THE BEST DAY ...of Their Life : Reward Yourself By Rewarding Others Trina McDougall,2012-09-01 Includes 20 theme days of how to make an amazing day for someone special with easy step by step instructions of pure fun on a shoe string budget that can last all day long An ideas extravaganza feast With individual tastes catered for and some real life examples that have been tried and tested The heart of this book unfolds the reward that comes when one takes action to bless others What a THRILL When a dear one has said Trina you gave me THE BEST DAY of my life This thrill in not only sharing that experience with them but in creating such a day is absolutely incredible This thrill is too precious to not encourage others to do the same and provide principles avenues tools and practical help The ideas can be adapted to suit unique situations and promote the experience of rewards that come when reaching out and do something for someone else Encouraging fulfilment to the precious thing that we call LIFE A World Scientific Encyclopedia Of Business Storytelling, Set 2: Methodologies And Big Data Analysis Of Business Storytelling (In 5 Volumes) ,2023-10-13 This set of multi reference works is meant to be read together as the five volumes interlace one another like the laces of a shoe in the famous painting by Vincent van Gogh The question of who will wear the shoes is long debated in art history and philosophy If we take these five volumes from different points of view on the theory and practice of business storytelling then we have a crisscrossing a new and impressive dialogue for the reader This set is presented as a new way to lace up the laces of business storytelling Volume 1 aims to help and inspire leaders business owners and researchers in creating a commitment to ethical and sustainable changes and ideas and live in a world of high complexity without getting stressed but experiencing freedom instead The book combines tools case studies and theories about the ethical change management method of True Storytelling and other perspectives and views on ethics and storytelling It delves into important topics such as true storytelling sustainability and freedom storytelling and start ups in the health industry storytelling and diversity and culture storytelling and teams storytelling sustainability and the UN Goals storytelling and well being storytelling in higher education and storytelling and fundraising Book authors are experienced and successful researchers business owners leaders and consultants from Scandinavia the USA Africa and Europe Volume 2 is an endeavor into the creation of new concepts for engaging with sustainability It maintains that storytelling is important for our emplacement in nature and can be important for enacting another relationship between nature and the cultural artifice our social and material constructions of houses cities villages harbors streets and railways and our use of objects and artifacts to construct our lives Business storytelling communication is that space for social symbolic work that brings the symbolic objects of the organization the human and the natural environment into a dialogical relationship Volume 3 posits that organizations are arranged as social symbols that are arranged in institutions based on the needs of organics for example health food shelter mating leisure and labor Organics as a social symbolic object specifically humans have emotions language and culture to organize their institutions and organizations In this book readers will find that many of the authors attempt to understand the body s exclusion or attempt to bring the body back into the organization Business storytelling communication takes aim at the social symbolic work of making space to negotiate the social arrangement of organizations with its organic components Volume 4 covers a variety of methodological topics from a storytelling perspective Why a storytelling perspective Consider that a common business research goal is to convince others that what the researcher has to say matters If the researcher is a basic researcher who wishes to promote a theory the goal is to make a convincing case for the value of that theory If the researcher is an applied researcher who wishes to promote a particular application intervention or policy change the goal is likewise to make a convincing case Either way the researcher has a story to tell and the onus is on the researcher to tell the best possible story storytelling failures likely will result in a failure to convince others of the value of one s theory or application Here is where methodological issues come into play Poor methodology whether in the form of less than optimal study designs or invalid statistical analyses harms story quality In contrast high quality methods and statistics enhance story quality Moreover the larger one s methodological and statistical toolbox the greater the opportunities for researchers to tell effective stories The chapters in this book come from a wide variety of perspectives and should enhance researchers storytelling in the following ways By opening many different methodological and statistical perspectives researchers should be more able to think of research stories that otherwise would remain unavailable or inaccessible

Secondly the present chapters should aid researchers in better executing their research stories Therefore researchers and graduate students will find this book an invaluable resource Volume 5 opens a window into the world of quantum storytelling as an organizational research methodology providing numerous exemplars of work in this storytelling science that has disrupted qualitative inquiry only with the intention of providing expanded improved and generative ways of understanding and knowing the narratives that emerge from qualitative interviews and observations during organizational research studies

Teaching To Avoid Plagiarism: How To Promote Good Source Use Pecorari, Diane,2013-09-01 Plagiarism is a serious problem in higher education and one that the majority of university teachers have encountered This book provides the skills and resources that university teachers and learning and development support staff need in order to tackle it As a complex issue that requires thoughtful and sensitive handling plagiarism simply cannot be addressed by warnings detection software and punishment alone Teaching to Avoid Plagiarism focuses on prevention rather than punishment and promotes a proactive rather than reactive approach to dealing with the issue Topics covered in this book include The causes of plagiarism How universities currently deal with plagiarism How teachers can support students in effective source use The role of technology Issues for second language writers and international students Drawing on her teaching experience as well as her academic research Diane Pecorari offers a unique insight into this pervasive problem as well as practical advice on how to promote good source use to students and help them to avoid plagiarism With a series of activities to help readers solidify their grasp of the approaches advised in the book Teaching to Avoid Plagiarism is an essential guide for anyone in a student facing role who wants to handle plagiarism more effectively Diane Pecorari s book provides practical examples and activities on handling plagiarism blended with research based findings It is useful for teachers wanting to improve their understanding and practices in managing plagiarism but also student advisors and academic support skills staff who deal with issues of academic integrity This book makes a unique contribution to the field of plagiarism management as its structure affords direct professional development opportunities. Assessment tasks, broad questions and activities are provided at the end of each chapter encouraging readers to understand both policy and practice in their own institution to better manage plagiarism and source attribution. Dr Wendy Sutherland, Smith School of Psychology, Faculty of Health, Deakin University, Australia, Teaching to Avoid Plagiarism successfully turns attention away from the detection and punishment of plagiarism and focuses instead on understanding and prevention through the promotion of good source use. Combining practical activities based on real life examples with wide ranging original research, this important book should be required reading not only for staff development officers and lecturers but more widely throughout the higher education community. Maggie Charles, Oxford University Language Centre. Diane Pecorari's insightful research and scholarship on plagiarism is used to excellent effect in this book which advocates a proactive rather than reactive approach to the difficulties faced by students in learning how to integrate their source texts. Thoughtful activities and discussion questions aimed at staff development are teamed with advice on ways to build in support within disciplinary writing which will help students master the necessary academic skills to avoid plagiarism. The emphasis quite rightly is also on helping students understand how plagiarism disrupts the ethical values of the academy and is not just another hurdle placed in their way by academic insiders. Dr Ann Hewings, Director, Centre for Language and Communication, The Open University. As stated by Diane Pecorari in the first sentence of this excellent volume, plagiarism is a problem in our universities. The volume demonstrates clearly how teachers and students can deal with this problem by developing a better understanding of the phenomenon on the one hand and developing specific skills in dealing with it on the other. Working from the principle that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, Diane Pecorari argues for a proactive approach to handling issues of plagiarism with an emphasis on the need to train students how to deal appropriately with sources. As well as a clear exposition of the theoretical issues at stake, the book contains a wealth of practical activities and discussion questions which will allow readers to develop the sort of competence in dealing with plagiarism that is the goal of the volume. Professor John Flowerdew, City University of Hong Kong.
