Lutheran Churches in Early Modern Europe Andrew Spicer, 2016-12-05 Until recently the impact of the Lutheran Reformation has been largely regarded in political and socio economic terms yet for most people it was not the abstract theological debates that had the greatest impact upon their lives but what they saw in their parish churches every Sunday This collection of essays provides a coherent and interdisciplinary investigation of the impact that the Lutheran Reformation had on the appearance architecture and arrangement of early modern churches Drawing upon recent research being undertaken by leading art historians and historians on Lutheran places of worship the volume emphasises often surprising levels of continuity reflecting the survival of Catholic fixtures fittings and altarpieces and exploring how these could be remodelled in order to conform with the tenets of Lutheran belief The volume not only addresses Lutheran art but also the way in which the architecture of their churches reflected the importance of preaching and the administration of the sacraments Furthermore the collection is committed to extending these discussions beyond a purely German context and to look at churches not only within the Holy Roman Empire but also in Scandinavia the Baltic States as well as towns dominated by Saxon communities in areas such as in Hungary and Transylvania By focusing on ecclesiastical material culture the collection helps to place the art and architecture of Lutheran places of worship into the historical political and theological context of early modern Europe

Schlüteriana III Kevin E. Kandt, 2015-11-06 This third volume of the new serial publication Schlüteriana continues the commemoration of the 300th anniversary of Schlüter's death and is dedicated solely to the funerary monuments created by the sculptor his school and followers in Berlin and the Brandenburg region of north eastern Germany The single text presented here is subtitled Part Two Germany and serves as the second installment of a comprehensive in depth survey focused on this highly important genre in the sculptor's oeuvre It completes the examination initiated by Part One Poland published in Schlüteriana II which dealt with Schlüter's tomb art created during his earlier sojourn in Polish territories The primary aim of this current publishing project is to bring about a more complete overall understanding of the artist's production from both his Polish and German years In these two articles we have concentrated on his funerary sculpture by providing in an essay catalogue format greatly enhanced by an exhaustive photographic documentation of each object discussed a fundamental description of monuments closely associated with the artist and his circle including comparative analysis based upon key examples from European Baroque art Certain sepulchral monuments created by the sculptor and his assistants in Berlin may already be somewhat better known to the lay public and art historians however those works from his Polish years have thus far still been somewhat neglected and inadequately received into the realm of Schlüter's total output This two part study which attempts to present all the works together along with supplemental commentary on pertinent historical social and iconographic contexts of the times when this art was created will hopefully begin to enrich our understanding of the inter relationships they share and contribute to a fuller reconstruction of

Andreas Schlüter's artistic development throughout his entire career Schlüteriana III is being published in remembrance not only of Schlüter's death in 1714 but also as a tribute to a Berlin scholar who spent many years of her career deeply involved with research into the master's greatest work of architecture the Berlin Stadtschloss Her kindness and generosity in the free exchange of information led to many stimulating discussions about the artist which still after more than two decades inspire this author's own studies until today

Schlüteriana II Kevin E. Kandt, 2014-03-01 The year 2014 marks the 300th anniversary of the death of the great German Baroque sculptor and architect Andreas Schlüter In commemoration this second issue of the new serial publication Schlüteriana Studies in the Art Life and Milieu of Andreas Schlüter written and edited by its author presents two articles on this brilliant artist's creations Schlüter was a master of truly international significance whose work is relatively well known to scholars and the general public within the borders of Europe's German speaking countries but much less so to readers outside them Yet a great deal of research cataloguing and analysis of his art still remains to be accomplished and it is the aim of this and future volumes of Schlüteriana to fulfill the task Featured in this issue are important facets of Schlüter's output his drawings and funerary sculpture Examined here are rare drawings with allegorical astro nomical themes ascribed to his almost non existent oeuvre of works on paper Included as well is the first installment of a major two part study on the sculptor s tomb art in Poland and Germany In Part One Poland projects from the artist s earliest years are studied in detail with key examples from contemporary European Baroque sepulchral monuments brought forward as comparisons to highlight their significance for Schl ter s artwork The examination continues in the second installment Part Two Germany to be published in Schl teriana III Both studies shall provide a complete overview in an essay catalogue form of Andreas Schl ter s documented and attributed funerary monuments located in these countries Schl teriana I first appeared in Aus Hippocrenes Quell Ein Album amico rum kunsthistorischer Beitr ge zum 60 Geburtstag von Gerd Helge Vogel published by Lukas Verlag in 2011
