The Dynamics of Asian Economic Development Hitoshi Hirakawa, Ferdinand C. Maquito, 2024-12-10 One feature of this book is the clarification of the development mechanism of Asia as a regional economy for over half a century based on an Asian Economy Within the Global Economy approach that goes beyond the single country analytical framework The development of emerging economies has caught the world's attention from the Newly Industrializing Countries or Newly Industrializing Economies of the 1980s to the BRICs entering this century General economics cannot clarify the internal mechanism of the changing of newly industrialized economies led by Asia This book clarifies such regional development structure by focusing on the direct investments of multinational firms and the importance of gradual changes of specific policies adopted by newly industrialized economies Moreover the book concretely deals with the US China trade war and China's Belt and Road Initiative BRI as a problem of Asian economies In so doing the book not only perceives the structural change of the global economy as a structural change from a US centric global economy of the twentieth century to a China centric one but also focuses on the birthing of a new growth frontier in the world economy under a crisis brought about by a war for hegemony between the US and China The investment initiative through China's BRI has prompted the investment competition between Japan and the US which has made even stronger the possibility of giving birth to a new economic frontier in Afro Eurasia Another feature is the consideration of various issues that confront Asian countries in their search for economic development using the Philippines as a case study The analysis of the study points to the importance of a shared growth perspective which is based on an Asian development model and discusses the challenge of overcoming the issues of the economic development model within the region At the same time this book studies the significance and new issues as a region of the economy and overseas policies of attention drawer China interest to scholars in East Asian economics and all those interested in modern economic development Asian development outlook 1999, 1999 Co-design for a New East Asia After the Crisis H. Hirakawa, Y.-H. Kim, 2012-12-06 East Asia enjoyed a role as a growth center of the world economy from the 1960s until the currency and economic crisis of 1997 In 1993 the World Bank issued a report entitled The East Asian Miracle Economic Growth and Public Policy in which the bank expressed its admiration for the region's rapid economic development However within only four years the region had fallen prey to the currency and economic crisis that spread outward from Thailand In the midst of the crisis many East Asian countries began at long last to cooperate with one another in order to cope with these unprecedented difficulties and to prevent another crisis In fact the East Asian region was an exception throughout the 1990s with respect to regionalism A surge of regionalism which began in Europe in the second half of the 1980s spread to North America and Latin America However the North east Asian region in particular consisting of Japan China People's Republic of China and Korea Republic of Korea did not participate in any kind of regional economic arrangements Regional cooperation frameworks were limited to countries belonging to the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN and did not spread to the Northeast Asian region

Asian Development Outlook 2001 Asian Development Bank, 2001 The Rise of the Corporate Economy in Southeast Asia Rajeswary Ampalavanar Brown, 2007-01-24 Backed by detailed empirical data Raj Brown gives a comprehensive analysis of the rise of the corporate economy in Southeast Asia focusing in particular on corporate organization methods of finance business environment and corporate governance Indonesia and the Asian Development Bank Peter McCawley, 2020-06-01 This publication is a history of the partnership between Indonesia and the Asian Development Bank ADB When Indonesia became a founding member of the bank in 1966 the country faced daunting challenges In the five decades that passed both Indonesia and ADB have evolved in remarkable ways Indonesia developed rapidly through the late 1990s yet faced a difficult time of adjustment after the Asian financial crisis of 1997 1998 The country has since resumed growth in the last decade For its part ADB has widened its activities in Indonesia transforming from a project oriented bank into a broad based development institution This effective partnership reflects Indonesia's success in working with the international community in the past 50 years Making Education Work Cláudio de Moura Castro, Aimee E. Verdisco, 2002 Mini Hydropower for Rural Development Thomas Meier, 2001 Rural electrification enjoys high priority on Indonesia's development agenda In remote villages located beyond the reach of national electricity grids mini hydropower offers an environmentally friendly alternative to decentralized electricity generation Technical assistance programs have successfully introduced mini hydro technology in developing countries but have often failed to attain sustainable plant operation This book provides insight into the multifaceted conditions under which village communities are struggling to keep systems running A new approach linking productive electricity use and mini hydro operation is developed which incorporates experiences of market oriented approaches in small enterprise development Village communities are no longer left alone after the commissioning of the plants but are continuously provided need oriented services The study is exceptional in that the approach is experimentally applied in an actual project involving a village owned coffee roastery It is shown that the new approach not only contributes to a sustainable electricity supply but also to village development

The Economy of the Philippines Peter Krinks,2003-09-02 In the late 1950s the Filipino economy could reasonably have been described as more advanced than those of its South Asian neighbours Ever since then however it has consistently lagged behind and only really started to grow strongly in the mid 1990s and even then it failed to achieve the growth rates of the rest of Southeast Asia ten years earlier This book critically analyses the Filipino economy and attempts to explain the problems that it has faced as well as the solutions that need to be put into practice This accessible and comprehensive book will be of great use to students academics and business professionals with an interest in the economies of Asia

International Financial Governance under Stress Geoffrey R. D. Underhill,Xiaoke Zhang,2003-04-03 Persistent episodes of global financial crises have placed the existing system of international monetary and financial governance under stress The resulting economic turmoil provides a focal point for rethinking the norms and institutions of global financial architecture and the policy options of public and private authorities at national regional and transnational levels This volume moves beyond analysis of the causes and consequences of recent financial crises and concentrates on issues of policy Written by distinguished scholars it focuses on the tension between global market structures and national policy imperatives Accessible to both specialists and general readers the analysis is coherent across a broad range of theoretical and empirical cases Offering a series of reasoned policy responses to financial integration and crises the volume grapples directly with the institutional and often neglected normative dimensions of international financial architecture The volume thus constitutes required reading for scholars and policy makers

International Trade , China Review 2000 Chung-Ming Lau,Jianfa Shen,2000 The showing of sophisticated modern weapons during the fiftieth anniversary of the Chinese Communist Party heralded China s emergence as a great power in the arena of politics At the same time China was finally admitted to the World Trade Organization after thirteen years negotiation With its two digit GNP annual growth rate China seemed poised to become the second largest economy in the world Many analysts argue that China will play an increasingly important role in the future whether in politics or economics China Review 2000 features a review of overall changes in the political economic social and business environments during the past twenty years of reform along with perspectives on major issues confronting the People s Republic in the new millennium

China's Economy Into The New Century: Structural Issues And Problems Ding Lu,John Wong,2002-07-18 In the last two decades of the 20th century China stood out as the world's star performer in economic growth thanks to the market oriented reform that started in 1978. At the turn of the century the Chinese economy faces a series of challenges to sustain its growth and stability. The two decade long rapid growth has effectively strengthened China's economic power and raised its people's standard of living. It has also transformed China from a centrally planned command economy into a socialist market economy which operates increasingly in line with capitalist norms. Major structural problems however remain and are growing acute. Weakness in the fiscal system breeds rent seeking at the local level and causes tension in the state budget. The flawed financial institutions and the biased ownership structure continue to distort resource allocation and cause huge efficiency losses. Inter provincial and inter regional disparity is reaching a level that threatens national unity and social stability. As China joins the World Trade Organization and becomes more integrated into the world economy it urgently needs to improve the domestic business environment and to beef up indigenous industries for foreign competition. This volume is a collection of papers written by scholars at the East Asian Institute to address those problems during the period 1999-2001. The authors with their knowledge and experience in China studies provide in depth observations and professional analyses of some of the most important issues for the Chinese economy at the turn of the century. Some of the observations and analyses lead to enlightening policy recommendations. The solid scholarship combined with the policy orientation of these papers will appeal greatly to researchers in academia, governments and other institutions. The policy oriented and fact based analyses will also be of interest to practitioners in business including business consultants.
