Stories Are True Tracie Church Guzzio, 2011-05-17 In All Stories Are True Tracie Church Guzzio provides the first full length study of John Edgar Wideman's entire oeuvre to date Specifically Guzzio examines the ways in which Wideman b 1941 engages with three crucial themes history myth and trauma throughout his career showing how they intertwine Guzzio argues that for four decades the influential African American writer has endeavored to create a version of the African American experience that runs counter to mainstream interpretations using history and myth to confront and then heal the trauma caused by slavery and racism Wideman's work intentionally blurs boundaries between fiction and autobiography myth and history particularly as that history relates to African American experience in his hometown of Pittsburgh Pennsylvania The fusion of fiction national history and Wideman's personal life is characteristic of his style which due to its complexity and smudging of genre distinctions has presented analytic difficulties for literary scholars Despite winning the PEN Faulkner award twice for Sent for You Yesterday 1984 and Philadelphia Fire 1990 Wideman remains understudied Of particular value is Guzzio's analysis of the many ways in which Wideman alludes to his previous works This intertextuality allows Wideman to engage his books in direct intentional dialogue with each other through repeated characters images folktales and songs In Wideman's challenging of a monolithic view of history and presenting alternative perspectives to it and his allowing past present and future time to remain fluid in the narratives Guzzio finds an author firm in his notion that all stories and all perspectives have merit      The Story of Narrative Preaching Mike Graves,2015-03-02 Forty years ago the one thing that could be said about sermons was they were biblical Unfortunately they were sometimes tedious too Narrative preaching aimed to fix that advocating for a dynamic experience of the text over against a static lecture Preaching could be like the parables of Jesus intriguing and compelling The Story of Narrative Preaching is the story of seven students who are enrolled in Professor Freeman s preaching course Once a new trend narrative preaching is now older than most of them As Professor Freeman notes two things went wrong with narrative styles over time the church became biblically and theologically illiterate and the promised stress on experience didn t always measure up to the weight of the gospel Readers are invited to sit in on the class to reflect on the expositional nature of preaching and to experience the stories of some modern storytellers Flannery O Connor Alice Walker and others to see what they might teach us about narratives of depth In the end we discover what may be the most important word in preaching      Conversations with Tim Gautreaux L. Lamar Nisly,2012-07-27 Louisiana writer Tim Gautreaux b 1947 writes fiction that mixes equal parts dry humor tall tales and deep tragedy His stories and novels of working class Acadiana portray lives of inimitably poignant love loss and longing The depth and complexity of Gautreaux s writing invite scholarly appraisals as well as critics mine the richness of his moral vision These interviews reveal the intensity of his sense of place his deep connection to the mechanical and working world his commitment to the craft of writing and his Catholic view that has been shaped by Flannery O Connor and Walker Percy Conversations with Tim Gautreaux collects interviews from 1993 to 2009 with the author of The Missing The Clearing Welding with Children and many other vital works of fiction Readers who have been engaged with the themes in his stories and novels will find themselves equally taken with the kind and thoughtful voice they discover in interviews
