Best Of Gowanus New Writing From Africa:

Dying for Freedom Jacob Dlamini, 2024-07-09 What happens when death becomes the ultimate marker of one's commitment to one's freedom? What happens when the opposite of freedom is not unfreedom but death, not slavery but mortality? How are we to think of the right to life when a political demand for dignity and honor might be more important than life itself? Dying for Freedom explores these questions by drawing on archival evidence from South Africa to show how death and conflicting notions of sacrifice dominated the struggle for political equality in that country. This political investment in death as a marker of commitment to the anti-apartheid struggle encouraged a masculinist style of politics in which the fight for freedom was seen and understood by many activists as a struggle literally for manhood. This investment generated a notion of political sacrifice so absolute that anything less than death was rendered suspect. More importantly, it resulted in a hierarchy of death whereby some deaths were more important than others and where some deaths could be mourned and others not. This highly original account of the necropolitics of the liberation struggle will be of interest to students and scholars throughout the humanities and social sciences and to anyone interested in South Africa. The Best of Gowanus

Thomas J. Hubschman, 2001 Short stories and essays from Africa, Asia and the Caribbean Dalit Theology, Boundary Crossings and Liberation in India

Jobymon Skaria, 2024-06-27 Jobymon Skaria, an Indian St. Thomas Christian scholar, offers a critique of Indian Christian theology and suggests that constructive dialogues between Biblical and dissenting Dalit voices such as Chokhamela Karmamela Ravidas, Kabir, Nandanar, and Narayana Guru could set right the imbalance within Dalit theology and could establish dialogical partnerships between Dalit theologians, non-Dalit Christians, and Syrian Christians. Drawing on Biblical and socio-historical resources, this book examines a radical yet overlooked aspect of Dalit cultural and religious history which would empower the Dalits in their everyday existences. African-American Writers

Philip Bader, 2014-05-14 African American authors have consistently explored the political dimensions of literature and its ability to affect social change. African American literature has also provided an essential framework for shaping cultural identity and solidarity. From the early slave narratives to the folklore and dialect verse of the Harlem Renaissance to the modern novels of today. The Languages and Linguistics of South Asia

Hans Henrich Hock, Elena Bashir, 2016-05-24 With nearly a quarter of the world's population members of at least five major language families plus several putative language isolates, South Asia is a fascinating arena for linguistic investigations, whether comparative historical linguistics, studies of language contact and multilingualism, or general linguistic theory. This volume provides a state-of-the-art survey of linguistic research on the languages of South Asia, with contributions by well-known experts. Focus is both on what has been accomplished so far and on what remains unresolved or controversial, and hence offers challenges for future research. In addition to covering the languages, their histories, and their genetic classification, as well as phonetics, phonology, morphology, syntax, and sociolinguistics, the volume provides special coverage of contact and convergence indigenous South Asian grammatical traditions applications of modern technology to South Asian languages and South Asian writing systems An appendix offers a classified listing of major sources and resources both digital online and printed The Best of Gowanus II Thomas J.
