Bernard Of Clairvaux On The Life Of The Mind:

Bernard of Clairvaux on the Life of the Mind John R. Sommerfeldt, 2004 A study of the many faceted complex yet consistent thought of the most influential thinker of the first half of the twelfth century whose thought influenced all medieval thinkers including Luther and Calvin

The Inner Lives of Medieval Inquisitors Karen Sullivan, 2011-03-15 There have been numerous studies in recent decades of the medieval inquisitions most emphasizing larger social and political circumstances and neglecting the role of the inquisitors themselves In this volume Karen Sullivan sheds much needed light on these individuals and reveals that they had choices both the choice of whether to play a part in the orthodox repression of heresy and more frequently the choice of whether to approach heretics with zeal or with charity In successive chapters on key figures in the Middle Ages Bernard of Clairvaux Dominic Guzman Conrad of Marburg Peter of Verona Bernard Gui Bernard D'licieux and Nicholas Eymerich Sullivan shows that it is possible to discern each inquisitor making personal moral choices as to what course of action he would take All medieval clerics recognized that the church should first attempt to correct heretics through repeated admonitions and that if these admonitions failed it should then move toward excluding them from society Yet more charitable clerics preferred to wait for conversion while zealous clerics preferred not to delay too long before sending heretics to the stake By considering not the external prosecution of heretics during the Middle Ages but the internal motivations of the preachers and inquisitors who pursued them as represented in their writings and in those of their peers The Inner Lives of Medieval Inquisitors explores how it is that the most idealistic of purposes can lead to the justification of such dark ends

In the Spirit Candace L. Kohli, 2024-11-14 How does the Christian produce good works in service of her neighbor after justification In Martin Luther's famous 1520 treatise The Freedom of a Christian the Reformer claimed that Christ's love springs spontaneously from the Christian's soul as good works In Luther's late medieval theological context however this statement was incoherent with philosophical theories of moral action which required an interplay between the soul and body This problem persists in Lutheran theology today where human passivity in justification is extended over the Christian's entire temporal life Yet Luther seemed to find solutions to this question in his late controversies with Johann Agricola over law and gospel This study looks to pneumatological developments in that controversy for resources that support a more coherent view of moral action in the Christian life
