Class Power And Ideology In Ghana:

Class, Power and Ideology in Ghana Richard Jeffries, 1978-11-02 Although there is a growing body of literature on the process and potential political consequences of class formation in Africa there are virtually no detailed studies of the political attitudes and behaviour of African industrial workers First published in 1978 this study analyses the political history and sociology of one particular group the railway workers of Ghana's third city Sekondi Takoradi who are renowned for their leading role in the Ghanaian nationalist movement and for their sustained opposition to the elitism and authoritarianism of post Independence governments In seeking to explain the ideological consistency which has informed the political activities of the railway workers Richard Jeffries shows how within a close knit and relatively stable community a keen sense of their own history has provided the basis for a shared political culture      The Failure of Grassroots Pan-Africanism Opoku

Agyeman, 2003-01-01 A work of masterful scholarship and powerful feeling The Failure of Grassroots Pan Africanism traces the political history of a Pan Africanist inspired non aligned trade union federation the All African Trade Union Federation AATUF Set up in 1961 this federation's mission was to provide organizational impetus to the cause of the political unification of Africa's multitude of artificial nonviable states This thoroughly researched analysis establishes the multiple causes of the AATUF's tragic failure and author Opoku Agyeman examines key players such as the sponsoring radical nationalist African political leaderships the World Federation of Trade Unions the American AFL CIO and the CIA At the dawn of the twenty first century few scholarly tasks are as urgent as exploring the creative options that exist for Africa's regeneration Agyeman furthers this task in his examination of the appropriate modalities for forging collaboration between African states No other book on Africa combines such strong scholarship with an uncompromising Pan Africanist outlook      Making Men in Ghana

Stephan Miescher, 2005 By featuring the life histories of eight senior men Making Men in Ghana explores the changing meaning of becoming a man in modern Africa Stephan F Miescher concentrates on the ideals and expectations that formed around men who were prominent in their communities when Ghana became an independent nation Miescher shows how they negotiated complex social and economic transformations and how they dealt with their mounting obligations and responsibilities as leaders in their kinship groups churches and schools Not only were notions about men and masculinity shaped by community standards but they were strongly influenced by imported standards that came from missionaries and other colonial officials As he recounts the life histories of these men Miescher reveals that the passage to manhood and a position of power seniority authority and leadership was not always welcome or easy As an important foil for studies on women and femininity this groundbreaking book not only explores masculinity and ideals of male behavior but offers a fresh perspective on African men in a century of change      The Politics of Reform in Ghana, 1982-1991 Jeffrey Herbst, 2023-04-28

Economic reform was the most pressing question for African and other Third World countries during the 1980s In this first full length examination of the political economy of adjustment in Ghana Jeffrey Herbst describes the causes of Ghana's dramatic economic decline and reviews the politics of reform that began in 1983 Since Ghana was one of the first African countries to adopt a comprehensive reform program and the one that has sustained adjustment longest the Ghanaian experience has profound ramifications for debates regarding stabilization and structural change across the continent Herbst devotes special attention to the interaction between the type of government and the politics of adjustment the reaction of interest groups such as urban labor and the peasantry and the relationship between economic and political change His extended field research and sophisticated knowledge of the issues involved both from the economic and political science literature make this study of importance not only to Africanists political scientists economists and sociologists but also to government and financial leaders wrestling with economic reform in developing countries This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1993

Transforming Sudan Alden Young, 2018 This book traces the formation of the Sudanese state following the Second World War through a developmentalist ideology Political Obligation in Its Historical Context John Dunn, 2002-04-11 Mr Dunn addresses the central questions of political philosophy from an unusually broad variety of perspectives State Power and Social Forces Joel Samuel Migdal, Atul Kohli, Vivienne Shue, 1994-08-26 This eminently readable 1994 collection of high quality country specific essays on Third World politics provides through a variety of well integrated themes and approaches an examination of state theory as it has been practised in the past and how it must be refined for the future The contributors go beyond the previously articulated bringing the state back in model to offer their own state in society approach They argue that states which should be disaggregated for meaningful comparative study are best analysed as parts of societies States may help mould but are also continually moulded by the societies within which they are embedded States capacities further will vary depending on their ties to other social forces And other social forces will be capable of being mobilised into political contention only under certain conditions Political contention pitting states against other social forces may sometimes be mutually enfeebling but at other times mutually empowering Political Development and the New Realism in Sub-Saharan Africa David Ernest Apter, Carl Gustav Rosberg, 1994 Since the 1950s David Apter and Carl Rosenberg have been among the leading American scholars in African Studies In this volume they along with other major specialists in the field explore the new configurations of African politics With tentative efforts at a revival of democracy now taking place it seems appropriate to reassess the theoretical debates and empirical themes that have characterized postwar Sub Saharan African politics Focusing on new realism that has emerged among Africanists since the dismantling of colonial rule the essays are presented as a corrective both to the initial euphoria informing African studies and to the later tendency to place blame for all Africa's political and economic difficulties on the receding specter of colonial oppression Encyclopedia of African

History 3-Volume Set KEVIN SHILLINGTON.,2005      Visions of African Unity Matteo Grilli, Frank Gerits, 2021-02-09 This collection of essays analyzes different iterations of African unity exploring the political and cultural visions that informed projects aimed at African unification It explores the cultural economic and non state aspects of the Organisation of African Unity OAU as the principal institution dedicated to the cooperation of African states from its establishment in 1963 to its transformation into the African Union AU in 2000 as well as how ideas of African unity shaped the Cold War and African liberation struggles Bringing together contributors from a diverse range of disciplinary backgrounds across Africa Europe and the US this book investigates the ideological origins and historiography of Pan African and unification projects and considers how African intellectuals leaders and populations engaged with these ideas      Decolonization and African Society Frederick Cooper, 1996-08-28 This detailed and authoritative volume changes our conceptions of imperial and African history Frederick Cooper gathers a vast range of archival sources in French and English to achieve a truly comparative study of colonial policy toward the recruitment control and institutionalization of African labor forces from the mid 1930s when the labor question was first posed to the late 1950s when decolonization was well under way Professor Cooper explores colonial conceptions of the African worker and shows how African trade union and political leaders used the new language of social change to claim equality and a share of power This helped to persuade European officials that the modern Africa they imagined was unaffordable Britain and France could not reshape African society As they left the continent the question was how they had affected the ways in which Africans could reorganize society themselves      Political Domination in Africa Patrick Chabal, 1986-10-09 This collection of essays brings together historians and political scientists from Britain France and the United States who from widely differing perspectives and traditions have been involved in the process of rethinking African politics They present here the outline of a new approach grounded in universal political theory rather than on theories of Third World political development This seeks to integrate the history of Africa from pre to post colonial with concepts of political theory as they have been applied historically to the analysis of Europe and America The book addresses a wide audience students of African history and politics of Third World development and of political theory      Fighting for Britain David Killingray, 2012 Based mainly on oral evidence and soldiers letters tells the story of over half a million African troops who served with the British Army in campaigns in the Horn of Africa the Middle East Italy and Burma Looks at the impact of army life and travel on the men and their families and the role of ex servicemen in post war nationalist politics

A Dam for Africa Stephan F. Miescher, 2022-07-12 Since its construction in the early 1960s the hydroelectric Akosombo Dam across the Volta River has exemplified the possibilities and challenges of development in Ghana Drawing upon a wealth of sources A Dam for Africa investigates contrasting stories about how this dam has transformed a West African nation while providing a model for other African countries The massive Akosombo Dam is the keystone of the Volta River Project that includes a large manmade lake 250 miles long the VALCO aluminum smelter new cities and towns a deep sea harbor and an electrical grid On the local level Akosombo has meant access to electricity for people in urban and industrial areas across southern Ghana For others Akosombo inflicted tremendous social and environmental costs The dam altered the ecology of the Lower Volta displaced 80 000 people in the Volta Basin and affected the livelihoods of hundreds of thousands of Ghanaians In A Dam for Africa Stephan Miescher explores four intersecting narratives Ghanaian debates and aspirations about modernization in the context of decolonization and Cold War international efforts of the US aluminum industry to benefit from Akosombo through cheap electricity for their VALCO smelter local stories of upheaval and devastation in resettlement towns and a nation wide quest toward electrification and energy justice during times of economic crises droughts and climate change

Interpreting Political Responsibility John Dunn, 2014-07-14 In this volume one of the leading political theorists of our time addresses what he believes is the major task of political theory showing human beings how they have good reason to act in the historical situation in which they find themselves Dunn argues that humans today depend more abjectly and extensively than ever before on the capacity of some of our number for skillful political action There are many reasons for this dependence closely linked nuclear threat and financial systems massive trade flows that sustain or imperil the well being of all modern populations and the awesome scale of the unintended ecological effects of human production Why has modern political theory failed to relate these factors systematically to one another and to provide people with adequate reasons for action To answer this twin query Dunn brilliantly deploys the resources of the historical development of Western political thinking in counterpoint with some of the main lessons of international political economy The concluding essay reasserts that the classical virtue of prudence has a central place in contemporary politics The conditions of modern politics it maintains require the exercise of prudence not merely by political military and economic leaders but also by the populace at large Overall this selection of Dunn's most influential work of the past decade reflects his remarkable range of interests including Locke's ideological importance the nature of trust in politics rights liberty responsibility at a national level postcolonial African politics and political community The book will be required reading for students from a variety of disciplines Originally published in 1990 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Ghana on the Go Jennifer Hart, 2016-10-03 As early as the 1910s African drivers in colonial Ghana understood the possibilities that using imported motor transport could further the social and economic agendas of a diverse array of local agents including chiefs farmers traders fishermen and urban workers Jennifer Hart's powerful narrative of auto mobility shows how drivers built on old trade routes to increase the speed and scale of motorized travel Hart reveals that new forms of labor migration economic enterprise cultural production and social practice were defined by autonomy and mobility and thus shaped the practices and values that formed the foundations of Ghanaian society today Focusing on the everyday lives of individuals who participated in this century of social cultural and technological change Hart comes to a more sensitive understanding of the ways in which these individuals made new technology meaningful to their local communities and associated it with their future aspirations Ghana's Concert Party Theatre Catherine M. Cole, 2001-07-11 Ghana's Concert Party Theatre

Catherine M Cole An engaging history of Ghana's enormously popular concert party theatre succeeds in conveying the exciting and fascinating character of the concert party genre as well as showing clearly how this material can be used to rethink a number of contemporary theoretical themes and issues Karin Barber Under colonial rule the first concert party practitioners brought their comic variety shows to audiences throughout what was then the British Gold Coast colony As social and political circumstances shifted through the colonial period and early years of Ghanaian independence concert party actors demonstrated a remarkable responsiveness to changing social roles and volatile political situations as they continued to stage this extremely popular form of entertainment Drawing on her participation as an actress in concert party performances oral histories of performers and archival research Catherine M Cole traces the history and development of Ghana's concert party tradition She shows how concert parties combined an eclectic array of cultural influences adapting characters and songs from American movies popular British ballads and local story telling traditions into a spirited blend of comedy and social commentary Actors in blackface inspired by Al Jolson and female impersonators dramatized the aspirations experiences and frustrations of their audiences Cole's extensive and lively look into Ghana's concert party provides a unique perspective on the complex experience of British colonial domination the postcolonial quest for national identity and the dynamic processes of cultural appropriation and social change This book will be essential reading for scholars and students of African performance theatre and popular culture Catherine M Cole is Assistant Professor in the Department of Dramatic Art at the University of California Santa Barbara She has published numerous articles on African theatre and has collaborated with filmmaker Kwame Braun on passing girl riverside a video essay on the ethical dilemmas of visual anthropology June 2001 256 pages 26 b w photos 3 maps 6 1 8 x 9 1 4 notes bibl index cloth 0 253 33845 X 49 95 L 38 00 paper 0 253 21436 X 19 95 s 15 50 Economic Reforms in Ghana Ernest Aryeetey, Jane Harrigan, Machiko

Nissanke, 2000 Reviews the performance of the Ghanaian economy for the period 1983 to 1991 aimed at assessing the impact of structural adjustment policies in different areas of the economy Performing Power in Zimbabwe Susanne

Verheul, 2021-09-09 Focusing on political trials in Zimbabwe's Magistrates Courts between 2000 and 2012 Susanne Verheul explores why the judiciary have remained a central site of contestation in post independence Zimbabwe Drawing on rich court observations and in depth interviews this book foregrounds law's potential to reproduce or transform social and political power through the narrative material and sensory dimensions of courtroom performances Instead of viewing appeals to law as acts of resistance by marginalised orders for inclusion in dominant modes of rule Susanne Verheul argues that it was not recognition by but of this formal rule bound ordering and the form of citizenship it stood for that was at stake in performative legal engagements In this manner law was much more than a mere instrument Law was a site in which competing conceptions of political authority were given expression and in which people s understandings of themselves as citizens were formed and performed Global Anti-Vice Activism, 1890-1950 Jessica R.
