Classical Communication For The Contemporary Communicator:

Classical Communication for the Contemporary Communicator Halford Ross Ryan, 1992 Hosea 2 Brad E. Kelle, 2005

The complex and at times violent metaphorical discourse of Hosea 2 has elicited a variety of interpretive approaches. This study explores the text from the perspective of rhetorical criticism. The classical conception of rhetoric as the art of persuasion and the function of metaphor within persuasive discourses and social settings correlate with the oracular characteristics of Hosea 2 and illuminate its use of specific metaphors. A reading of Hosea 2 from this perspective proposes that the prophets of Israel may have functioned in a manner similar to the orators of ancient Greece who delivered extended rhetorical discourses designed to discern meaning in contemporary events and to persuade audiences. This study offers a distinctively political reading of Hosea 2 that explores the text as a metaphorical and theological commentary on the political and religious dynamics in Israel at the close of the Syro Ephraimitic War 731-730 BCE. Paperback edition is available from the Society of Biblical Literature www.sbl-site.org

Trust Me Nick Morgan, 2008-12-31 Nick Morgan shows how anyone can be an effective speaker by presenting an image of authenticity and respect for their audience whether in a group presentation or a one-on-one conversation. He presents a four-step process perfected in his teaching at Harvard that enables the reader to use their own personal speaking style while becoming a more persuasive and charismatic communicator and leader. The basis of this process is the fact that when words and body language are in conflict, body language wins every time. This isn't easy to overcome because normally body language is immediate while the words lag slightly behind and even a momentary conflict is perceptible to the audience. The key to success is to train your body language to unconsciously align with your message. The four steps: Form the attitude and intent to be open and then let your body naturally express that intent. This feeling of openness will naturally affect the content of what you are saying and it's that natural evolution that is at the heart of the process. Become connected to your audience. This creates a mutual energy and you will naturally begin to think in terms of what the audience wants and needs in shaping your content. Ask yourself what's my underlying emotion? Why does this matter to me? Becoming passionate about what you have to say naturally makes your audience care about it too. Really listen to the audience. Understanding their needs and reactions will enable you to direct your communication in mutually beneficial ways.
