and makes a convincing case for an approach that integrates farm and nonfarm occupations and does justice to the conditions of occupational multiplicity that characterize to an increasing extent many of the rural communities in Asia In this context it challenges conventional and simplistic peasant to proletarian views of change Rather than finding a dreary and dispirited landscape of sameness and hardship it offers some empirical support for a more optimistic view of the region's future one of growing household prosperity and widespread individual opportunity

Pro-poor Land Reform Saturnino M. Borras, 2007-09-06 Using empirical case materials from the Philippines and referring to rich experiences from different countries historically this book offers conceptual and practical conclusions that have far reaching implications for land reform throughout the world Examining land reform theory and practice this book argues that conventional practices have excluded a significant portion of land based production and distribution relationships while they have inadvertently included land transfers that do not constitute real redistributive reform By direct implication this book is a critique of both mainstream market led agrarian reform and conventional state led land reform It offers an alternative perspective on how to move forward in theory and practice and opens new paths in land policy research
