The Gendered 'I' in Ancient Literature Lisa Cordes, Therese Fuhrer, 2022-10-24 Considering the ubiquity of rhetorical training in antiquity the volume starts from the premise that every first person statement in ancient literature is in some way rhetorically modelled and aesthetically shaped Focusing on different types of Greek and Latin literature poetry and prose from the Archaic Age to Late Antiquity the contributions analyse the use and modelling of gender specific elements in different types of first person speech be it that the speaker is represented as the author of a work be it that they feature as characters in the work narrating their own story or that of others In doing so they do not only offer new insights into the rhetorical strategies and literary techniques used to construct a gendered I in ancient literature They also address the form and function of first person discourse in classical literature in general touching on fields of research that have increasingly come into focus in recent years such as authorship studies studies concerning the ancient notions of the literary persona as well as a historical narratology that discusses concepts such as the narrator or the literary character in ancient literary theory and practice

Collective Violence and Memory in the Ancient Mediterranean Sonja Ammann, Helge Bezold, Stephen Germany, Julia Rhyder, 2023-11-13 This book reveals how violent pasts were constructed by ancient Mediterranean societies the ideologies they served and the socio political processes and institutions they facilitated Combining case studies from Anatolia Egypt Greece Israel Judah and Rome it moves beyond essentialist dichotomies such as victors and vanquished to offer a new paradigm for studying representations of past violence across diverse media from funerary texts to literary works chronicles monumental reliefs and other material artefacts such as ruins It thus paves the way for a new comparative approach to the study of collective violence in the ancient world

Victories Never Last Robert Zaretsky, 2022-05-05 We are far from knowing how and when the present pandemic will end nor can we know what will be the most enduring stories that writers tell about it We can however turn for guidance to earlier writers who confronted past plagues Robert Zaretsky spent much of the past year working as a volunteer in a nursing home in south Texas tending to residents isolated by Covid 19 When not at work he turned to great novelists essayists and historians of the past to help him make sense of everyday yet often extraordinary experiences at the residence In this book Zaretsky adroitly weaves his reflections on the pandemic siege of his nursing home with the experiences of six major writers during their own times of plague Thucydides Marcus Aurelius Michel de Montaigne Daniel Defoe Mary Shelley and Albert Camus Each of these enduring authors knew mass death firsthand Thucydides survived the great plague that swept through Athens from 430 to 429 BCE and described it in his History of the Peloponnesian War Marcus Aurelius was Rome's emperor during the Antonine Plague that raged from 165 to 180 CE Montaigne was the mayor of Bordeaux when in 1585 it was battered by the bubonic plague and several of his greatest essays are marked by that experience Defoe was of course the author of Journal of a Plague Year which in turn influenced both Mary Shelley in her apocalyptic novel The Last Man and Albert Camus in The Plague Zaretsky layers accessible discussions of these authors with his own experience of the tragedy that slowly enveloped his Texas nursing home a tragedy that first took the form of chronic loneliness and then inevitably the deaths of many residents whom Zaretsky cared for and whom we come to know The result is an indelible work of witness and a tribute to the consoling powers of great literature

Prophecy and Prophets in Stories Bob E.J.H. Becking,Hans Barstad,2015-03-20 The fifth meeting of the Edinburgh prophecy network focussed on the presence of prophets and prophecy in narrative texts The papers in this volume scrutinize the image of prophecy through the analysis of narrative processes The papers deal with a great time span from the Hittite Empire via the Hebrew Bible Judaism and Islam up to the early Modern Period Although all sorts of variations could be detected especially due to the variety of temporal contexts some features are recurring especially in view of the anthropological phenomenon of prophecy and its function in narratives

Divided Power in Ancient Greece Alberto Esu,2024 This book examines the division of power in the Ancient Greek city states of the Classical and Hellenistic periods revealing Ancient Greek political decision making to be a multi layered system of delegation and legal control

The Ancient Phonograph Shane Butler,2016-04-22 A search for traces of the voice before the phonograph reconstructing a series of ancient soundscapes from Aristotle to Augustine Long before the invention of musical notation and long before that of the phonograph the written word was unrivaled as a medium of the human voice In The Ancient Phonograph Shane Butler searches for traces of voices before Edison reconstructing a series of ancient soundscapes from Aristotle to Augustine Here the real voices of tragic actors ambitious orators and singing emperors blend with the imagined voices of lovesick nymphs tormented heroes and angry gods The resonant world we encounter in ancient sources is at first unfamiliar populated by texts that speak and sing often with no clear difference between the two But Butler discovers a commonality that invites a deeper understanding of why voices mattered then and why they have mattered since With later examples that range from Mozart to Jimi Hendrix Butler offers an ambitious attempt to rethink the voice as an anatomical presence a conceptual category and a source of pleasure and wonder He carefully and critically assesses the strengths and limits of recent theoretical approaches to the voice by Adriana Cavarero and Mladen Dolar and makes a rich and provocative range of ancient material available for the first time The Ancient Phonograph will appeal not only to classicists and to voice theorists but to anyone with an interest in the verbal arts literature oratory song and the nature of aesthetic experience

Coping With the Gods Henk Versnel,2011-05-10

Abandoning monolithic approaches and embracing the possibility of inconsistencies and incongruities in Greek thought behaviour and culture this book investigates how ancient Greeks could validate the complementarity of dissonant if not contradictory representations in e g polytheism theodicy divine omnipotence and ruler cult Sacred and Public Land in Ancient Athens Nikolaos Papazarkadas,2011-10-13 This book examines the ways by which the city state of Athens and its various associations administrative and religious managed their landed assets It investigates the close connection between income and sacred property and it analyses notions of sacred and public ownership in antiquity by deconstructing earlier anachronistic interpretations Oedipus Rex Sophocles,2011-05-19 Oedipus Rex is the greatest of the Greek tragedies a profound meditation on the human condition The story of the mythological king who is doomed to kill his father and marry his mother has resonated in world culture for almost 2 500 years But Sophocles drama as originally performed was much more than a great story it was a superb poetic script and exciting theatrical experience The actors spoke in pulsing rhythms with hypnotic forward momentum making it hard for audiences to look away Interspersed among the verbal rants and duels were energetic songs performed by the chorus David Mulroy s brilliant verse translation of Oedipus Rex recaptures the aesthetic power of Sophocles masterpiece while also achieving a highly accurate translation in clear contemporary English Speeches are rendered with the same kind of regular iambic rhythm that gave the Sophoclean originals their drive The choral parts are translated as fluid rhymed songs Mulroy also supplies an introduction notes and appendixes to provide helpful context for general readers and students Religious Individualisation Martin Fuchs,Antje Linkenbach,Martin Mulsow,Bernd-Christian Otto,Rahul Bjørn Parson,Jörg Rüpke,2019-12-16 This volume brings together key findings of the long term research project Religious Individualisation in Historical Perspective Max Weber Centre for Advanced Cultural and Social Studies Erfurt University Combining a wide range of disciplinary approaches methods and theories the volume assembles over 50 contributions that explore and compare processes of religious individualisation in different religious environments and historical periods in particular in Asia the Mediterranean and Europe from antiquity to the recent past Contrary to standard theories of modernisation which tend to regard religious individualisation as a specifically modern or early modern as well as an essentially Western or Christian phenomenon the chapters reveal processes of religious individualisation in a large variety of non Western and pre modern scenarios Furthermore the volume challenges prevalent views that regard religions primarily as collective phenomena and provides nuanced perspectives on the appropriation of religious agency the pluralisation of religious options dynamics of de traditionalisation and privatisation the development of elaborated notions of the self the facilitation of religious deviance and on the notion of dividuality Public Records and Archives in Classical Athens James P. Sickinger,2018-02-01 In this book James Sickinger explores the use and preservation of public records in the ancient Athenian democracy of the archaic and classical periods Athenian public records are most familiar from the survival of inscribed stelai slabs of marble on which were published decrees treaties financial accounts and other state documents Working largely from evidence supplied by such inscriptions Sickinger demonstrates that their texts actually represented only a small part of Athenian record keeping More numerous and more widely used he says were archival texts written on wooden tablets or papyri that were made and often kept for extended periods of time by Athenian officials Beginning with the legislation of Drakon in the seventh century B C Sickinger traces the growing use of written records by the Athenian state over the next three centuries concluding with an examination of the Metroon the state archive of Athens during the fourth century Challenging assumptions about ancient Athenian literacy democracy and society Sickinger argues that the practical use and preservation of laws decrees and other state documents were hallmarks of Athenian public life from the earliest times
